CANADIAN SAILING TEAM SAILS TO BRONZE

Congratulations goes out to the sailing team, selected to represent Team Canada this past September, at the Rio 2016 Paralympics Games, which included Petitcodiac's own Scott Lutes. He now makes his home in Mohone Bay, Nova Scotia. The three sailors for the Team were; Scott, Logan Campbell born in Saskatoon and Paul Tingley born in Halifax. Paul is considered one of the top solo competitors in the world. Halifax was one of their main training waters.

Scott became a paraplegic in 1974 because of a motor vehicle accident on the then Trans Canada Highway, near Berry Mills, at the age of twelve. With great determination Scott along with the support of his family, Graham and Brenda Newcomb competed in many types of sports from his wheelchair. He always gave it his best, because nothing but the best would do.

Scott began sailing for fun, it was something he liked to do, and something he would be able to do well into his life. In sailing his disabilities don't matter and he can find ways to adapt and use his abilities.

In 2007 things changed for Scott, he received a call from Vancouver inviting him to join a racing team as someone else had to drop out, Scott began his very intense training, which has paid off for him. His competitive sailing started in 2007 sailing in the Martin 16 and 2.4mR classes. At Coupe de Quebec he won his first Martin 16 regatta, this was the thrill that made him want more and more.

He tried out for a position on the three-person Sonar team in August 2011, and then became full time in November.

In the London 2012 Paralympic Games the Team placed 10th. This was a great finish and gave the team the confidence to work even harder for their next adventure.

In 2014, in the International Federation of Disabled Sailing (IFDS), held in the Halifax waters, saw disabled sailors from all over the world competing, it was Scott with his team mates that finished second.

2015 International Sailing Federation (ISAF) Sailing World Cup - Sonar - they got a 3rd place finish.

In January 2016 at Biscayne Bay, Florida, the worlds top Olympic and Paralympic class competitors gathered to sail in the Sailing World Cup Miami. These were sailors campaigning for the Rio 2016 Olympic and Paralympic Sailing Competitions. There were more than 780 athletes. This was an Olympic qualifier for North and South America so the stakes were high at the regatta. The Sonar Team of Scott Lutes, Logan Campbell and Paul Tingley won Gold. The gold medalists in each event qualified for the Sailing World Cup Final in Abu Dhabi, UAE.

At the Rio 2016 Paralympic Test Event

they received a silver medal.

As they prepared for the Rio 2016 Paralympic Games Scotts hopes were that they could add a Paralympic medal to his collection, he said, "the team is ready to race and in the mood to win". So to the podium they went for Canada, with a Bronze.

Scott summed up for the team what being on the podium means to them, "It's a treat, it's a treat, we love racing and that's why we do it. No matter what, happy to be here, but on a cake icing is nice and this is the icing on the cake".

Due to lack of funding for amateur athletes, fund raising was a major concern. They are very appreciative to many local individuals, organizations and businesses for their financial support which made their long journey to Rio possible.

Letter to the Editor

The Climate change Committee

Recently the province had a group of MLA's touring the province to ask the people about their thoughts on how to curb the problem of climate change. I was very sceptical about this well intentioned endeavour. They usually amount to nothing. It seems that indeed it was useless. People and groups went to speak before the committee and so did I. The regular paper never made much mention of the efforts of the many citizens that spent hours to research and write to the committee. It would be great if small local papers take up the cause in favour of our environment and economy that is at stake. Below is the a part of the presentation I felt important to relay to the climate change committee.

