Gerald Jones receives prestigious award ... Canada's Volunteer Fire Chief of the Year.

Question and Answer with Gerald Jones, the Petitcodiac Fire Chief. Recently Gerald was named Canadian Volunteer Fire Chief of the Year out of roughly 3500 volunteer fire departments.

Q: How long have you been volunteering with the Petitcodiac Fire Department?

A: I joined in April of 1968, so I have been volunteering for 46 ½ years and I've been with Petty for all those years.

Q: How long have you been Fire Chief?

A: I had been working very closely with Chief Dyson Waterbury for a long time, and upon his death in 1996 I was appointed fire chief.

Q: What made you want to volunteer with the fire department?

A: My brother was already on the department a year before I joined and another fireman, Donnie Coates, suggested that I should join the fire dept. Also, Dyson was my Scout Master and his son Mernie was my best friend growing up, and he also told me that I should join. I also remember Dyson telling me that I would be chief one day.

Q: How did you find out that you were selected for the award for Canadian Volunteer Fire Chief of the year, and what was your first thought when you had been chosen?

A: Protective Services Counselor Dan Pollock and Counselor Peter Saunders, my Deputy Fire Chief, asked me if I had read my emails and told me to do so. I told him that I had read them about an hour ago, and did not see anything that drew my attention. He said I needed to reread them. And then he said that Counselor Pollock was with him and asked me to go over to Kents. When I arrived, they told me of the award, and I honestly thought they were pulling my leg, but when I realized they were serious, I was pretty emotional. I then went back to the station and read the two e-mails and could hardly believe what I was reading.

Q: When and where did the ceremony take place? Did anyone know about this event?

A: The ceremony was held at the Westin Hotel in Ottawa, on September 17 of this year at the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs (CAFC) annual convention. All the expenses for my wife and me to attend were paid for by the CAFC. Not a lot of people knew about the award, because there was a strict press embargo on the announcement and the association did not want the media to know until after the official awards gala was over.

Q: How was the experience?

A: It was very overwhelming. I was really nervous being out of my element and not knowing anyone. Then I ran into Jody Price the Chief of the Oromocto Fire Department. He was like a young man leading his father by the hand through the whole experience.

WHOW!

What a busy month has past, with the Elgin Turkey Supper, Elgin Bike Race, Lounsbury's Car Sales, Toys For Big Boys Fall Foliage Poker Run, Petcodiac WI 100 Year Anniversary, Petcodiac Diamond Ring Dinner (I won one of the rings, Thank You!), Southeastern Museum meeting and getting ready for our 9th Induction Gala that is being held over on Prince Edward Island, November 15, there are still tickets available.

The very saddest days in October were when Canada felt the fierceness of what happens in other parts of the world. This should remind us what a great country we have, to be able to do all of those things that I mentioned above without fear.

Our "Remembrances Day" this November will be one that will mean more than ever before. In our Women's Institute "Mary Stewart's Collect" there is a line that says it all, "Grant that we may realize that it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are one." This statement will mean more to us now as well as before it was just merely words, now it is a feeling.

Looking ahead at the next two months many Christmas and Holiday parties are being planned.

I hope everyone a Safe and Happy Halloween!

Your editor,
Winona McLam

The Youth Culture Centre 2014

My name is Christina Meoddy, I work for the Petcodiac Boys and Girls club for the past 8 years working in the After School Program, before I took the position at the HOUSE to work with Youth, I have worked in the school doing programs such as

"Youth of The 21st Century," with middle school, Red Ribbon week, (a drug awareness program with all grades), Pink T shirt program, I'm Thumbey program with grade 4, (a Self Esteem program through Mental Health). There were also many life changing programs that I did while at the Club. Therefore, coming to the HOUSE was not a big change for the youth because many of the youth already knew me or had seen me around the school, I have a young lady name Robyn Smith that works with me at the HOUSE and the youth really enjoy talking to her because she can relate to some of their problems.

We have made a change this September, we are allowing the youth in grade 6 to come to the House from 3-6 on school days. This is to make sure they have a safe place to go after school when parents are at work. We provide them with snacks and help with homework in a safe environment.

We provide many of the youth supper every day. The youth help cook and clean up after every meal. They all sit down at the table with all their peers, there are no cell phones, hats are off and everyone waits for everyone to sit before they eat. They all sit at the table and talk about their day. This program has been a great success because of the community support and donations of food.

The summer that just passed, we grew a garden in two raised beds. The youth enjoyed working in the garden and we also thank the neighbours around us, for their patience and understanding for our young people. We have a great relationship with the RCMP.

