From the Editor

As I think about the calendar year, I notice one thing, which is that each month has its own routine. There are times we add more to that routine, like a baby, a wedding or a funeral. Speaking of a wedding, we just witnessed the wedding of our lifetime, the Royal Wedding of Harry and Meagan. Can you imagine the arguing over the guest list?

June has so many parties for graduation; my prayer for all of them is that you keep safe.

Here at the Hall of Fame we have our annual Petty AutoFest on June 3rd, admission is free. The cost to enter a show vehicle is only $5.00. It begins at 9:00am.

The Hall will be open every day for the summer months except for holidays. We are in need of volunteers to help with our every day actives, if you have a few hours to spare please come and see us. For all who have a summer vacation please enjoy!

Winona McLean

ELGIN NEWS!

The Elgin Women's Institute is pleased to be partnering with and hosting the ELGIN EATS program in our community. The project coordinator, Samantha Christensen, has written a detailed description of the project. Please take note and consider participating.

"Elgin Eats is a government funded, community outreach project that is working in partnership with the Elgin Eco Association, the Elgin Seniors Club and the Elgin Women's Institute. The mission of this project is to socialize the community members of Elgin in an intergenerational setting, all the while, increasing food skills and knowledge through sharing of traditions and recipes. The heritage enrichment and focus on from scratch cooking will be an asset to individuals both young and old. This will be achieved through weekly community cooking sessions. These gatherings are overseen by the program facilitator and coordinator, Samantha Christensen.

Initially the times and themes for the sessions will primarily cater to the seniors in the community, with an emphasis on whole foods, one pot meals, cooking for 1-2 and diet restricting factors such as diabetes. Though as the summer and program evolves, more and more mixed gatherings will be created, in hopes to pass on community history to younger residents. Included will be a disco soup and cookie exchange. On this note, it is also important to stress that these sessions are not to be confused with formal classes. Samantha Christensen will lead the direction of the group, but it is a sociable, learning and sharing experience for all involved. Therefore, further connecting and strengthening the community.

Each series of cooking sessions will feature an "All About ____" gathering, where the focus of the day will specifically be spent on one type of produce that is in season locally. Sharing of one's favourite recipes will be strongly encouraged. Self sufficiency and preservation skill sets like canning, lacto-fermentation and maintaining a sourdough starter, will be included in the late summer and early fall series of sessions, in order to take advantage of the bountiful harvests available and in hopes to avoid canning on very hot days. Suggestions for future themes and subjects are always welcome, and discussions at each gathering will help shape the program into one that is truly tailored to its community members."

June already. The time flies. Every event that needs to be organized is always closer than you think. This also happens with the Elgin Eco Association. So much to do so little time. The Elgin Eco Association has two local people hired for their summer projects. One summer student Calin Driegder that will help with everything needed and One person Samantha Christensen to facilitate, coordinate and develop the Elgin eats program. Working for not for profit organizations are excellent ways to acquire new skills or develop your skills. We are Lucky to have two such wonderful individuals working for the EEA.

On May 10 we held our AGM. It was well attended with guest speaker Frank Johnston speaking about the profound consequences of forest cover loss. This is significant in our area. Beside the staggering data available he also showed a time laps data video where we could see the growth of the forest cover loss in our area.

Our annual meeting also welcomed a new secretary to the board. We thanked Carol Martin who has for many years taken on the job of secretary and has done a fantastic job. We are confident that our new secretary Allyson Moore will be a great asset to our board. Carol also read her year in review report. Highlighting the many things that take place in the EEA to improve our community.

The summer adventure program still has a few spaces available for some enthusiastic children between the age of 9 and 14 years of age that enjoy the outdoors. Cost are $50 per child for members and $100 per child for non-members. The camp is held every Tuesday in July and August 7. You can email elgineco@hotmail.com or call 756 2518 to sign up your child.

We are preparing for our summer activities, renovation of the Maple Sugar Camp and the upkeep of trails and Eco Park. We appreciate all that are willing to help. Without you none of the above-mentioned activities or venues are possible.