Many issues can be covered under climate change, I've chosen to cover only two topics. Our community of Elgin has been surrounded by crown land. The land is still there but, whatever is on it is rapidly disappearing. I lived for 32 years on the same property. Most of our property was alongside a dirt road. The other side a forest. Not once in all these years has there been any problem with the road being washed out due to rain. A week after it was clear-cut "the Government"/taxpayer had to repair a badly washed out road. No matter how many times it is repaired it keeps on happening. The reason is clear cutting it causes the land to be washed away by the rain. Nothing is helping the water drain slowly into the ground. This is happening all over New Brunswick and causing hardship for many communities and the destruction of our roads. The province is concerned about coastal erosion? It happens right inside the provinces boundaries.. The one company that hold a monopoly in this province is becoming a hinder rather than an asset. Government has to step up to the plate and start protecting communities and its people. Clear cutting makes a desert of the forests. Forests attract rain, filter water and give us clean air. Natural areas help alleviate climate change because they capture and store carbon dioxide. There is great biodiversity in our the forest and grasslands that provide critical habitat for plants, animals and insect species. People that spend time in the forest are generally healthier. It alleviate stress.. need I go on. Companies that do such damage need to be held accountable. No more lax environmental- or tax laws, no more special treatment. Make sure we receive fair value for our product. Let companies pay their taxes. Stop the bigger faster more approach because we are robbing our own future. We are giving away our province. The Elgin Eco Association has send a portfolio and request to the minister of Natural resources to preserve 1000 acres of crown land for our growing mountain bike trail tourism industry. Tourism provides, employment and new money without the destruction of our natural resources. The practice of clear cutting does not receive a favorable impression in other countries when it comes to trade.

On another note, you are looking for strategies that will provide the highest economic benefit for the province. What steps are required toward a low-carbon future? What specific elements of the low-carbon economy should New Brunswick pursue? Etc.

These are very loaded questions. In my short life of nothingness, I learned that a 1000 people have a 1000 different opinions. I am not a scholar or have a university degree in science. We just know and see that things in our environment are going downhill very fast. In the Netherlands and Europe they have been working on this issue of climate change for decades. Despite the ignorant view of the biggest polluting countries they have forced ahead to making positive changes towards a better and cleaner environment. When are we stepping up to the plate?

Meeting to be held on at the Maritime Motorsports Hall of Fame

5 Hooper Lane, Petitcodiac, NB

ALL ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND

From the Editor

What a wonderful Fall we have had.

There seems to be a great abundance of fruit, berries and farmed vegetables. I for one was a recipient, thank you to all who provided the bounty.

So glad we didn't receive the ravaging storm that Sydney and area did.

Chase the Ace of Spades, held at the Petitcodiac Legion reached the Jackpot of $3710.00 on October 21st. There will be no Chase the Ace on November 11, because of Remembrance Day.

Here is hoping for nice weather for Remembrance Day, however in my memory most Remembrance Days are cold and wet. I think, just a reminder of the suffering our military has to endure.

On November 19 we will hold the eleventh Induction for the Maritime Motorsports Hall of Fame at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Moncton. These 10 inductees will bring the total to 113 for the Hall of Fame. There are still tickets available by calling the office, 756-2110.

November 20, at 10:00AM, is the Induction Buffet Brunch being held at the Maritime Motorsports Hall Of Fame on 5 Hooper Lane, Petitcodiac. Here you can meet past and present Inductees, maybe even get an autograph. Everyone is welcome, visit, hear old stories and eat as long as the food lasts.

November 26 is the Maritime Motorsports one day Christmas Bazaar. The tables are sold out so there will be a good verity of items to choose from. To help out the SPOT food bank bring a can of something to help out their Christmas supply. Hard to believe our next Local News and Views will be our Christmas one.

Now to respond to the letter, "To the Editor", on our environment and economy, that is at stake.

First to congratulate the MLA's that toured the Province concerning climate change.

I have received request to research this matter and voice my opinion, and that of many more, however, scientists are researching this matter, of which have many different opinions. Besides, no one would listen to me.

I do not agree with so much clear-cutting. It takes away the animals territory and is bringing them into populated areas. As for the "Crown Land" it did all belong to the Province (tax payers), once. You could pay a small sum and cut your wood, tap maple trees, etc. I guess that is still possible in some places.

