From The Editor:

Why does summer go faster than winter??

Here's hoping you are doing, and having fun with, all that you have planned for the summer.

Our local communities are having lots of summer activities - Petitcodiac has the Westmorland County Agriculture Fair from July 28th to August 4th; Salisbury has the Salisbury Community Days from August 15th to 18th. The Elgin Eco Association is celebrating its 10th Anniversary at the Elgin Community Park on August 18th. All these events are much more fun with "More the Merrier" so come out and enjoy.

Petty International Raceway is holding the first ever Caleb Dunn Memorable Race on the August 3rd and 4th weekend and the 49th running to the River Glade International August 23rd and 24th.

We Congratulate the Elgin Eco Association on all the work they have done over the past 10 years, here is hoping that this will continue for generations to come.

August is also the month that everyone prepares for the upcoming school year.

Have Arthritis? Try Eating Healthy

There's nothing good about terminal cancer pain other than the pain finally ending with death. But there's another type of chronic pain, arthritis that goes on and on year after year. It can be a living hell. It's estimated that over 50 million North Americans are afflicted with this disease. Now, a report from Tufts University claims that eating right can help the aching joints of both osteoarthritis, the wear-and-tear type, and rheumatoid arthritis.

Dr. Miriam Nelson, an expert on nutrition, says, "You might be surprised how modifying the diet can decrease stiffness and inflammation". Her first suggestion is to start with water. This liquid provides moisture and structural support to joints. It also carries nutrients to where they are needed, and removes the metabolic waste of metabolism.

Obviously, thirst tells us when we need liquids. And we know that we get water from fruits and other foods. But Nelson begs to differ. Rather, she says, as we age our ability to feel thirst becomes blunted. Moreover, some of the medicines used to treat arthritis can affect thirst.

Nelson stresses it is also crucial to lose weight as it adds extra stress to joints. Losing just 11 pounds can decrease symptoms by as much as 50 percent. For example, a single step triggers a force on the knees and hips 2 to 3 times your body weight. Rising from a chair or walking downstairs increases the pressure 6 times!

But what about nutrients? The Framingham Osteoarthritis study found the progression of osteoarthritis was decreased by 50 percent in people who consumed the most vitamin C, at least 150 milligrams a day, the amount in two oranges. This vitamin is vital in the formation of collagen and cartilage and rids the joint of damaging free radicals that cause inflammation. See the web site www.docgiff.com to see how much higher doses of vitamin C can prevent and reverse hardening of coronary arteries.

This study also showed the benefit of vitamin D. Nelson recommends 400 IU or more daily. D is important in building bone strength and aids in the absorption of calcium.

But during the winter months it's hard to get this amount of D in the diet without taking a supplement.

The oils we consume also oil our joints. But not all oils are equal. Rather, the oils in our blood contain different types of fatty acids. The good omega-3 fatty acids fight inflammation. Omega-6 acids trigger it.

Nelson recommends that it's prudent to cut back on omega-6 fatty acids. This means decreasing the amount of packaged processed foods found in supermarkets, frozen foods, crackers, cookies and many dessert items, along with fried foods. A University of Washington study found that people who ate two or more weekly servings of baked or broiled fish were 40 percent less likely to develop arthritis due to the omega-3 content.

So what is it that causes joint pain? Fatty acids are the forerunners of compounds called prostaglandins. Some suppress inflammation and others promote it and it's inflammation that causes the suffering of arthritis.

The best sources of omega-3 are salmon, halibut and sardines. It's also present in walnuts, beans, tofu, flaxseed oil, pecans and leafy vegetables.

One message derived from recent studies is that our food habits have changed over the years, but not in a way that cuts down on the chronic problems of aging. In the past the ratio of omega-3 to omega-6 was nearly even. Now, people consume 11 times more omega-6 fatty acids than omega-3.

This negative shift in eating habits has major implications for the future. Our aging population will demand more arthritis therapy and more hip and knee replacements, adding further strain to our health care costs.

