Special 20th Anniversary Display for Remembrance Day

Remembrance Day
November 11, 2018

The Petitcodiac War Museum will be open Nov. 11th, 2018 from 10:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. with over 5000 artifacts on display.

This year marks two special anniversary dates for the Petitcodiac War Museum. The 100th Anniversary of the end of World War I, 1914 -1918, and the 20th Anniversary of the Petitcodiac War Museum, 1998- 2018.

To mark this occasion, the War Museum is presenting a special display of a nurses uniform from 1918 and a Canadian Military medical uniform from 2018.

The uniform from 1918 is from a local woman who served as a nursing sister in WWI, in France, Belgium and England. Her name was Ina Lockhart and her home was in Petitcodiac. Her training took place at Harvard University.

Ina's experiences in WWI are very well documented in her numerous diaries, sketch books and letters. She had a brother, Frank, who was killed in WWI, as well as several very close friends, including Edith Cavell, who was also a nursing sister executed as a spy in 1915. Ina's return after the War was one of mixed emotions, happiness at returning home, but grief over the loss Include in the display is an "invalid" wheel chair from approximately 1918 and a current wheel chair.

Ina was very active in a lot of community organizations, her church and became a Life Member of Petitcodiac Legion Branch 41. Her memories, poetry and pictures presented in the Museum allow us a unique view of this time period.

The Museum is also very honored to

From the Editor

Am I the only one that can't believe that we are at November 2018 already?

Personally I am hoping we don't get snow until the middle of December, as there are so many things going on at this time of year; shopping, plays, parties, etc.

It is time change month, set your clocks one hour back on November 4th at 2:00AM. Looking forward to that extra hour of sleep.

The big thing for November is the Remembrance Day. Let us not forget what so many men and women sacrificed for our freedoms. Take time to honor those who have dedicated their lives for our freedom.

The Maritime Motorsports big event is November 17th, that is our 13th annual Induction Ceremony, in Truro, NS. There are still tickets available.

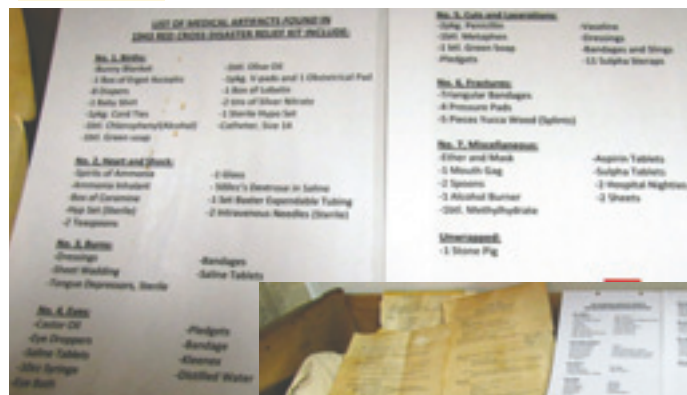

Did you know that November is "Huntington's" awareness month? The Huntington Society of Canada is an organization searching to find new treatments and ultimately a cure for the disease, also to improve the quality of life for the people who have it and their families. Huntington is a hereditary disease. Make Halloween a Happy one!

1943 Red Cross Disaster Relief Kit

The large Union Jack Flag is from the community of Elgin and was hand sewn by the ladies of Elgin. It was used in the Victory parade at the end of WWI.... 1918 ....the War to end all Wars... and flown to welcome the men and boys of Elgin and surrounding areas back home. The story of this artifact is it is made of dyed sugar and flour sacks.

A Cuppa' Tea

Gloria J. Scribner

While going thro' some memorabilia of my mother's I came across 3 ration cards from World War II. Living in London during the "Blitz" meant many inconveniences, including having had the windows of her home blown out when a house across the street took a direct hit. It meant rationed food of every kind, of which sugar, eggs and tea were real treasures and frugally used. Living in a flat below that of her elderly 'in-laws' parents; mother was pregnant and already had a 2 year old, and her husband was flying for the Royal Navy. Rationing was taken in stride and one can imagine the inconvenience of tea shortage to a London home. Imagine how we'd cope without our coffee.