I don't know enough about the economy of the Province to say where we can get our money to satisfy everyone in what we think we need, and you really don't want to get me started. As the younger generation becomes more involved with the government and businesses, changes could take place on how large companies are dealt with. Maybe more taxes that relates to their company functions such as the carbon tax that has been suggested.

What we all do certainly makes changes in the environment and climate change.

Winona McLean

October 1, 2016 the biggest mountain bike race in Atlantic Canada was held for the 13th time in Elgin, New Brunswick.

It was the perfect day for a fantastic bike race. One hundred and fifty three bikers registered to start in any of the four different races.

Fifty three came to battle it out for the sought after buckle. Only twenty five are available.

The morning started as usual with a great breakfast offered by The Elgin Seniors. The breakfast that started at 7am, was well attended by bikers and citizens alike. This year we had mountain bikers from Germany and from B.C., but most of them coming from throughout the Atlantic Provinces.

The online registration had closed the evening before with a whopping 113 registration. We were super surprised to see another 40 show up on race day. Thirteen Elgin Adventure club members participated in the race. Lots of work for the crew that took care of the registrations. It was a great sight to see the large groups of bikers taking off into the beautiful colored hills of Elgin. After the race an award dinner took place at the W.I Hall. Very tired and hungry bikers devoured the goodies that were available. Thanks to all that donated. We encountered a most challenging part of the day.

It was at the moment the kitchen boss in the W.I Hall said: fifty percent of the people ate seventy five percent of the food. Suddenly the W.I kitchen was transformed into the "Chopped Elgin" kitchen. Where everything can be turned into anything and anything can be turned into everything. Master chef Elgins Hazelanna Carter used her wand and turned beans and rice into a tasty Costa Rican dish. The bikers all enjoyed their meal very much. They went home filled up and with a bottle maple syrup or a door prize of jam, jelly or pickles. Many young children of Elgin also participated in the 20 km race. The youngest ones were able to go on the childrens bike event and peddled a 10 km trail. It was the perfect day we will not soon forget. We are looking forward to next year. The EEA would like to thank all that have contributed to the success of the bike race. Volunteers are vital to our success and also the many land owners that gave permission to have the bike race proceed over their properties

Thank you

Les Vanderbeck the race official

The Mapleton Acadian Trail is a diamond that sparkles at any season. The fall is no different. On the trail you will see different kinds of mushrooms this time of year. The colours of the trees have been amazing. We hope many people take advantage of the great weather and hike the trail to see for themselves its unsurpassed beauty. We are doing some clean up work on the trail and hope this will help your hiking enjoyment.

The EEA has been very fortunate in attracting more members this summer. We hope with the acquisition of the trail property to expand our horizons with some additional new ventures that will increase tourism in our area. Stay tuned. We always welcome new members. Our meetings are every first Thursday of the month. Except December, starting November the meetings will be held in the Seniors Hall in Elgin until spring.

ELGIN SENIORS

We have lots of good news to share. Our breakfast on the morning of the Mountain Bike Race was a huge success with numbers! Our Music Jamboree this past Saturday evening was very successful with an excellent turnout of local people and many from further away. We added hot dogs this year and it was a positive addition. Door prizes were provided by Reflections, Maple Tree Café and our members. Betty Warren won the Double Queen quilt and the 50/50 draw.

We are still holding our Number Block contest with the lucky person winning the $50.00 bill. Each block sells for $2.00 each.

Last month we took a tour to St. Antoine and had a great trip.

For October our meeting is this Thursday, the 20th. We plan to go to Gagetown, pick some apples and visit a local museum. We will plan our November event at our meeting this week.

Our meetings are held every third Thursday of every month at 2:00 p.m. Membership is $11.00 per year and we belong to the N. B. Senior Citizens Federation. We are always looking for new members and we think you would enjoy the pot luck meals, tours, special speakers, games and fellowship.

We would like to express our condolences to Bertha Babcock on the loss of her son, Walter, who was a very faithful member and will be greatly missed.

We also wish Russell Leaman a continued speedy recovery from his recent operation.