The next EEA meeting will be held on June 7 in the WI Hall starting at 7 p.m. We hope to see you there

The Doctor Game
W. Gifford-Jones M.D.

Marijuana for Gifford-Jones

Why would I, at my age, want to start smoking pot, when I'd much prefer a glass of chardonnay? It's because I've suffered annoying neck pain for years due to an old injury which happened in Japan. Besides, my experience with the plant may help others who suffer from chronic pain day after day, and find no relief from other painkillers.

My interest in marijuana dates back many years. At that time several readers asked for my support to obtain medical marijuana. Some patients had found that marijuana decreased nausea while undergoing chemotherapy. Others with spinal cord injuries, accompanied by painful muscle spasm, also reported relief. But many could not find a doctor to prescribe marijuana. So I argued in my column, without success, that the government should make medical marijuana available for patients.

Now, Dr. Margaret Gedde, a Stanford University trained pathologist, relates how she became disenchanted with conventional medicine. She reports that when medical marijuana was legalized in Colorado, a sizeable influx of patients moved to the state, even though many had never previously used it! She added that data suggests the increased use of medical marijuana resulted in fewer people dying from opioid overdoses. What shocked Gedde the most was her discovery that this natural remedy helped so many patients. She knew that patients who continue on painkillers too long suffer increasing risk of complications. But, according to Dr. Gedde, patients can stay on marijuana for months or years without adverse effects.

Why is this the case? In 1992 the Journal of Science reported that in all tissues of the body there are receptors to marijuana. This means that, unlike prescription drugs, our bodies are prepared to make good use of this ancient plant.

There are two kinds of marijuana. The THC type creates a "high". The other, CBD, is associated with pain control. Gedde, and other experts, refer to the "sweet spot" when discussing the effects of marijuana. Namely, that in some cases, a combination of the two provides the best relief of pain.

So it becomes a matter of finding the right dose and combination of strains of marijuana that are most effective for the individual. In other words, the shoe does not fit all feet. Or, as it's been aptly said, "different strokes for different folks."

My research shows that the medical use of marijuana has been underestimated, underused and grossly misunderstood by the majority of North Americans, including doctors who remain resistant to natural remedies. And one has to ask why it has been so vilified.

Some reports say that smoking pot was looked on as an act of disobedience during the Vietnam War. That it was heavily targeted by the U.S. government to get rid of hippies who were looking for a "high". Some even suggest that it provided a reason to put questionable elements of society in jail.

So, am I going to be smoking pot while writing this column? Hell will freeze over before that happens. Inhaling smoke in any form is an unhealthy habit. In fact, those still smoking tobacco should see a psychiatrist. But I could easily accept marijuana in my smoothies, if it relieves pain.

Luckily, there are more ways to get the benefit of medical marijuana than smoking it. For instance, marijuana oil can be rubbed on the skin. And there's an oral oil preparation as well.

I have recently completed my personal medical documentation for the application of legal, medical marijuana. As you might suspect, I can hardly wait to see if it has any effect on my neck pain.

But I admit to being highly skeptical that it will ease pressure on a nerve. After all, I've tried acupuncture, manipulation by chiropractors. I've had repeated red and infra-red therapy and massage without relief. In fact, I've joked that the only cure for me would be the guillotine!

But I keep an open mind for new ideas. One thing is certain. Regardless of what happens, you will be the first to know the result.

Next week, what shocked me at my first visit to a medic to obtain medical marijuana. It proves once again that commonsense is an uncommon commodity, even in 2018.

4th Annual AGM a Success

Rural Rides held their fourth Annual General Meeting at the Salisbury Lions Club on May 8th, 2018. In addition to the members of the board and the manager, Kelly Taylor attending, several volunteer drivers from both the Salisbury/Petitcodiac region and the Tantramar region were in attendance. We also had the pleasure of welcoming some special guests: Roxanne Perreault, the new coordinator for WA Action, Greg Doucet from NBAFB, Laurie Stewart representing both NBAFB and the Village of Petitcodiac, Beverly Best representing the Village of Salisbury, Ron Aiken representing the Town of Sackville and Mike Holland, PC Candidate Albert.