My mother, when discussing rationing however, treasures the memory of the old English 'Grand-Dad' sneaking down the stairs one day with an egg custard for her and telling her, "you need this more than Gran and I do". Because she was expecting, he delivered it with loving trepidation and orders not to tell Gran he was giving away those precious eggs.

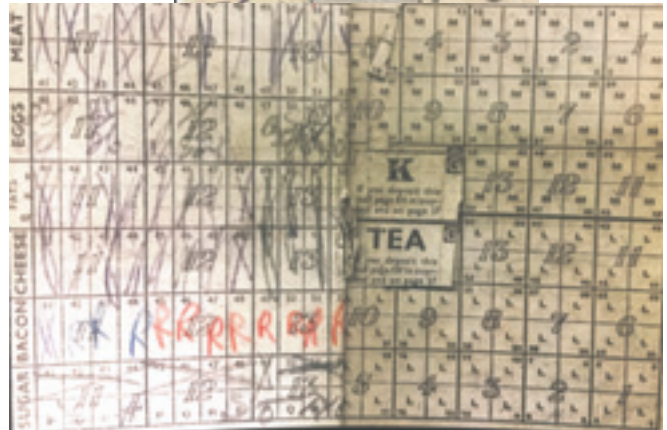

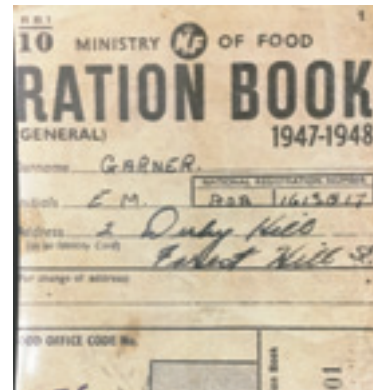

War-time with its fears, challenges and unknown "tomorrows that may never come" inspired its own brand of generosity as the English people resigned to "keep on keeping on" and did just that. A ritual that endured even through the traumas of body-lined streets, make-shift hospitals and ancient masonry tumbling all around was the tea-time, where 'Brits' happened to pause to contemplate, weep with one another, or inspire courage. The arm around the shoulders of another was accompanied by a cup of tea.

In today's illustrious gourmet world of coffee shops, imported teas and every competitive palate-teaser imaginable we seldom pause long enough to taste a simple, friendly cup of tea served in a china cup at 4:00 p.m. on any given day, just because it's 'tea-time'. My own grandmother taught me years ago that to make a proper cup of tea you used 1 spoonful of loose tea for each cup of boiled water and 1 spoonful for the pot. Steep it and then put the milk in the cup first. I prefer my cup of tea with a slice of home-made bread and molasses.

Speaking of tea, I remember my old grand-father making the tea after he became a widower. My husband and I were awakened each morning to the rich aroma of a metal tea pot of orange thick tea boiling like crazy over the fire on the wood stove. We grew to love that tea as much as the old 87 year old hands that prepared it.

The first words often spoken at the gatherings of friends or neighbours were, "How do you take your tea?" When I was a youngster we had tea parties on little chairs with our dolls. Men with moustaches drank their tea from their saucers if they had no moustache cup and the more genteel of both sexes drank with their 'pinky' up.

How times change the way we do things. We rush thro' Timmy's with our cardboard cups and plastic water bottles always at hand, but seldom take the time to value the essence of a cup of tea in a china cup. Perhaps if it were rationed, like anything in scarce supply, we would once again treasure the sharing of a good cuppa' tea.

ELGIN NEWS!

IT TAKES A COMMUNITY!