ALL THOSE WHO SERVED

Comedy at Large

by Laurie Blanchard Salisbury, NB

The story was told to me of a man and his wife who decided to take their summer vacation to another level. They went to Las Vegas and stayed at a five star hotel. They had recently sold their long established high end furniture business and decided they deserved a long overdue escape. When in Vegas, they of course couldn't resist to venture into a few casinos to play the slots. At one particular casino, after having played a few machines they decided to have a big meal at the fancy restaurant. When they came out of the main entrance, lo and behold, parked nearby was a gorgeous 61 Lincoln Continental, jet black and the chrome glistening in the sunshine! The windows in the car were darkly tinted and as they slowly walked by, admiring the beauty of the vehicle that seemed like it had just left the dealers showroom, the rear window in the passenger compartment slowly went down and the partially bald man leaned out and asked the couple er..ah..pardon me folks, would you happen to have any grey poupon? Note: Grey poupon is a high end mustard imported from France. It is only available at one location in Moncton but rarely stocked. A 400 ml container of poupon will set you back $ 20. or more!! Make mine French's mustard.

A limerick from a bathroom reader:
I used to hate having to go,
I was so very bored, you know.
But when I became a bathroom reader,
My visits got sweeter,
Now I'm hoping my business is slow !

A wife says to her husband, "Oh Henry, you're always pushing me around and talking behind my back". He says, "Well what do you expect Martha, you're in a wheelchair".

War Years Remembered

By Gloria Scribner

On November 11th the cadets, school children and a few soldiers and politicians will once again attend the wreath laying ceremonies at our local cenotaphs. The names from the memorial charts will be solemnly read in our churches and that long momentous silence will cause us to reflect on the wars that defined our destinies. In Canada the first 2 World Wars, the Korean and the Vietnam.

It's not difficult today to imagine the horrors of war tho' we try not to. But war itself has become as some would say "A whole new ball game." Terrorism in our own backyards, on our school grounds and constantly in our living rooms via television. But there are those who left us a legacy to uphold - It's called PEACE and ironically it has been and still is paid for with human blood.

We welcome and shelter the refugees. I recall those from Hungary, Nam, and now from Syria. All they've ever wanted as they reached our shores, as our own ancestors did years ago, is a chance to raise their families, to live, work, worship and speak freely and without reprisal.

We wear our poppies over hearts and reflect. Each of us has his or her own story gleaned from recollections of the "war" years.

My father's family were British and at the age of 15 he was put to work picking up bodies from the streets of London. Piling them onto wagons. By 20 he was flying his plane over the roofless bombed-out hospital while my mother was giving birth to my brother.

My mother recalls the ration cards, and air-raid sirens of London and the scurry to the shelters. They survived and my other two British uncles returned from Europe to help rebuild what was left of their towns.

My Great-Uncle Hubert "Gregg" in his autobiography records his contribution to the war effort - as a young man he was expected to follow in his father's footsteps and become a military man. He firmly refused, as his dream (and the country was at peace at that time) was to become an actor and musician. He became just that and starred in many Shakespearean plays and movies, but the songwriter in him (he wrote over 300 songs) never imagined that his popular song "Maybe It's Because I'm a Londoner" would end up being used during the war as a "code" by the British Resistance. So in his own way his father got his wish, for Hubert had played a large part in his country's victory. As a life of artistic endeavor progressed he was presented with the St. George's Medal for his contribution to the Arts. (Maybe the pen 'is' mightier than the sword).

My Polish uncle Chris Guzinski was raised in an affluent family (until the Nazis came knocking on the door.) They were off to Auschwitz and the concentration camps. Chris and his brother escaped from Auschwitz and its horrors and made it to England. Chris married my Aunt Joyce and they raised 7 children. Eventually settling on the Isle of Wight, where his brother had become a philosopher. I visited their home with my son Peter in 2000. In the mean-time back in Poland Guzinski's parish priest and dear friend Karol Wojtyla had spent the war rescuing Jews and hiding them. Karol was eventually to become Pope John Paul II.