The meeting proved to be a good day of networking and making connections between groups and municipalities who have a common goal of helping others and improving the quality of life for people in our communities. It was also an opportunity for Rural Rides to share their excitement about the ongoing expansion to the remainder of Westmorland County through a partnership with the Volunteer Center of Southeastern NB, WA Action and Tele-drive Albert County. The plan is to see volunteer driving services available in the remaining areas - Memramcook, Beaubassin and Shediac by the end of summer 2018. Part of that expansion process will include the hiring of a bilingual dispatcher to assist with the needs of the Francophone communities as service expands in those areas.

Rural Rides wishes to express their deepest thanks to the many wonderful volunteer drivers who are the backbone of the program and who give so freely of their time to help others. They also wish to thank their clients for using the service to help them get where they need to go.

Rural Rides is very grateful for those who support the program financially - ESIC, The Village of Salisbury, The Village of Petitcodiac, The Salisbury Lions Club, The Town of Sackville, and all the private donors who have supported the program. Private donors receive tax deductible income tax receipts as Rural Rides is a registered charity.

Rural Rides is excited about what 2018 holds and welcomes both new clients and volunteer drivers to the service. Please contact Kelly at 215-2100 for more information on how to register as a client or driver.

Let's Eat Out at the Cedar Café

Have you ever travelled somewhere and the scenery just made you go WOW? Well, that happened when I took Route 890 from Petitcodiac to Cornhill. I marvelled at the beauty of the valley and how everything was greening up. The hymn writer, John W. Peterson, wrote the words and music to "He owns the cattle on a thousand hills" in the 1950's and I think he was inspired by travelling through this area! We passed a farm on our way and saw the name "Jimmy Flynn" on the sign—a celebrity in the area!

When you get to the Corn Hill Nursery, the first building you come to is the Cedar Café. It opened April 28 for the season. "The two foodies" wrote their article about this Café in the October 2017 edition of the Times and Transcript Moncton. When Bob and Kathy Osborne, the owners of the Cedar Café, put their dream on ground, it began with a 10 x 12 hut with a cash box. Then, with some inspiration from European architecture, they built the present building which is 24 x 36, has two floors and a basement, and opened in 2000. There is an outdoor patio for dining, but check out the inside and upstairs, too. The railing is made from the curly pear tree and is quite beautiful. The upstairs is full of antique farm implements and arranged for larger groups. I did notice highchairs. The whole atmosphere was country and professional. We were not the only ones there for lunch.

Now down to our mission...eating! Everything is made from scratch; they offer a daily soup, local meat and produce, and gluten-free items. Our server said she gets to try all the menu items...the better to serve you with, my dear. Charley enjoyed the Chicken Cedar Club sandwich on multigrain ciabatta with house salad. I had the Cedar Ham Sandwich on white bread. I need to say that it was the best ham in a sandwich I have ever had! I initially went in for the soup but am not a fan of dill anything, so I changed my mind. For research purposes we succumbed to dessert: Pecan Pie Cheesecake (pecan pie and cheesecake together?! for me and German Chocolate Cake for Charley. Yes, they were so yummy! Our total including tax was $37.72. We will be back and partly because of the drive.

My 2 year old granddaughter came home from daycare telling her parents to "slow down" at the supper table. This is something she heard at daycare because she was eating faster than her playmates. She has also repeated other phrases such as "Listen", "Time out" and "Put your boots on". So this is what I have learned from her--

Take time out to listen, put your boots on and slow down!

This is easily put into action when you go to the Cedar Café at the Corn Hill for a kitchen renovation," says Derrick Beardsworth, Executive Director of Petitcodiac Boys and Girls Club, "This new modern teaching kitchen will not only provide up to 100 children and youth with healthy daily snacks and meals, but will also be the focal point of our new program and community partnership that teaches children and youth what it takes to get food from Seed to Plate.