Once again, our major fundraiser for the WI was a success because of the many who helped to make the annual TURKEY SUPPER happen. We appreciate those in our community who donated food, money and time. After a great crew on Friday night to help with preparing vegetables another group of volunteers appeared on Saturday to prepare, serve and clean up. To those who have been volunteering for many years and to those who volunteered for the first time a huge heartfelt THANK YOU. We also want to express our appreciation to those who attended - many were seated in the dining room while a good number opted for take-out. Volunteers play a very, very important part in the life of any community but especially in the rural areas. This is true in Elgin and all our surrounding communities. Without volunteers many of the programs and services would not exist. Think of those who benefit from the services that are provided by organizations whose success is due to faithful volunteers. It goes without saying that those who volunteer usually feel that they are the ones who benefit the most because they have been able to make a difference. All volunteers have so much to offer with their new ideas and creativity. Consider the churches, fire departments and service clubs. Here is a fact that I read some time ago. "A small minority of Canadians do most of the volunteering - a full 73% of all volunteer hours come from only 7% of Canadians."

While activities at The Hall are winding down for the winter months, we will continue our monthly meetings at The Maple Tree Café at 7 pm on the third Thursday of each month. Our special guest at the October meeting demonstrated the art of spinning and weaving the natural fibres of sheep's wool. Our Branch will be laying a wreath at the cenotaph on Remembrance Day and we are already making plans for our Christmas party in December. Happy Autumn and Happy Volunteering.

Do you know what is going on in our schools?
Are you interested in the laws and policies being passed by the government?

The Elgin Eco Association pulled it off again. Not to boast about our accomplishments but having 164 mountain bikers show up to race in Atlantic Canada's premier race on Thanksgiving Weekend is an accomplishment. Many people in the village helped wherever they could on the day of the race. Many helped with the special award dinner. We talk about the dinner because the bikers enjoy this dinner tremendously. Scant compensation for their efforts on the long trails. Before all this can take place much work is done during the summer, trails are built, marked, cleaned checked and of course tried out. Tourist will come and pay to be able to bike on these beautiful trails. We like to thank everybody that participated to make this bike race success. Your volunteer hours have not gone unnoticed. A community that works so hard together benefits greatly. We can see it all around us. Thank you, volunteers it cannot be done without you. Eric Goggin also made a short drone video of the race available on You Tube.

We like to encourage people to walk the Mapleton Acadian Forest Trail. It is stunning. It might be less stunning by the time the News and Views lands in your mailbox. However, it is still worth hiking the trail any time of the year.

The EEA was presented with a $2000 grant from the Fundy Ultra Circuit on October 13 during the Fundy Bike Fest for more trail building. Thank you guys! Fundy Circuit Ultra presented by Outdoor Elements

In November we will finish the maple Sugar Camp in the Nature preserve. We look forward working with our members and volunteers on a nice day. If you are interested in helping, especially if you like to work with hammer and nails please contact us. 756 2518

Our next meeting will be on November 1 at 7pm in the Maple tree Cafe

Dear Readers of the Albert Co, Riding

Dear readers of the News and Views. The election is over. The province is in turmoil. The green party did not win in Albert riding. I would like to thank everybody for participating in voting. Running in an election was an adventure few get to experience. A wild expensive ride could be another explanation. It was a great learning experience. Not everything is as it seems. If ever I get the chance again to be part of an election process, I would like to see a debate among the candidates. Never was there a chance for challenging the other candidates. This is an important part for deciding your vote. I want to thank everybody that has supported me before and during the election. I will never forget the many kind and caring people I have met on the campaign trail. Your unwavering commitment to the place we live on.

Our earth. Without her we would not be here. We have to keep reminding ourselves that she is the only thing that can sustain us. I believe the green people understand this. Our vision is not about the next 4 years, but about the next generations. I hope you will continue your support for the Green Party and help us grow. We need you. A special thank you to the Green team in Fredericton and in Albert Riding. You are a very special group of people who have been an amazing support throughout the campaign. I could not have done this without you.

Thank You

A Healthy Lifestyle Adds 12 to 14 years of Life

What results in good health and longevity? I've said for years that it's good genes, good lifestyle and good luck. But since we can't choose our parents, or know what fate holds in store for us, we must treat lifestyle with tender, loving care. Now, a report in the publication, Circulation, proves that a sound lifestyle adds 12 to 14 more years to life.