I write of the war in which my family played a part but I know there are thousands of stories revisited every year by other families. Stories of heroism, and heartbreak, but our boys accomplished their purpose. Some as young as 17, brave boys, and tearful but proud Moms and Dads who waited and prayed. The little post offices were the gathering places then, not malls. The Canadian boys received fruitcake and warm socks and the girls worked in munitions plants. Some served as W.A.K.S. But everybody contributed to the war effort and for some "Johnny did come marchin' home". For others only a telegram and white cross in Flanders Field.

My mother's childhood sweetheart married a beautiful English girl and returned to Moncton. As the recruits were exiting his small community in '42 he had told his mom "I'll lie about my age-I'm not staying home while all the other boys are going to war (and he didn't). Many boys did the same thing and they are true heroes.

Tears come to my eyes each time I bring to mind the poets words "creep home and take your place there-the halt and maimed among-God grant you find one face there -you loved when you were young".

But, oh, the beautiful sons who lie under foreign sod; who gave all they had. To you, we owe an endless debt of gratitude. We say, "Thank you for the songs. Thank you to the war-brides. Thank you for the baby-boom. And last of all, the waving flag-that says it all."

Ned and Jim

By Gloria Scribner

Just two lads in khaki suits
Standing proud in army boots
Boys whose country needed them
Europe called and they were men
Yesterday they dreamed of girls
Now they're off to save the world
Eyes are opened. Tears are shed
By mothers praying as they dread
Morning news by radio
Why did "her" boy have to go?
Months and years obeying orders
Maps and radar, bogs and borders
Sentries, shells and mortar fire
Camps and trenches, muck and mire
Letters from home just 6 months late
Beans again on an old tin plate
Faces seen somewhere before
Older, sadder, (look of war)
Dodging bombs and dragging back
Bodies, after an attack.
Hugs of victory; Tears of joy
As mama welcomes back her boy
Taller now, and twice as thin
But she thanks God, and kisses Jim
Foes have fallen; Friends are dead
But "Thank-you Lord" for Jim and Ned.
In loving memory of James R. Hannon and Ned Chapman.

Lest We Forget

In Flanders Fields

by John McCrae, May 1915

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Moranda Van Geest 2016 Recipient of Molly Kool Award

Moranda VanGeest is the 2016 recipient of The Molly Kool Award for her outstanding contribution to her community in Elgin as well as for her work with the Eco Elgin Association and the Summer Youth program that she created.

Small communities value the efforts and accomplishments of women like Moranda!

On October 13th the public was invited to join Moranda at a very special evening presentation at the Authentic Atlantic Canada Kitchen Party at the Historic Molly Kool Home. After the Award presentation, she joined in the festivities for Alma Village's Fleet Launch 2016. And the recognition will last her LIFETIME.

The goal of the Molly Kool Award is to recognize women for outstanding contributions to the community in such areas as arts, culture, conservation, and environment. Candidates for the award must be a woman who is an established resident of Southeastern New Brunswick, who --through the execution of her job, volunteering, or personal endeavors -- enriches the community fabric in a significant way, who embodies the selfless, humble spirit of Molly Kool and would not normally seek recognition for their contributions.

Born February 23, 1916, Molly Kool became the first licensed female Master Mariner (sea captain) in North America on May 25, 1939. When asked of the significance of this event, she responded that it was the Great Depression, her father had a small vessel and she "needed a job".

She sailed the Atlantic Ocean between Alma, New Brunswick, and Boston for five years. Molly died at her home at the age of 93, February 25, 2009.