From all the youth, Robyn and I, we love to say thank you. Feel free to drop by and see what is going on at 27 Spring Street or call 506-756-9186.

We took the youth hiking in Elgin on the Mapleton trail for a day which was a lot of fun. We went camping this summer and we had all-nighters at the HOUSE. The youth also went for a day at the beach. The youth had campfires and an outside dance. They had campfires and an outside dance.

Elgin Women's Institute re: November Edition of News and Views

On Saturday, September 27, the Elgin WI held their annual TURKEY SUPPER. It was a beautiful and warm all day - a perfect time of year for visitors to experience our community, and a great day for the Elgin WI to become integral to the history of our area.

While we now serve meat turkey, in the early years of fundraising, supporters the farmers in the area donated chickens to the Women's Institute who prepared the meal in the upstairs of The Hall.

A big THANK YOU to those who attended, and to everyone who helped in any way - donations of food or money - and those who volunteered their time on Friday night who helped to park the cars. Special thanks to a local farmer who donated a trailer of pumpkins for people to help themselves to with a firewell donation.

We sold 321 tickets and fed another 30-35 volunteers. There were 13 different choices of pies and cake much to the delight of everyone entering the dining hall! We were pleased to take part in two different special birthday celebrations.

While we have been able to purchase a new stove for the upstairs kitchen, we would like to look into the possibility of acquiring another stove to help with cooking and roasting - new or used.

Our fundraising continues as we look into the possibility (and need) of renovating our kitchen. We would also like to update our wheelchair so that it is more comfortable.

We were also pleased to help with the EEA Bike Race. Members donated food and time as well as the use of The Hall. Our WI Group and Hall continue to make this an important part in helping to make this event very successful. This was a banner year with 130 cyclists registered and racing.

Yoga classes continue in the fall and plans are being made for an after-school cooking class.

On October 16, our members dined at Chumley's Restaurant before attending

Your Fall Gardening Checklist.

Gardeners

deal with deadlines all of the time. Come spring you had better get out and cut down the ornamental grass or the new growth will just shoot up from under the old growth. The lawn needs cutting when it gets long and if you don't do it when it needs doing you will have not a lawn but a meadow. The fruit ripens and needs picking or the birds will do it for you. You get the idea.

The deadline that we have before us today is winter. We can go south to escape the cold and wind but your garden does not have that option.

It is with this in mind that I offer you my comprehensive 6-to-40 list for gardeners. It is designed to be clipped and hung on the refrigerator, or wherever. Put it somewhere pressed into paper bags for you to take

Compost and Leaves

Put spent annual plants in your compost or compost pile in layers with fallen leaves (shredded with your lawn mower). Alternate 1 part green stuff with 3 parts leaves. Remove the finished compost from your compost unit or pile and spread it over your perennial bed or veggie garden. No need to dig it in as the worms will pull it down next spring.

Scalp leaves from your neighbours who have not yet cut for the coming year and put them in paper bags for recycling pick up. Neatly pressed into paper bags for you to take that it will remind you regularly what you need to consider in order to enjoy a great looking garden come spring.

Lawn

Fertilize your lawn - this is the most important application of the year. The topsoil that your lawn receives this time of year will not produce a great looking lawn this fall, but it will strengthen the grass roots and prepare the plants for a fast green come spring. The results are less snow mold and a stronger, green lawn after the spring melt. Look for a winterizing product, like GoldGreen Fall Lawn Fertilizer, for best results.

Cut your lawn (soon for the last time!) about 2 1/2 inches or 6 cm high.

Lubricate your lawn mower, sharpen the blades, clean the cutting deck and spray with oil.

Rake leaves off your lawn. Put them on your perennial beds and veggie garden where they will break down and help to build the organic matter in your soil.

Winterizing

Begin thinking about winterizing your roses that are not of the 'shrub' type. Hybrid Teas, Granddianas, Floribunda etc. will need about 50 cm (1 1/2 feet) of fresh triple mix piled up from the bottom. The best time to do this is just before the Grey Cup game - the game is your reward for doing the job!

Wrap spiral plastic collars on young fruit trees to protect them from rodent damage (anytime).

Spray broad-leaved evergreens with Wilt-Pruf® (an anti-desiccant) to prevent the drying effects of winter wind. (When killing frosts are here and just before the snow flies.)

Wipe down all of your digging and cutting tools with an only cloth when you are finished with them for the season.

Plant Colour!

On a more positive note remember that there are plants that will survive and even thrive in cold weather. Belgium Mums, New England Asters, Sedum Spectabile and ornamental grasses all look great this time of year. Don't forget flowering cabbage and kale: they improve their looks with frost!

