From the Editor

The old saying "July will warm things up" I hope it is right as we have only had a few nice summer days yet.

On July 1st we celebrate Canada's birthday, this used to be called Dominion Day until 1982, since 1983 it has been known as Canada Day. Have fun and take in the celebration events in your area. Our neighbors south of the boarder celebrate Independence Day on July 4th to commemorate their independence from England on July 4th, 1776. July 26 has been chosen as Aunt and Uncle Day.

The really important day is "National Cheesecake Day" on July 30th. I think most of you will agree with me on that one.

As well July 30th is "International Day of Friendship". There is so much hatred, fighting and mistrust in the world today that we should set this day aside to be friends. The origin of International Day of Friendship goes back as far as 1919 in the United States. In 2011, the United Nations declared this an official international day, to be celebrated annually on July 30th. So this is a good day to make up with those you have a misunderstanding with. Maybe take them a cheesecake.

The rumor mill has it that by 2021 New Brunswick will have another area code (428) added to our phone system.

Now that summer is here and our organized schedules gets disrupted take time to enjoy the happenings of the summer, the swimming, racing, vacations and what ever you have on your plate.

A really nice New Brunswick vacation is to travel up the Acadian Coastal Drive, one really nice spot, if you are an outdoors family, is the Kouchibouguac National Park with its beaches, boat tours, and numerous other activities. If you need information about a New Brunswick tour, stop in at the Maritimes Motorsports Hall Of Fame Tourist Information Centre.

Don't forget to join in on Friday evening from six to eight to help us chase the Ace.

I should have listened longer

submitted by Jodi Colpitts

Our family suffered a loss recently, our mother's Uncle Stewart Bleakney, our great uncle passed away in May. Many people knew him as "Pete Bleakney", to us he was our "uncle Stewie" in name but in our hearts he was truly our grandfather and loved as such.

Not to get into the branches of the family tree too much but my moms (Donna) father died in an accident when she was just a toddler so her kids never had a grampy in name on her side of the family and our Grampy Colpitts died when we were just teenagers.

When we were just youngsters we had our uncle "Jiggs" (aka Lewis Bleakney) as our surrogate gramps. He would spend the holidays at our house and we would often spend weekends at his homestead. When he passed away we were at a loss for a bit - no grampy!! So the spot for surrogate grampy was open.

It was only in our later years that we grew closer to our Uncle Stewie. He became a mentor for his great-great nieces and nephew (Danielle, Alexandria, Taylor and Brody) teaching them all he could about the Fur and Feather Club and the show bird business. He was very proud of their accomplishments and he often said how Danielle would be a great judge as she knew a winner when she saw one. He was always trying to get some special chicken or duck for her to show and my sister Aricka had to just keep expanding the bird show coop for her daughter.

He was a special hunting and trapping buddy to Travis. They called themselves "The Mad Trappers". They were crazy about trapping and were two peas in a pod, spending many hours together on the great pelt quest. He once told me that Travis could turn any pelt into a sale and proceeded to tell me tales of trapping - which he knew I did not agree with but I think he just liked to see the expression on my face while he was telling the story. He kept smirking and laughing, merriment sparkling in his eyes at my discomfort. He was quite the prankster and since his death I have heard several stories of his mischievous ways which make me appreciate him even more.

He had a special bond with my oldest sister Vicky. She was his confidant and companion for many years. He could not get through his day (sometimes even his morning) without talking to her on the phone. Many Saturday mornings while I was there tiding up his place (digging him out he would say) he would grumble and squawk about her not answering her phone right away. Then he would sit half patiently as he waited for her to return his call. They chatted and laughed like little school girls everyday.

Uncle Stewie looked forward to his birthday which my oldest brother Darrin never forgot. Why did he look so forward to another year getting older? Well, each year Darrin would get him a big lobster! He would make quick work of that never forgetting to share some with his little buddy Rocco (the four legged love of his life). Rocco could be seen in Uncle Stewie's truck anytime it

ELGIN NEWS!

Highlights from Elgin W.I. Meeting Held on June 16th

Twelve members of the Elgin Women's Institute met for their June meeting at The Hall with President Hazelanna Carter presiding. After anthems and Mary Stewart's Collect, role call was answered with rose colour preferences. Yellow was a popular choice, and the fragrant double wild or cinnamon rose also got several mentions. Others said "A rose is a rose" -- it was hard to choose.

In former business, the president reported on another successful May auction, and Karen Davidson gave a report on the provincial convention held on May 31st in Fredericton. Three members from our local branch attended: 191 delegates in all and an excellent program -- "Helping Young Adults" with their mental and emotional health, using caution on the Internet, education and skills. With Canada's 150th birthday coming up in 2017, the provincial W.I. board announced plans for community outreach programs and courses, details pending.

Our much-anticipated Cornhill and Cedar Cafe luncheon will take place on July 21st; business meeting to follow back in Elgin.

ELGIN DAY will be Sunday, August 14th from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Eco Park and W.I. Hall. We'll serve complimentary sundaes and highlight the best of the EEA summer camp program as well as local exhibits. If community members have ideas for exhibits, please phone 756-8453.

Bonny Price gave a nifty demonstration on kitchen cleaning tips using natural products. For example, by mixing equal parts salt and vinegar, lingering stains disappear from cups and teapots . . . Voila!

Following W.I. grace, Hazelanna Carter and Karen Davidson served a tasty lunch to close the meeting.