25th Annual Ladies Diamond Ring Dinner

A Very Special THANK YOU

From the Chairman of the 25th Annual Ladies Diamond
Ring Dinner

This event has become one of the most important fundraising efforts for the Petitediac Legion Branch # 41. Most of the proceeds from this event go to community services such as Veteran Support, Air Cadets and donations to charities just to name a few. The Legion also provides the use of their facilities at no charge to anyone hosting a fundraising event. The success of this event depends on the tremendous generosity of local and surrounding businesses as well as the individuals that volunteer their time and effort to make sure everything runs smoothly. This year, your contributions allowed us to provide our ladies with a variety of prizes which were valued at over $10,000. I would like to thank everyone that helped in organizing, decorating, meal preparations, prize collecting and all efforts made by them to make this years dinner another success.... "IT COULDN'T HAVE HAPPENED WITHOUT YOU"

I would like to thank Marilyn Pollock who acted as our MC this year and did an outstanding job keeping everyone entertained and things rolling along, as usual. I would like to put out a HUGE THANK YOU to ALL the businesses of Petitediac, Havelock, Salisbury, Sussex and Moncton, as well as individuals who donated prizes.... Without your contributions this event would not be possible.

Last, but certainly not least, I would like to thank "The Men" who helped prepare the meal, served us, waited on us, cleaned up after us, and for doing it all with a smile.

The winner of the 'Diamond Ring' this year was Libby Stackhouse, with second prize going to Sherry McCully winning a beautiful diamond necklace.

A Bit About Our Canadian History as we near 150 years of confederation

In 1524 -Giovanni da Verrazzano is renowned as the first European to explore the Atlantic coast of North America between Florida and New Brunswick, Verrazzano left a detailed account of his voyages to North America.

He was an Italian explorer, sent by King Francis I of France to explore the East Coast of North America for a route to the Pacific. Verrazzano charted the Atlantic coast of North America between the Carolinas and Newfoundland, including New York Harbor in 1524. The Verrazano-Narrows Bridge in New York was named after him.

After returning to Europe, Verrazzano made two more voyages to the Americas. On the third, in 1528, he was killed and eaten by the cannibals of one of the Lower Antilles, probably on Guadeloupe.

In a letter he wrote to King Francis I that he was convinced the Sound was the beginning of the Pacific Ocean, from which an access could be gained to China. This report caused one of many errors in the depiction of North America on contemporary maps. The continent was not fully mapped for hundreds of years.

Verrazzano named the region that he explored Francesca in honor of the French king, but his brother's map labels it Nova Gallia (New France).

In 1534 - Jacques Cartier a French explorer was the first known European to explore New Brunswick, under a commission from King Francis I. He discovered and named the Bay of Chaleur. In the words of the commission, he was to "discover certain islands and lands where it is said that a great quantity of gold and other precious things are to be found".

He explored areas that now comprise the Canadian Atlantic provinces and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. During one stop at Îles aux Oiseaux (Islands of the Birds, now the Rochers-aux-Oiseaux federal bird sanctuary, his crew slaughtered around 1000 birds, most of them great auks (now extinct).

Cartier's first two encounters with Canadian aboriginals were on the north side of Chaleur Bay, most likely the Mi'kmag. His third encounter was a party of St. Lawrence Iroquoians, on the shores of Gaspé Bay, where on July 24th, to claim the land for France he erected a 10-meter cross bearing the words "Long Live the King of France". The Iroquoians attitude changed, as they understood Cartier's actions. Here he kidnapped the two sons of the natives' captain. Their captain agreed they could be taken to France, with condition that they return with European goods to trade. They told him this region where they were captured (Gaspé) was called by them Houguedo.

Cartier set sail on his second voyage May 19, 1535 with three ships, 110 men, and his two Iroquoian captives. He sailed up the St. Lawrence for the first time, and reached the Iroquoian capital of Stadacona, where Chief Donnacona ruled. Cartier left his main ships in a harbour close to Stadacona, and used his smallest ship to continue on to Hochelaga (now Montreal), arriving on October 2, 1535. Hochelaga, was a town enclosed and fortified in the Iroquois style, near a mountain which he named Mont-Royal. He was given a joyous reception, which to the Iroquois, took on the air of a religious ceremony; they presented their sick to be cured, Cartier read the gospel according to St. John and the Passion of Christ.