Easybites Kitchen

From gardening, growing, canning, preserving, cooking and preparing food, this brand new kitchen will provide our community's children, youth and adults with the life skills they need to grow into healthy, self-sufficient community members. "As a long-standing supporter of Boys and Girls Clubs of Canada, we are excited to continue opening new easybites kitchens," says David Ingram, Chief Executive Officer, goeasy Ltd. "Our company and employees have contributed over $1.5 million in support of BGCC since becoming a national partner in 2004. We are a proudly Canadian company that believes the future lies with our children and together with Boys and Girls Clubs of Canada, we will be able to fulfill our mission of helping the youth of today become the leaders of tomorrow."

The Petitcodiac Boys and Girls Club is a child and youth-serving agency that focuses on providing children and youth with everything they need to grow into positive, caring adults. With services and core programs focused on physical recreation, health and nutrition, education, science, and arts and culture, we pride ourselves on being the go to agency in our area for programming for children and youth.

"With this new kitchen comes new partnerships, with the focal point being on teaching children and youth about growing, gardening sustainability and healthy food choices. We are excited to work this year and in the coming years with the Petitcodiac Regional School to teach youth what it takes to get food from seed to plate and the best practices involved" says Derrick Beardsworth

"Within the next couple months you will see a teaching greenhouse and up to 10 raised garden beds starting to pop up on the club property, intended for programming with children from preschool age right up through HighSchool. We are very excited in this next chapter of community partnerships centered on teaching children and youth about food sustainability. Not only will this be beneficial for children and youth of the Boys and Girls Club and Youth House but of the Village of Petitcodiac and all youth within PRS."

We want to thank everyone who came out to our kitchen launch including the honorable mayor, Gerald Goguan, John Burton (Regional Director for BGCC), Rodney Shirley President Petitcodiac Boys and Girls Club, Doreen Crandall Early Childhood and Afterschool Director, Derrick Beardsworth Executive Director, Ivan Brownell Easy financial Moncton and R Smith Easy Home Sussex.

It is finally time to get planting.

But before you plant, you shop. With garden retailers preparing for the predictable spring surge in business, shoppers need to prepare themselves for the best shopping experience ever. Here are our tips for getting the very best plant value while shopping this spring:

1. Perfect is imperfect. All of us do it: we automatically reach for the perfect flowering plant. A hydrangea in full bloom, a pot of pansies brimming with colour. Fact is, a plant brimming with colour is soon in decline. This is true of plants that bloom at their very best once a year, like a hydrangea, but not so much a season-long performer like a geranium. Choose plants that are in flower bud, not flower, and enjoy a longer bloom cycle.

2. Avoid root-bound plants. Often plants have been grown past their peak. The easiest way to determine the quality of the plant you are buying is to pull it gently from the pot. Retailers won't mind that you do this, if you are careful not to spill soil everywhere. The pot should be 50 to 70% roots, the balance a quality potting mix. If the roots twirl around the inside of the pot, they are likely to sit in your garden in shock. Pull tightly wound roots apart before you plant or avoid root bound plants in the first place.

3. Autumn stock is a good bet. Some retailers store their left-over stock from last fall and bring it out for sale early in the spring. This stock may perform very well in your garden as the plants are generally more established and 'hardened off', therefore more tolerant of frost than new stock fresh from the greenhouse.

4. Imperfect may be temporary. Experienced gardeners know that some of the best plant deals are at the back of the store, where less than perfect specimens are often offered at discount prices. Like a broken branch or a scar in the bark that can be overcome with time or pruning. In a few years a tree or shrub that is imperfect at time of purchase can look great. Patience and pruning can pay off.

5. Seeds save money. Many plant shoppers forget to go inside the store to peruse the seed racks. Truth is, many herbs, annuals, vegetables and perennials grow easily from seed and they always cost much less than plants. You will have to wait a few weeks for seeds to germinate and grow, but often they catch up to their potted brethren in time.

6. Divide and save. Some of the best plant deals this time of year are not at retailers but local horticultural society or Master Gardener meetings, even some garage sales. The divisions from someone else's hosta or daylily can take root and perform very well in your garden this season and save you a lot of money.

For that matter, if you have perennials of your own in your garden that are several years old, chances are many of them can be dug up, divided with a sharp spade or knife and planted around your garden. For free.

And it is hard to beat free.