Comedy at Large

by Laurie Blanchard Salisbury, NB

This is an automotive story relating to a dissatisfied customer with dramatic end results. The story goes back to the mid 70's and I was assured that it actually happened without stretching the truth. In Indiana, USA, there was a small rural village, population of about 300 people and wasn't much more than a church, small post office, a general store and a 3 room school and was mostly a farming community. On the outskirts of town on a side road was a small used car lot not much bigger than 10-12 vehicles on a crushed stone car lot and the office was about the size of a storage barn. One day, a gentleman from about 100 miles away was driving by and noticed that in back of the sales office was a couple of mid 60's pick up trucks. These 2 half tons were for sale as is-where is, no warranty. One of them was in decent shape and the owner of the car lot assured him the engine ran ok but needed a complete tune-up and that it had lots of compression. The price was right, so he purchased it and called his next door neighbor and friend to see if he would come up with his 3/4 ton truck and flatbed trailer to bring his newly acquired truck home. After getting the truck back home, he tuned up the motor and put on better tires and all was fine until about 2 weeks later when the engine suddenly seized up. He called the used car lot owner and accused him of knowing the motor was no good and that he was taken advantage of, however, he was reminded it was as is-where is and there could be no compensation. The customer was not a happy camper and vowed to seek revenge. This was in mid July and he knew the first week-end in August, in that community was a big festival held at a large farm about 10 miles away from the village and that most everyone attended. There was food, drink, music and that village was totally deserted most of the weekend. He and his friend loaded up a John Deere tractor and manure spreader on the flatbed trailer, hitched it up to the 3/4 ton truck and drove an hour and a half arriving in the village about 10 o'clock Saturday night. The place was a ghost town. They drove through and made their way to the used car lot, unloaded the tractor and spreader and gave the cars on the lot a good coating. Thinking that wasn't enough, they backed the spreader up to the sales office and gave it a good spraying !!! Let's assume that upon viewing his car lot later on, the owner would be... shall we say, somewhat browned off?

was moving. He rarely went anywhere without that little dog.

The one thing you would notice when you walked into his house was his collection of pictures on his walls and shelves. Every flat surface held pictures of family, friends and animals and he knew when and where each was taken and you could bet on getting a story for one or two of them. Many times he shared tales involving his good friends Truman and Hamish (and had pictures to back it up). He loved his pictures. He also loved his daily tour of the village, stopping for a coffee and chat with the girls at The Right Spot, a quick hello to the ladies at the Green Pig and of course a visit with all his friends at the grocery store where he would generously dispense hugs to the ladies.

We will miss his wit and wisdom, his snappy and humorous comebacks, and his knowledge of plants, animals and birds. He could spot a bird a mile down river and tell if it was an eagle, a hawk or a osprey before I could even see it.

The pastor at his funeral triggered this story. He stated we are losing more and more of them, soon their stories will not be retold. That got me thinking.

What's Cooking? In Winona's Kitchen

CREAM CHEESE SHORTBREAD COOKIES

Mix until blended
1 ½ cups softened butter
1 package softened Cream Cheese
½ cup white sugar
Work in 3 cups of flour
Shape dough into balls; place on ungreased cookie sheet.
Bake at 400 degree F. about 12 minutes or until golden brown.
Dab the top with icing and piece of cherry

He is right of course, soon the elders and their tales of days gone by will be silent. I just wish I had listened longer. I wish I had taken notes. I wish I had put all Uncle Stewie's crazy stories of fishing, hunting, trapping and family down on paper when he was telling them.

So the next time your grampy starts reminiscing about his crazy youth and all his adventures, do yourself (and your children) a favor, write the stories down and keep them safe.

RIP Uncle Stewie from the Colpitts kids and their kids too (Danielle, Alexandria, Taylor,

Race for Kids

Grown-ups play. Kids win! Tri County Boys and Girls Clubs Race For Kids Capital One® Race for Kids™ is an urban adventure race offering a chance to return to the best adventures of childhood, all while raising funds for kids to receive the support needed to realize their true potential. In 2016 Capital One® Race for Kids™ took place in Petitcodiac. Saturdays: May 28 Teams of four competed in a race to 10 Checkpoints in a race to the finish line. Checkpoints were designed to focus the mind and challenge the body in fun and unique ways. Once finished, there was a celebration and awards ceremony to commemorate the completion of the race!

We were very excited to be hosting the Capital One Race for Kids for our second year! The Tri-County Race for Kids includes the Boys & Girls Clubs of Havelock, Petitcodiac and Salisbury who have all been established since the 80's and 90's. We are dynamic organizations that have joined forces again to make this year's event a fun, friendly and charitable race to meet the needs of the Children and Youth in our communities. We really care about the kids in our communities and want them to know they have a safe and supportive environment to make positive relationships.

The Tri-County Boys & Girls Clubs offer a variety of programs year round and are open to the community. Our programs include after school programs, early learning programs, summer camps, sports programs, leadership programs, healthy eating/living programs, anti-bullying programs, inclusion programs, and various evening programs for children and youth.

We would like to extend a heartfelt Thank-you to you all for your hard work and support during this year Tri-County Race for Kids!

Thanks to all your hard work fundraising and with the support of our local sponsors we were able to raise a grand total of $12,647.00! All the funds raised stay within our three communities, and help fund the free programs that are offered to the children and youth. We hope you had as much fun as we did and we hope to see you next year! Over the years, we have worked hard to get to know the young people and the families in our community.

We strive to know and understand what makes them tick, what interests them and what issues they are facing. With that in mind, we then attempt to offer the right programming to meet their needs. We know we can't do it alone and we rely heavily on community support to help continue our work.

By participating in this year's Capital One Race for Kids™, you have played an important part of helping our Clubs continue to be able to offer free programs to our communities. Funds raised will go directly back into the Tri-County communities so that we can continue offering the types of programs our young people need the most.

Thank You to All our Sponsors, Racers Communities and Supporters. We could not have done it without you. See you at next year's race.