Pumpkins, ornamental grasses, corn stalks, hay bales and goose necked squash can all play a part in an entrance display at the front of your home. Be creative and have fun.

The air is clear and hopefully you will receive some sunshine for your fall work days!

Wipe down all of your digging and cutting tools with an only cloth when you are finished with them for the season.

was suggested. A position in the Maritime Command Management Study Unit (MCMU) in Halifax was suggested, subject to an interview and success completing the application. The position was in Moncton. All were followed and a five year posting MCMU followed.

While working with the Navy, Bing found them interesting and rewarding. Because he was (before the CF converting to a common uniform) still wearing khaki colors but was recognized as an Army "Pongo" as someone different than the others. That helped in many questions associated with the various projects and studies he needed to progress. Bing thought perhaps the Navy "Mafelows" thought that an Army "Pongo" was not as smart as those of their environment and his many questions in the progression of his study projects should be at least humored and answered to keep him quiet.

His studies took him to both Canadian coasts and deep into most below deck spaces in most of the two fleets ashore and at sea. Trips included joining a Canadian Destroyer in Amsterdam and returning to Halifax via Plymouth, England and Friesland. Another sea trip from Esquimaux to San Francisco and a three month voyage on exercise on the East Coast called "Naplespring" to Marquette, Puerto Rico and the Caribbean. Included was a study for Maritime Engineering at Ottawa. That study resulted in later posting to Ottawa. To his surprise, the "Old Salt" he had no trouble with sea sickness. (too busy "tabber-necking" he believed).

After five years in Halifax, the Career Manager considered a return to the Army environment and a posting to the Combat Arms School in CFB Gagetown and an appointment as RSM of the Armour School. The tour was usual Regimental Duties except for a course at Edmonton, AB on a Paratrooper Course. This special course was for Senior officers and Warrant Officers. The scheduling authority thought that the course for successful "older but healthy" candidates would be an incentive to younger soldiers to volunteer for Para training. The activity was an incentive to the soldiers. Bing had completed a total of forty-two assignments in the Canadian Armed Forces.

Bing's interest over the last 40 plus years in Genealogy has been as an active researcher and Executive President of NBB Genealogy Society and of the Southwestern Branch of the Society. His interests in the early families of Albert and Westmorland Counties of New Brunswick and in the Yorkshire Migration of 1772-1775 to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. His Genealogy Research Library could exceed the holdings of a small museum.

POEM

I went to see the soldiers

I went to see the soldiers, row on row on row.
And wondered about each as still, their badges all on show.
That brought them here, what life before was like for each of them?
What made them angry, laugh, or cry.
These soldiers, boys and men.
Some so young, some older still, a bond grew close than brothers
These men have earned and shared a love,
that's not like any others
They trained as one, they fought as one
They shared their last together
That bond endures, that love is true
And will be, now and ever.

I could not know, how could I guess, what choices each had made,
Of how they came to soldiering, what part each one had played?
But here they are and here they'll stay,
Each one silent and in place,
Their headstones line up row on row
They guard this hallowed place.

In honour of our fallen soldiers, those who stood in the breach against powers and lost their lives saving down those who would do us harm.
To mark their deaths, we invite you to share your condolences for Cpl. Nathaniel Cirillo's and Warrant Officer Patrice Vincent's families. We will forward all your condolences to Ottawa to be given to their families. On-line condolences are available at www.armstrongflg.com.

Sleep well young soldier, your job is done
Your war is over and your battle won
You are no longer young
God is off into the night
Corporal Nathaniel Cirillo and Warrant Officer Patrice Vincent Lay down your weapon for you need it not

No more bullets need be shot
Take off your helmet, look to the sky
For my friend it is your turn to die
Have courage now, go rest in peace
You fought bravely and with honour died

News From The Maritime Motorsports Hall Of Fame

EARL DOUCETTE

Inducted for Motocross Builder/Competitor November, 2011

Earl Doucette is a Motocross Enthusiast!! Earl was introduced to Motor Sports in 1968 when his father took him, his brother and a friend to River Glade Speedway to watch a stockcar race. That became a ritual every Saturday night.

He got his first Motorcycle, a street bike, in 1972. His interest in Motocross started in 1973 when A.B.C.'s TV Wide World of Sports, aired the United States 500 Gran Prix from California.

Went to see his first live motocross race in 1974 at a track on Lanes Mountain and he was instantly hooked.

He started racing in 1975 when he borrowed a friend's truck and trailer to take him to a race at the Can-Am Trail Race at Annapolis, NS.