Comedy at Large

by Laurie Blanchard Salisbury, NB
Designer of Artistic mailing envelopes 372-5353

Being in debt isn't always about the money. When what's owed isn't paid off, it can for some, engage feelings of guilt. A fine example of that is the comedian, many years ago, who early in his career was trying to establish himself and had to start out on a shoestring budget. One evening, he had an engagement at a local night club in Atlantic City. When the gig was over, he decided to play a couple of one armed bandit machines and lost most of the pay from his performance. When he returned to his room at a small time boarding house, he realized that he didn't have enough money to pay his board. With the intention of skipping town, he packed his clothes in his suitcase then lowered it out of the bedroom window to a waiting accomplice. He then came downstairs and walked past the reception desk wearing nothing but swim trunks and carrying a beach towel. He assured the lady clerkjust going for a swim at the beach as he waddled out the door humming a Beach Boys song. Two years later, after he had established himself and had a sizable bank account, a guilty conscience made him want to go back to that boarding house and make good on his debt. When the lady clerk at the reception desk saw him come in through the front door, she exclaimed ...oh my gosh, we thought you drowned!

There goes a story of a man who was very lazy! How lazy was he, you ask? He used to put pop corn in his pancakes so they would flip over by themselves !!

At the Petricodiac Arena to reunite and honour the bystanders who helped save Gerald Robinson. Gerald suffered a cardiac arrest while playing recreational hockey in March. His teammates' quick actions helped save his life. Knowing where AEDs are located in public spaces can save a life! Anyone can use a public access AED just open and listen to the instructions

By calling 911, administering #CPR, and using the rink's #AED, Tara and Joel were able to bring Gerald's heart to an organized rhythm. Today we thank them for their quick bystander intervention in the face of a medical emergency.

Our Girl

by Gloria Scribner

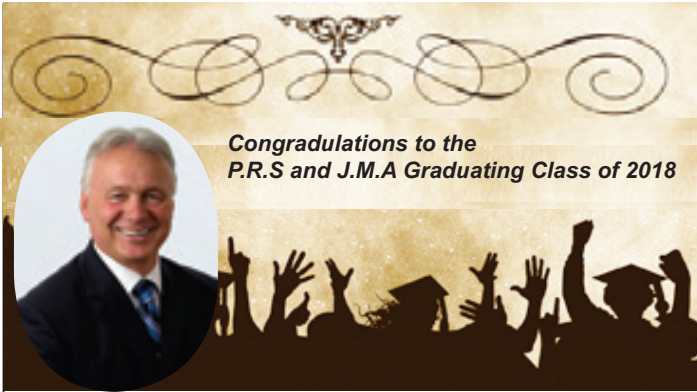

As you approached the podium
I saw your smile of pride
Beribboned diploma in your hand
Confidence in your stride
I joined the applause as we recognized
The lady walking there
But I fought back tears as I visualized
The girl with the golden hair
That I'd walked to school one
September day
And the teacher, smiling down
As my heart near broke
For your eyes spoke volumes
As they looked around
And I felt replaced as the "Institute of Learning" took your hand
And led you down the hall of years
To an intellectual land
A transformation yet the same
Much wiser became my girl
With a head-full of facts and reason,
You stepped into a brand-new world
Of apprehension, challenge and
Some optimism too.
I watched you walk
With hopes and dreams
And the "promise" that was "you".
So don't look back at the travelled road
Look ahead, smile, and walk on.
We may not always keep in step
But I'll always be "Your Mom"
So be brave and wise and familiarize
Your goals for what they are
For the road ahead is still the one
That carried you this far.
Though the broad horizon's still the same
And more challenges your due.
You'll find your way, and a brand new day
For "The Graduate is You!"

Our Boy

by Gloria Scribner

The passing years seem hazy
For so quickly they have flown
As I look up to where you stand
That boy that was my own
He wears an air of confidence
In cap and flowing gown
Showing little of that teen-aged boy
Who was the young "class clown."
That boy who thought "forever" was
His destiny in school
And often vowed that "never"
Would he heed the foolish rule
Of "homework" in the evenings
Essays written (and on time)
Of proper conjugation
Of his verbs (or writing lines)
Of punctuality and tact
Or heeding through the years
The teachers words (and parents too)
Instead of friends or peers
It seems so like a miracle
That stubborn will became
The man his Dad's so proud of now
To share the family name
His Daddy's hair is greying
(Not much wonder), But no doubt
Some other Dads went thro' a lot
For theirs has fallen out
But as our boy walks from the stage
I barely recognize
The man I'd hoped he would become
Thro' tears that fill my eyes
That boy who lived inside my heart
Is wiser, and the joy
That fuels my pride is this
You see - That graduate is My Boy.