Remember that the worst treatment for arthritis is to stop moving. Ships tied up too long develop barnacles. We too develop rust in our joints from inactivity. Moderate and continued movement of joints pushes nutrient into cartilage.

Abraham Lincoln once remarked that "I have the best two doctors, my left and right legs". You need only to look around you to see human obesity and immobility. No wonder the joints seize up.

Everyday People

Submitted by Sheila Boissonneault

"There is meaning in every journey that is unknown to the traveler." Dietrich Bon-hoffer

With that quote I begin the story of a well know person to most of you, that of Maude Bannister Fawcett Colpitts.

Maude Bannister was born in September 1919 at the old farm back on Smith's Road. She was only three years old when her Grandmother Bannister, who lived with them, died. Someone kept Maude in the kitchen, but she got away, and saw them bringing her grandmother down the stairs wrapped in a blanket. She saw them lay her out in a casket before she was rushed back into the kitchen. After her grandmother was ready for viewing Maude was lifted to look. She remembers saying, "There's Grandma, poor Grandma." Then she remembers reaching out and touching her hand. Maude was five when her sister Myrtle was born; her father went to get her Grandmother Smith to be the midwife and to call the doctor. The baby arrived before the doctor. Maude sneaked up the stairs and saw her mother sitting up in bed with the baby in her arms – then somebody picked her up and took her to the kitchen, out of the way. At seven years of age she went to the Lower Pollett River School in a horse and cart. When she was eight her family moved to the farm in River Glade; she continued to go to the Lower Pollett River school until Grade 8. The school teacher boarded with her family and she offered to continue teaching Maude Grade 9 even though the school went only to Grade 8. To go to high school you had to pay tuition and there was no way to travel except by train and most who did continue on, boarded stayed in town. So she stayed at home helping her mother. She attended the youth group at the Glades Baptist Church. Her parents came to faith in Jesus and were baptized in the new baptistery.

Maude was 17 when her brother Claude was born and her mother was sick for six months, so she took care of her mother and the baby. She also washed the clothes with a scrub board and hung them out on cold winter days, she looked after the separating of the cream and churning the butter. Her 12 year old sister quit school for the winter and did the dishes and carried in the wood and water.

It happened one day, at the age of 20, she was asked by her father to go to Petticodiac by bus to buy something he needed for his hay mower. On the bus she talked with a girl who worked as a cook at the hotel and was planning on leaving the job. When Maude got home she told her parents that she would like to apply for the job. Her father didn't think it was necessary for her to go to work but gave his consent. Maude went to see the Manager who was running the Hotel, and she hired her. Maude packed up and moved to the Hotel, she had a room on the first floor off the kitchen. The kitchen had a pantry and coal stove, no mixer, you had to mix by hand. "Can you imagine" exclaimed Maude.

She got up at 6:30 when the train went through and put the fire on, the double boilers on, and the porridge both oatmeal and cream of wheat. Also she got the frying pans and egg poachers ready for the eggs. It was a full menu; in the mornings she made ham and eggs, bacon and eggs, and two kinds of pancakes. The noon menu consisted of soup, stew, roast beef, chicken, pork, and fish. There were potatoes and two kinds of vegetables. For dessert there were three kinds of pies which Maude made and also dessert. Supper meal started at 4:30 and was still going on at 7:00. She took care of the dining room.

During her time working at the hotel she met Eugene Fawcett who was cooking in a lumber camp in Forrest Glenn. He would walk out Saturday night to visit her. When they became engaged she gave her notice and they were married in September at their unfinished home on the Sanitarium Road. Her mother made the cake, her father made an arch for Maude to put flowers on, and Gene's sister Jessie played "Here Comes the Bride".