He visited the rapids, which blocked navigation to the west. The site of their arrival has been identified as the beginning of the Sainte-Marie Sault - where the Jacques Cartier Bridge now stands. It was so-named in 1934 to commemorate the 400th anniversary of Jacques Cartier's first voyage up the St. Lawrence River. So certain was Cartier that the river was the Northwest Passage and that the rapids were all that was preventing him from sailing to China. The rapids and the town that eventually grew up near them came to be named after the French word for China, La Chine: the Lachine Rapids and the town of Lachine.

Cartier returned to Stadacona where they spent the winter of 1535-1536. Cartier and his men prepared for the winter by strengthening their fort, stacking firewood, and salting down game and fish. The French fleet laid frozen solid at the mouth of the St. Charles River, from mid-November 1535 to mid-April 1536. To add to the misery, scurvy broke out - first among the Iroquoians, and then the French. In his journal, Cartier states that by mid-February, "out of 110 that we were, not ten were well enough to help the others. On his return to France he decided to take Chief Donnacona with him, so that he might personally tell the tale of the "Kingdom of Saguenay", said to be full of gold, rubies and other treasures. Cartier and his men arrived in Saint-Malo on July 15, 1536, concluding the second, 14-month voyage, which was to be Cartier's most profitable.

On May 23, 1541, Cartier, under the orders of King Francis, set out from Saint-Malo on his third voyage with five ships. He would be the "captain general" to establish a permanent settlement along the St. Lawrence River, the "Kingdom of Saguenay". Jean -Francois de La Rocque de Roberval, a friend of the King, would be the first lieutenant general of French Canada.

When he arrived at Stadacona, Cartier found displeasure from the Iroquoians, and decided not to build his settlement there. He sailed a few kilometres up-river and settle on the site of present-day Cap-Rouge, Quebec. Individuals of "all kinds, arts and industries," including some 50 men whom he was authorized to take from the prisons were landed, the cattle that had survived three months aboard ship were turned loose, earth was broken for a kitchen garden, and seeds of cabbage, turnip, and lettuce were planted. A fortified settlement was thus created and was named Charlesbourg-Royal. Another fort was also built on the cliff overlooking the settlement. The men also began collecting what they believed to be diamonds and gold, but which upon return to France were discovered to be merely quartz crystals and iron pyrites.

Cartier left for France in early June 1542, meeting Roberval and his ships along the Newfoundland coast. Despite Roberval's insistence that he accompany him back to Saguenay, Cartier slipped off under the cover of darkness and continued on to France. This proved to be his last voyage. Meanwhile, Roberval took command at Charlesbourg-Royal, but it was abandoned in 1543 after disease, foul weather and hostile natives drove the would-be settlers to despair.

While some of Cartier actions toward the St. Lawrence Iroquoians were dishonourable, he did try at times to establish friendship with them and other native peoples living along the St. Lawrence River.

Considering that Cartier made three voyages of exploration in dangerous and hitherto unknown waters without losing a ship, and that he entered and departed some 50 undiscovered harbours without serious mishap, he may be considered one of the most conscientious explorers of the period. Cartier was the first to document the name Canada to designate the territory on the shores of the St-Lawrence River. The name is derived from the Huron-Iroquois word "kanata". Cartier used the name to describe Stadacona, the surrounding land and the river itself. He named "Canadiens" the inhabitants (Iroquoians) he had seen there. Cartier's contribution to the discovery of Canada is as the first European to penetrate the continent, and more precisely the interior eastern region along the St. Lawrence River. His explorations consolidated France's claim of the territory that would later be colonized as New France, and his third voyage produced the first documented European attempt at settling Canada.

Cartier was also one of the first to formally acknowledge that the New World was a separate landmass from Europe/Asia.