Graduation Day

A young man was getting ready to graduate from college. For many months he had admired a beautiful sports car in a dealer's showroom, and knowing his father could well afford it, he told him that was all he wanted.

As Graduation Day approached, the young man awaited signs that his father had purchased the car. Finally, on the morning of his graduation, his father called him into his private study. His father told him how proud he was to have such a fine son, and told him how much he loved him. He handed his son a beautiful wrapped gift box.

Curious, but somewhat disappointed, the young man opened the box and found a lovely, leather-bound Bible, with the young man's name embossed in gold. Angrily, he raised his voice to his father and said, "With all your money you give me a Bible?" and stormed out of the house, leaving the Bible.

Many years passed and the young man was very successful in business. He had a beautiful home and wonderful family, but realized his father was very old, and thought perhaps he should go to him. He had not seen him since that graduation day.

Before he could make arrangements, he received a telegram telling him his father had passed away, and willed all of his possessions to his son. He needed to come home immediately and take care of things.

When he arrived at his father's house, sudden sadness and regret filled his heart. He began to search through his father's important papers and saw the still new Bible, just as he had left it years ago.

With tears, he opened the Bible and began to turn the pages. His father had carefully underlined a verse, Matt 7:11: "And if ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father which is in heaven, give to those who ask Him?"

As he read those words, a car key dropped from the back of the Bible. It had a tag with the dealer's name, the same dealer who had the sports car he had desired. On the tag was the date of his graduation, and the words... PAID IN FULL. How many times do we miss God's blessings because they are not packaged as we expected

MEET BRIGITTE NOËL

Liberal candidate for Gagetown-Pettitcodiac riding

Those who know me will tell you things like "She's tough...she's high-spirited...she's passionate...she is 'real'." "I like to be known for all those things, but for those who don't know me yet, please let me introduce myself.

I am a fierce advocate for my community, our riding and our beautiful province. I am a nature lover who has photographed thousands of birds, wildlife, scenery and people. You will often see me with my camera slung around my neck. (That can be helpful sometimes when I am mistaken for media!) I have a sense of humour.

I am honest and outspoken. I don't mince words. What you hear from me, you can believe. I operate on the belief that when you understand people by their actions, you will never be fooled by their words.

Why run for political office, I am asked sometimes. My answer: because I know I can bring change to our riding. It's time for a change. And I have specific goals and projects that will succeed. I am sowing the seeds right now and I am so excited to see things already budding. I have good connections and for some reason, people 'higher up' than me like my ideas and are offering their support.

I am a positive person. I don't like to be negative. Rarely will I speak against my competition, but if and when I discover corruption or foul play, my claws come out. I'm not here to compete, I'm here to complete. Complete good work already started....complete new projects that will benefit specific areas of the riding.. and complete the promise I have made to my family, friends and community to work hard and succeed.

People with goals succeed because they know where they are going. That's what a famous writer, Earl Nightingale said, and it fits me to a tee. I take action and I get things done.

I've done it through photography, with my work at Charlotte St. Arts Centre, at Nature NB, at the N.B. Filmmakers' Co-operative, with Elections Canada and Elections NB. I am a do-er. I don't just talk.

When we get closer to the election (September 24) I will release my official platform. You will see that I am working on real changes, real projects and with real supporters of my ideas.

When people say "we've tried that and it isn't working", I say, "You haven't tried Plan B. Plan Brigitte."

I am looking forward to meeting you and talking with you again. I will work hard to earn your support.

Brigitte

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR GRADUATION!

Let the caps fly and the celebrations begin... That's right it's almost time for the scholars you know to move their tassels from one side to another and look to the future. As you begin to receive graduation announcements in the mail and mark your calendars to attend ceremonies.