Later they moved to Riverview – Gunningsville and rented two rooms in a home, but it wasn't long after that the woman's husband joined the military so they moved to Moncton where they sublet for a while. Then they brought and fixed up a little cabin in Lower Gunningsville. Up and across the hilly field was a military base and Maude remembers skiing down those hills, Then in 1942 Bartlett (Bart) was born, 1943 David (Dave) and in 1944 Melvin (Mel). She had her hands full. When Mel turned three they bought a burned out house on Sanatorium Road. Her father helped Gene build a small home with an upper story big enough for the beds and a downstairs with a living room and kitchen. Then Gene was called to go to Windsor Nova Scotia, to a training place to prepare the men returning from overseas for the work force; Gene was to teach refrigeration. They sublet a large, beautiful, old home. They had to return to New Brunswick to take Bart and Dave to the hospital to have their tonsils removed. When they returned to Nova Scotia they moved into an apartment which once was a part of the army hospital. She remembers the sounds of the trains at night; it was an interesting time for them.

Story to be continued in next month issue (September)

McCully Landscaping Ltd.Serving Petitcodiac and surrounding areas for 20 years

Born in North Bay Ontario Danny McCully moved to Petitcodiac at the age of ten, his father Bobby was in the military, so upon his retirement he and his wife Marie packed the car three kids and of course a dog and headed back to good ole Petitcodiac, it was home to the McCully family, Bobby (aka Uncle Bobby, known to most people) started up lawn mowing and doing small landscaping jobs, he employed two students in the summer months, servicing around thirty lawns, he also did some snow ploughing in the winter, Danny worked for his dad in his teenage years then went on to try new things moving to Ontario for a few years then came back home in 1990 where he met his wife Sherry, started a family and settled down here in the village. In the fall of 1992 Danny decided to go to work for his dad in hopes for expanding the business to new things.

In the spring of 1993 with the support and guidance of the late Gary Armstrong they purchased a Kubota tractor with a Backhoe attachment for digging graves. Since then they have expanded to servicing forty two cemeteries from Sussex to Irishtown. They currently have two Kubota Backhoes and the mowing business has grown to mowing seventy lawns, which they have two Kubota zero turn diesel lawn tractors to service customers. The business has come a long ways since the old Bolens ride on that Bobby used to have. Danny worked alongside with his dad for six years before Sherry started helping out with some of the lawn mowing. In 1999 Bobby had decided to retire and so Sherry did all the mowing for years by herself and Danny looked after the backhoe and landscaping side of the business.

One thing about the McCully family there is no shortage of boys, each year there was at least one or two cousins old enough to start pushing the mower and helping out, they have always kept it family operated, employing their own son Brad at a young age until he went on to do his own thing. Their daughter Brittney is not looking to take on the family business, it's not her thing but she will always help out when needed.

One of the main parts of McCully Landscaping Ltd. is our Hydro-seeding business; they have a commercial sized hydroseeder for doing residential lawns. The success of green grass is much higher and the results are much faster. Another part of the business is Power-aking, this smooths, grades and removes rocks in the process from lawns, something that took days to do in the past years is now done in hours. In the winter months they currently plough sixty six driveways. They also are pleased to have been a member of Landscape NB for the past ten years.

Over the past twenty years they have had up to eleven employees at one time when business was at its peak, Petitcodiac was booming but with the closure of several businesses here including Fawcett's Lumber mill the small business has since suffered. Currently Danny has taken on a new chapter in his life being the Manager of the Works Department for The Village of Petitcodiac. Taking on a new career was a great choice for Danny, but McCully Landscaping Ltd. is still in full force being run by Sherry and four full time employees, Nick Hicks, Larry Wheaton, Jeremy Brubacher & Brad Hicks also having Danny on call in the evening and weekends. Not wanting to forget to mention Nick Good and Darren Erb for helping out whenever Sherry calls. There has been lots of trial and error this season without the guidance from Danny being there but all and all they are having a fun and successful year.

They would like to take this time and say Thank you everyone for the past 20 years of support and hope to continue to serve you for many years to come.

Local Man to Represent New Brunswick

On January 23, 2006 I was driving a 18 wheeler transport truck heading to Saint John to unload. On that day it was snowing hard and road conditions were slippery, which caused me to lose control which put me into the ditch and rolled the transport truck 3 times.