In 1976 he rode a 125 Suzuki, without much success and lots of break-downs.

In 1977 Motocross was still in its infancy in the Atlantic region and there wasn't any other track in the Moncton area, so a group got together and met with Ernie McLean to see if they could use the area behind his pits. The track has celebrated its 30th anniversary. Earl hasn't missed a single race since the track started.

With the great interest in Motocross he picked up a New 250 Suzuki in 1978, and started following the Atlantic Region Circuit. He would get his first podium finish in August and again at the final race at River Glade.

Motocross racing is like a drug and it is very addictive if you're into it. In 1979 he picked up a new Can-Am 250 and got several podium finishes.

In 1980 at age 24 he moved up to the Intermediate Class. That fall he took the big step and got married. He knew that racing in the Pro Class was not something that was going to be easily achievable.

In 1981 he was ready to give it a shot. Earl picked up a smeared up van and he had a brand new 250 Can-Am.

This would prove to be his last new bike. Although he was having a little bit of success and a whole lot of fun racing. A friend had informed him and Judy about a house in Salisbury that they could get just by assuming the mortgage. The van was sold for a down payment and the bike went for a larger enduro tank.

Even though racing was not in the cards, he had a dream of one day owning his own race track. To keep involved with the sport he attended a Canadian Motorcycle Association Referee School, put on by CMA

President Marilyn Bastedo. His first official induction to officiating would be to the tech inspection of the bikes at the 1982

Riverglade Pro Nationals. He would be the Assistant Referee at the 1983 Canadian

Amateur National at Riverglade. He was doing more and more Atlantic Region

Races.

In 1987 he got a call from Arnold Hoar asking if he would be interested in getting involved with him and Glen and a few others in promoting the races at Riverglade.

This was the start of the fulfilment of an earlier dream to own his own track. Over the next seven years Riverglade Motocross has hosted a record 14 of the Canadian Pro

National Races and has been a great at the Moncton Coliseum. It would be a great learning experience and he would continue as well as race now and then.

In 1984 Glen and Arnold decided to call it quits, so Earl hooked up with Larry Northrup and Frank Campbell for the next 10 years. In 2005 Frank retired so Earl and Larry were two of a group of five that purchased the Riverglade property. In the spring of 2011 ownership of the track changed again. This time it was Earl, Larry and Lee Steeves.

Riverglade Motocross is the oldest track in the Atlantic Region. The Riverglade Pro

National continues to be one of the very best in the country, and that is something

Earl is very proud of.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to everyone in the riding of Gaagetown-Peticodiac who believed and voted for me in the September 22nd provincial election. A special thank you to those great Liberal supporters who gave their all as part of the Campaign Team. Although our riding didn't go Liberal this time, we can be proud of our majority government under the capable leadership of Premier Brian Gallant as he moves New Brunswick forward.

Thank you
Barak Stevens

Comedy at Large by Laurie Blanchard Salisbury, NB

• A comedian at a Los Angeles night club was up on stage doing his comedy routine when he noticed that a lady was leaving her table and heading for the ladies washroom. As the camera focused on the lady, the comedian made the announcement "...there goes another little kitten to the sand box! Cover it up honey, cover it up!!

• A customer who was looking for a 50 pound bag of potatoes at the grocery store and couldn't find any, located a produce manager and asked "...Excuse me sir, do you carry potatoes in the 50 pound bags? The clerk snapped back...no, no, since my hernia operation!

• Nowadays, you can buy cards for many occasions. You can get birthday cards, wedding cards, sympathy cards, get well cards, thank-you cards, anniversary cards, as well as graduating cards and congratulatory cards. They should make BREAK UP CARDS. On the cover, you would have an image of an astronaut in the international space station, and when you open up the card, it would read... sorry honey, but I just need a little more space!

• Did you hear of the two hippies that took prune juice and LSD? Boy, what a trip they took!

• The advantage of playing at a miniature golf course...you don't have to yell "FORE" when your putter makes contact with the ball!

• Thought for the day
Don't let your mind wander, it's too small to be out by itself!

People Who Laugh a lot Live Longer

"For all you muscle car buffs."

A man from Alberta told me that he and his wife attended a muscle car show in the USA this summer. As the cars were rolling in the gateway to the park, a gorgeous orange 69 Pontiac GTO Judge rumbled in. A group of about 25 people were sitting in lawn chairs near the entrance and as the GTO rolled by them, everyone stood up and one fella announced "ALL RISE, HERE COME DA JUDGE !!!

Order in the court!