There is a lot of adventure to be had that awaits a recent high school graduate. Between saying goodbye to hometown friends and packing up for the college dorms, your grad could surely use a hearty congrats (and maybe even a few wise words.) Graduation isn't the end of a tough journey. It is the beginning of a beautiful one and your brilliant achievement today is remarkable. May all your dreams come true. Start each day believing in your dreams. Know without a doubt that you were made for great things. Graduation is an exciting time. It marks both an ending and a beginning; it's warm memories of the past and big dreams for the future.

You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. You are the one who'll decide where to go.

Isn't it funny how day by day it seems like nothing changes, but when you look back everything is different... Make the most of now.

Before you act, listen. Before you react, think. Before you spend, earn. Before you criticize, wait. Before you pray, forgive. Before you quit, try. For a future filled with happiness and your fondest dreams come true.

My wish for you is that this life becomes all that you want it to. Your dreams stay big, your worries stay small and that you never need to carry more than you can hold. There is a lot that awaits you. Congratulations graduate.

NEW FIRE BY-LAW

Salisbury Village Council has approved a new Fire By-Law (By-Law No. 48), which you can read in its entirety at www.salisburynb.ca (under the tab Inside Your Village Office (By-Laws)). The new Fire By-Law follows the direction of Provincial burning advisories/bans. The By-Law also outlines exactly what items can be burned and in what way; ie. in approved appliances only (open fires in the municipality are prohibited). Salisbury Fire Rescue reserves the right to order any fires that are not in compliance to be extinguished, and are authorized to issue tickets as they may deem necessary to enforce this By-Law.

EMERGENCY MEASURES EXERCISE

The Village Office will be closed on Wednesday, June 13 as the Municipality the participates in a province-wide Emergency Measures Organization training exercise called "Exercise Brunswick Alpha." It will be a full-response exercise to a mock disaster in order to test provincial and municipal emergency plans. The Village thanks you for your patience and understanding.

Salisbury Beautification Program- Spring 2018

What's coming for Summer 2018?

• 24 hanging flower baskets along Main Street, River Road and Douglas Street

• Marigolds on Main-On Friday, June 8 kindergarten students from Salisbury Elementary will be helping us plant marigolds on Main Street as part of the annual Day of Caring activities. All community members are welcome to join us at approximately 10:00 a.m.

• Bird, Bee, Butterfly (BBB) Garden and other flower/tree gardens-We hope you enjoy the new BBB garden which was planted last year on Main Street (in front of Home Hardware) and the existing flowerbed on the corner of Main Street and Fredericton Road. Both gardens will soon be in full bloom and will provide attractive curb appeal to pedestrians and motorists as well as create a habitat for bees, birds, and butterflies. Have you noticed the new tree garden planted in the green space next to the Elementary School? These trees and shrubs will soon leaf out and bloom as well.

• Street banners are coming this summer! Keep an eye out for our beautiful new street banners which will enhance and beautify our streets not only in the summer but all year long.

• Lion's Club Pancake Breakfast Fundraiser (June 16th)-We will be selling tickets on a hanging basket/planter from 7-10 a.m. Come along and support the Lions Club and our Beautification programs.

2018 Salisbury Beautification Tree Campaign

A wonderful way to honour, remember or commemorate a loved one or someone special, or to participate in beautifying our community.

Over the past two years we were able to plant over 20 mature trees along Main Street and Douglas Street. With Mother's Day and Father's Day right around the corner, this is a great time to think about ordering a tree! Families, friends or businesses may purchase or sponsor a memory or commemorative tree. The deadline for ordering a tree is June 30, 2018. Trees will be planted this summer and we will have a tree dedication ceremony in early fall.

If you would like more information about ordering/sponsoring a tree, please call Karen Stewart 372-9275 or email karenstewart0909@gmail.com

Keeping our properties neat and tidy, picking up garbage, weeding a flower garden, planting a tree, or hanging a flower basket are just a few things we can do to beautify our village.

We can all do our part to make Salisbury a more beautiful place to live, work, and visit!