Two epidemiological studies of health professionals involved 120,000 men and women. This group was followed for 34 years. The study concluded that for people over 50 who had never smoked, exercised daily, had good dietary habits, a moderate use of alcohol, and maintained a healthy weight, ended up the winners.

The rewards are significant. For instance, a woman, aged 50, who follows these lifestyle rules can expect to live to 93 years. This compares to a woman who indulges in an unhealthy lifestyle and dies at 79. In men, the increase in longevity from a healthy lifestyle is from 76 to 88 years.

Who lives the longest also depends on where they're born. A study in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition found that foreign born blacks, particularly those from the Caribbean and Africa, tend to eat a more healthy diet than those born in the U.S. They consumed more fruits, vegetables, omega -3 fatty acids and fiber.

In the general population, the U.S. spends more money on health care than any other country. So why are so many people in North America suffering from ill health? It is quite apparent from this report that the epidemic of obesity, type 2 diabetes and heart attack will continue to be the big killers. At the moment there is little evidence this battle is being won.

But a study that followed both staff and students at the University of Liverpool, England, shows it's not an impossible dream.

In its first experiment, female diners were randomly divided to receive either a small or large quiche for lunch. The next day, the same group were all allowed to serve themselves any portion they desired. Researchers discovered the ones who had been served the smaller portion, tended to choose the smaller portion. A second experiment tested male diners and it produced the same result.

In the third experiment both sexes were included, but it was done one week later. This time diners were asked to look at various photos of portion size and asked which looked normal. Those who were previously given the smaller portions considered the smaller ones normal.

These studies showed that it is possible to shift people from what they think is a normal portion to what is actually the proper amount to eat. And that the perception of what is normal lasts at least to one week later.

For the last 40 years I've had the good fortune to be able to write many of my columns in the Finger Lakes area of upper New York State. I've enjoyed many of the local restaurants. But it's very apparent that food portions there are much larger than in Canada. This is not likely to change. But families in both countries can be persuaded to change their perception of normal portions.

It's not only how much is on the plate, but also what's on the plate. For instance, starting with breakfast there's generally too much sugar and not enough fiber. I've written facetiously that it would be safer for children to eat the cereal box than the contents that are half sugar.

So, consider adding a high fiber apple to your daily menu. After all, how many of those who enjoy an apple, ask for a second one? That's because fiber has a filling effect and decreases the hunger reflex.

Remember, a voyage of a thousand miles begins with the first step. The same philosophy applies to longevity. So, gradually incorporate one thing at a time into your lifestyle. Don't forget the importance of smaller portions, add more fruits and vegetables, buy a pedometer to check the number of steps taken each day, and to measure your progress, step on the scale every day.

Rural Rides a Member of WA Transpo

Access to Transportation Essential for Independence.

Do you own and drive a car or live with someone who does? Have you ever considered how your life would be different if you can no longer drive or you no longer had access to a vehicle? Ask yourself, "How do I get to doctor's appointments, the grocery store, the bank, other life needs or even to social events without a car?" Think about all the places you drive to in the run of a month and consider how great a burden it would be to have to find someone to drive you to all those places. Would you be able to continue to live where you do or would you need to move to an urban area with public transportation?

The reality is, many in our rural communities do not have access to transportation. There are many reasons this could be the case: maybe they simply cannot afford to own and operate a vehicle, maybe they are unable to drive because of physical or mental limitations, maybe they are widows whose husband always did the driving so they never got a license or maybe they have reached an age where it is no longer safe for them to be driving. Access to affordable transportation helps these residents live independently and stay in their homes and communities.

Rural Rides is part of the volunteer driving network, WA Transpo, that matches volunteer drivers with people who need transportation. Rural Rides recruits and screens volunteer drivers who use their own vehicles to pick up clients and take them to appointments or wherever they need to go and then returns them to their home when they are done. Drivers are reimbursed $.35/km.