I was taken to the Saint John Regional Hospital where the doctors told me that I broke two vertebrae and stretched the right side of my spinal cord, which caused no use of my legs at that time. I spent a month at the Saint John hospital regaining my strength by doing exercises daily, to try to regain the strength in my legs.

The doctors thought it would be in my best interest to go to the Stan Cassidy Rehab Centre in Fredericton, where I stayed for 5 1/2 years on and off, I did more physiotherapy and occupational therapy daily. Physiotherapy helped build my confidence and build strength in my legs and abs to help me sit up on my own and do things more independently. Occupational therapy helped me get back out into the world to get comfortable in the position that I was in.

An Occupational therapist had suggested that I get back into sports to try out wheelchair basketball. While at the rehab centre I played basketball for 2 years to find out that I did not like wheelchair basketball. They helped me get in touch with Poley Mountain in Sussex to try downhill skiing which I love to do.

On February 12, 2010, on my birthday, I was invited to an "Outreach of sports in your community" that was held at the University of Moncton at the CEPS. Gabriel Leblanc was the head of the organization of this event on this day. He asked me to try out wheelchair racing. I got into the chair, went around the track three times and Gabriel said "I am keeping you".

In the first year I was racing in a borrowed chair from Nova Scotia and was setting provincial records for New Brunswick. I started raising money to purchase my own racing chair, that fits like a glove. Since then, I have been setting national times.

Every year, nationals are held in a city of Canada and you have to set certain times to qualify to go to the nationals. In 2011, I set national times to go to the nationals in 2012 in Calgary, Alberta. There, in my 200 meters I placed 7th at that time out of eight racers. In 2012, I set national times for nationals in 2013 which was held in Moncton, New Brunswick, where I placed 6th in my 100 meters at that time and 6th in my 200 meters at that time. In the three years of racing I have gone from last place to the top 10 in Canada.

In 2013, I have had a chance to qualify to represent New Brunswick at 2013 Canada Games which is held in Sherbrooke, Quebec on August 13th to August 20th. I qualified in Saint John at the UNBSJ Track & Field site where I won the 400 metre, 800m and 1500m which qualified me to represent New Brunswick in the Canada Games. My coach Gabriel and I have been trying to improve my technique and stamina to have a chance to podium at the Canada Games.

For getting this far in my racing career I have to give a special thank you to my friends and family for supporting me in my racing as well as the surrounding communities for all of your ongoing support. A big Thank You to all of you for supporting my dream and helping me bring gold to New Brunswick!

Thank You,
James Brace

POEMS

"I am Still With You"

If it seems that I am far away on this empty and solemn day,
Just open your heart and know it's true,
that I am still right here with you.
If during the day things are going wrong,
please don't feel sad and alone.
Just open your heart and know it's true,
that I am still right here with you.
When nighttime falls and the day is done.
If you are feeling alone and sleep won't come,
Just open your heart and know it's true,
that I am still right here with you.
Close your eyes, and feel the warm embrace.
Sleep peacefully in the wings of grace.
If sadness finds you in the morning light, if you feel alone,
don't give up trying!
Hold this feather close and know it's true,
that I am always here with you.

~ Author: Julie Johnson, Wings of Grace

"Carry Me Home"

My loved ones do not cry
And worry of me
For like the dove
I have been set free.
God has called me
To my mansion on high
Just there among the clouds
In the deep blue sky.
I have no pain
No suffering to do
I have been called home
And I know you will too.
So beat hard and fast
Little wings off white
And carry me home
Before the night

~ Author: Lee Gilley

"God Saw You Getting Tired"

God saw you getting tired
When a cure was not to be.
So He wrapped His arms around you,
And whispered, "Come unto me".
You didn't deserve what you went through,
And so He gave you rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best.
So when I saw you sleeping,
So peaceful and free from pain.
I could not wish you to come back,
to suffer that all again.

The Pet Hospital Search: 10 Important Questions To Ask

When searching for a pet hospital, there are certain questions you should keep in the back of your mind to ensure you select the right one for your dog or cat. In fact, these questions should also be used on a regular basis to reassess the services of your current veterinarian. Who knows? If the answers aren't satisfactory to you, a change may be in order.