On August 18, 2006, Quebec Premier, Jean Charest, announced that Canadian archaeologists had discovered the precise location of Cartier's lost first colony of Charlesbourg-Royal. It is based on the discovery of burnt wooden timber remains that have been dated to the mid-16th century, and a fragment of a decorative Istoriato plate manufactured in Faenza, Italy, between 1540 and 1550, that could only have belonged to a member of the French aristocracy in the colony. Probably this was the Sieur de Roberval, who replaced Cartier as the leader of the settlement. This colony was the first known European settlement in modern-day Canada since the c.1000. Archaeologists have hailed its rediscovery as the most important find in Canada since the L'Anse aux Meadows Viking village in northern Newfoundland rediscovery.

Rural Rides needs volunteers.

We need drivers to help with rides as they come up in Salisbury, Petitcodiac, Havelock and surrounding areas. Specifically, we have a need for drivers to help with:

- A dialysis patient on the Homestead Rd who needs to get to the Dumont on Fridays by 8 am and returning at lunch time. Someone travelling to work at that time could drop him off and another driver could bring him home. Also a good opportunity for someone to drop him off, head out for breakfast and do some shopping then drive him home and have their gas covered.
- A younger client whose needs are more the preventative health care type such as exercise classes which often take place in the evenings and weekends. Drivers are needed to transport this client to places like the YMCA and facilities in Dieppe outside our regular office hours. Drivers can volunteer as few or as many hours a month as they want. Every little bit helps us make sure people are able to get to where they need to go. Please call Kelly at 215-2100 to find out more about becoming a driver or a client.

CHASE THE ACE every Wednesday at the Salisbury Legion from 6-8 (draw at 8:15) Jackpot is over $2000!!! Tickets are $5 each; 3/$10; 7/$20. Come and support the Salisbury Legion Veterans and Highland Park Revitalization!

PICKLEBALL!!! Have you ever heard of this new game?? It is an increasingly popular racquet sport that crosses between tennis, badminton and ping pong! Please sign up for our introductory pickleball sessions on Nov 5 @ JMA from 9:30-12 and 1:30-4. Call 372-3280 or email parks.leisure@salisburynb.ca to sign up. We need your name, age, and contact information for scheduling. Everyone is welcome and anyone can learn how to play!! Check out a youtube video to see how the game is played. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WLVj2LXecHU>

Volunteers are what keeps a community going. Thank you to all that keep Salisbury going.

Provincial Exchange in Salisbury

JMA Armstrong High students have been raising funds to host 21 youth and 2 chaperones from Luseland Saskatchewan. Students held a talent night, worked 2 pancake breakfasts and carried groceries Thanksgiving weekend. Their guests arrived October 16 and stayed until the 22nd. While the students were here from Saskatchewan they had a chance to experience our local hospitality and sights. We went to the Hopewell Rocks, Fundy Park, beach, museum, wild cats game and the RCMP memorial. The Salisbury Students wanted to showcase our community and what is like to live in New Brunswick. Our 21 students and 2 chaperones were hosted by Luseland Saskatchewan in the month of September.

Fund-raiser that was drawn at the Salisbury Lions Club went to Kathy Colpitts. The draw for the guitar donated by the Parlour was won by Gary Power.

Thanks to all who supported the Exchange.

ATTENTION

To Members of the Hillside Baptist Church; Former Members; Anyone who has relatives interred in the cemetery, and anyone who is interested in the little white church on the hill.

For many, many years Anna and Everett Steeves willingly shouldered the sole responsibility of the Hillside Baptist Church & Cemetery. They did an excellent job. We appreciated and completely trusted and depended on them.

Sadly Everett passed away in 2014.

On September 25, 2016 Anna resigned as clerk of the Hillside Baptist Church & Cemetery.

Arnold and Rita Geldart now look after the cemetery.

There is a meeting being held at Elgin Fire Hall at 2:00pm on November 20, 2016, to discuss forming a committee. "The Hillside Baptist Church & Cemetery Committee".

Please attend if you are interested in continuing the annual services and the upkeep of the building & cemetery.

For more information phone Barton at 756-2006 or Lena Clarke 756-8901.

In case of bad or bad weather Blizzard Day will be November 27.