Volunteer driving programs are springing up all over New Brunswick to help seniors and others without transportation remain in their homes and be independent for longer because they can access life sustaining needs as well as preventative health needs. In addition to helping with practical needs, volunteer driving programs help with emotional needs by preventing isolation. Imagine if you could not leave your home for weeks on end because you simply had no way to get anywhere. For many of our clients, the chance to get out and have a friendly chat with their driver has a greater impact on their overall well-being than simply getting to their doctor does.

If you or someone you know is struggling to find transportation, they can register for free as a client by calling 215-2100 or visiting our website at ruralridesnb.com.

We also always welcome new volunteer drivers to help keep the program running. If you would like to volunteer, please call Kelly at 215-2100

Let's talk coffee ! For many of us, it is a daily addiction. You just need that Java to exist. The varieties of coffees is almost mind boggling. You've got different varieties of espressos, your machos, lattes and cappuchinos which could almost pass for a slurpee. Well, listen up, there is apparently a coffee out there called kopi lawak. It has been reported that it sells for as much as 50 US dollars a kilogram! Ouch ! So, what's so special about this coffee, you ask? It actually has a lot to do with er... ah....the way it's processed. It originates in Indonesia where there is a small tree dwelling marsupial called a paradoxus that loves to feed on these coffee beans! Do you see the train coming yet? This marsupial eats the beans, which it later excretes fairly intact. Then, some poor blob has to poke through that animals doo-doo to gather the processed beans. With the price being so high and the way they were processed, me thinks I'll stick to my Nabob or Maxwell House. Keeping that in mind the next time you sip a coffee, you may ponder...ah, I wonder where these coffee beans have been? Could they also have traveled through a tunnel? No ifs ands or buts. Pun intended!

PEOPLE WHO LAUGH A LOT LIVE LONGER

Let's Eat Out at the Timberland

Have you ever started a project and then you are interrupted by a phone call, or a request from a child, or a letter in the mail, or an email that required immediate attention? That just happened to me; an on-the-phone visit from a grieving cousin. The conversation covered aloneness, finances, housing decisions and family connections. After I hung up, I began thinking of thankfulness-my cousin and I have much to be thankful for. I tried making a list of 10 things to be thankful for...it came easy and didn't take long. On that list is "that I live in such a beautiful part of the world", especially at this time of year.

Charley and I headed out for a drive to see the contrasts of the trees (and some appointments in Sussex) and we ended up at The Timberland Restaurant, owned by sisters Cathy MacIntyre and Patty Ackerman and their Mom. It has been in the family since 1975. This restaurant and motel is located at 12763 on Route 114, 7 minutes from Sussex (phone 433-2480). It had been on the main highway and business did slow down when the four-lane was open in 1997. But it had been used by people involved in natural gas exploration; by the construction workers of the highway for the three years of construction; and the employees of Potash Corp. However, when all this changed, the family decided to fight back, so they converted the coffee shop into a buffet room and business is booming again. This past summer a roadside sign was installed for the highway travellers showing Animal Land, and the Lumber Jack holding a hamburger. These landmarks are thanks to Winston Bronnum who also built the Giant Lobster in Shediac and the Jumbo the Elephant in St. Thomas, Ontario. We sat by the large window that was showcasing the colourful foliage. The décor was dark but well lit, blue and beige linens on the tables. We noticed that Pump House Craft Beer is on the menu. After we ordered, Vivian, our waitress, brought a basket of warm homemade rolls. These went perfectly with the Special of the Day Beef Stew- delicious with chunks of potato, carrot, turnip, cabbage and tender beef in flavourful gravy. My compliments went to Debbie, the cook. The perfect meal for a cool autumn day! Charlie enjoyed the hot hamburger sandwich with homemade fries. We just couldn't have dessert after such a filling meal but when we go back we will. Our bill came to $21.26 plus tax.