Here are ten of the most important questions to ask yourself:

1. Does the pet hospital smell clean when you first walk through the front doors?
2. Does the staff acknowledge you and your pet right away when you arrive or do they seemingly ignore you?
3. Does the pet hospital employ caring, knowledgeable, and professional veterinarians, receptionists, and technicians?
4. Are the employees at the pet hospital trained on-the-job, or have they received formal training and certification?

5. Are the pet hospital hours of operation convenient for you? Are they open 24 hours, or do they refer to 24 hour care facilities?
6. Is a thorough examination of your pet done when you take him to the pet hospital?
7. Does the veterinarian at the pet hospital ask questions regarding your pet's health, and does she listen to your answers?
8. Is the pet hospital modern and up-to-date on equipment and treatments, or will the veterinarian willingly refer to a specialist?
9. Are you allowed to tour the pet hospital and see the surgical suite, kennel, and treatment area, if you desire?
10. Does the pet hospital provide an estimate for the cost of services, surgeries, and treatments?

You may have other questions as well. This list is certainly not all-inclusive. Be sure to ask them to yourself. And if you have concerns, why not discuss them with the veterinarian at the pet hospital? After all, you're the customer. You vote with your dollar, and if that veterinarian wants to keep your vote, she'll listen.

Caleb Dunn
Memorial Race –
Petty International
Raceway
August 3rd & 4th

Caleb Dunn – Competitor / Stock Car Racing
“Dunn’s the Name and Racing’s the Game.” He competed in stockcar races throughout the Maritimes, Eastern USA, Florida and Ontario from the years 1951 through 1989. He drove his stockcars to win! Over the years he won honor after honor and trophy after trophy. It would take pages to express what Caleb Dunn has done in stockcar racing, but I will try to sum it up in just a few words. He started racing in 1951, on dirt tracks, and was a constant winner and one of the most exciting performers to watch. The second race he was in he was the winner. His first stock car was a 1936 Ford Coupe, powered with a Ford flathead engine. He set what might be a Maritime record with 11 straight dirt track main events wins, but he easily adapted to the asphalt tracks. The car number that most would recognize as Caleb Dunn was #12. Caleb loved racing and said, “It’s like a disease”. In his early years, his biggest thrill was in 1953 when he captured the Maritime Championship in St. John, NB. With more than 15 years experience behind him in 1965, he piled up 136 points on 13 first, 14 seconds and four thirds to come home ahead of the field to win the first points title at River Glade Speedway, NB, that is one of the top honors a stock car driver can achieve. In effect, it means that he was the best driver that season, the most consistent over the long haul. The International, an event instituted in 1965 at River Glade Speedway, to give local fans a look at the Ontario brand of racing, grew into the top sports spectacle in the Maritimes.

That was the “big one”, the one the drivers geared for. The money was good, but the prestige of winning the International was almost immeasurable.

They came for miles for the International – drivers and fans alike. The locals had always been prominent in the grueling test. The first season saw Caleb Dunn chase John Shirtliff to the wire in the 75-lap main event, but Shirtliff took the lead with Dunn coming in second. It wasn’t until 1976 that he would pick up the checker flag for its win.

He won Mid-Season Championship races at Hammond River Speedway, McEwen Speedway, and three at River Glade Speedway in 1966, ’68 and ’78.

He won the exhibition race in Yarmouth, NS in 1967. The write-up in the paper said, “One of the best of the crop was Caleb Dunn, the dean of Maritime Modified Stock Car Drivers”.

In 1980 he won the New Glasgow 250 at Riverside Speedway, James River, NS. Caleb’s last adventure in his racing career was the Old Timers race at River Glade Speedway in 1989, and he won that. He had other interest as well such as hockey, softball and snowmobile races, to name a few, but stockcar racing was his passion. In 2001 Caleb received another great honor; he was inducted to the Wall of Fame in Moncton, NB.

In 2006 Caleb was inducted into the Maritime Motorsports Hall of Fame Inc.