For sure we will go again for the Weekend Buffet every Saturday 4:30-7:30 and Sunday 4:00-7:30. Both buffets include homemade Chinese/Canadian delights. Vivian brought us a sample of the handmade chicken balls and they were very good. They also have a Sunday Brunch from 11 to 2. I like it when businesses have a goal and then stick to that goal. The Timberland is one of those businesses!

"It's our goal to provide quality and value in the Hospitality Industry whether you have put in a hard day's work or are travelling in the area enjoying the Fundy & Atlantic Coast Experience, celebrating a special occasion or simply treating yourself to a home cooked meal!"

From the Desk of Your ML

Ross Wetmore, Gagetown - Petitcodiac

Post-Election Commentary

At every opportunity, I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to the many people who supported me in the September 24th election.

My humble thanks to my family, campaign team and everyone who put signs on their lawns and supported our efforts in so many ways.

To everyone who made time to get out and vote in the election, thank you!

My fellow candidates deserve respect and gratitude also for their willingness to serve the people of Gagetown-Petitcodiac.

In the aftermath of every election, many remark "The people have spoken". Last month the people of New Brunswick spoke at the ballot box.

What is the message we should take from them?

- 28 of our 49 provincial ridings cast most of their votes for a party other than the governing Liberal Party.

- 22 ridings voted for our PC Party and 3 each for the Green Party and People's Alliance Party.

- The governing Liberals were rejected with a seat count of 21.

- No party won the 25 seats needed to be the majority.

The election results have placed us in a situation unseen in New Brunswick for almost one hundred years. We will not have a majority government, but rather a minority government with all the challenges and opportunities brought along with it.

Cooperation, negotiation and compromise will be necessities if we are to be successful. The kind of cooperation that looks to share, but not to chain. The kind of negotiation that results in a win only for the people of our province. The kind of compromise that doesn't alter our goal, only the pathway.

When we examine the platforms of our PC Party, the Green Party and People's Alliance, we find an encouraging number of issues that we agree upon. Health care, government accountability and transparency, financial management and poverty reduction are some important areas where we can work together to get better results for the people of New Brunswick.

It has always been our PC goal to bring forward thoughtful, intelligent legislation that should be supported by the majority of elected members of the house.

During and since his leadership campaign, PC Leader Blaine Higgs repeated that he wants to do politics differently. This election has given him the mandate to do just that; to lead a government unlike anything witnessed in a century in our New Brunswick legislature.

I am looking forward to working with my colleagues of all political stripes to reduce wait times in health care, improve results in education and to begin the daunting task of placing our province back onto solid financial footing.

As always, I welcome your input and appreciate your encouragement.

Senior's In Elgin

News Release

Seniors in Elgin have the opportunity to participate in projects benefiting many in their community

October 15th, 2018 Elgin, New Brunswick
Employment and Social Development Canada

Seniors make significant and valuable contributions to their families, communities and society. The Government of Canada remains committed to empowering seniors across Canada so they can contribute to and share in the prosperity of the country.

The Elgin Eco Association has received financial support to conduct facility renovations to improve their seniors' programming, announced Alaina Lockhart, Member of Parliament for Fundy Royal, on behalf of the Honourable Filomena Tassi, Minister of Seniors.

The New Horizons for Seniors Program (NHSP) promotes positive aging by supporting seniors' volunteerism and encouraging seniors to play an active role in their communities. This innovative program enhances seniors' social well-being and enables them to maintain social ties and share their knowledge, skills and experience with others.

The Elgin Eco Association received $13,333 for their Elgin Eats program funded through the NHSP. The program will help many Canadians in the surround Elgin area. The Elgin Eats program gets seniors involved with the organization to mentor youth, help seniors prepare healthy meals, and socialize with their peers by creating a new meal cooking program and establish better eating habits. Seniors can attend weekly cooking classes lead by Samantha Christensen, the Program Facilitator and Coordinator for Elgin Eats.

Quotes

"The Government of Canada is helping seniors across the country stay engaged and active in their communities through the New Horizons for Seniors program. This program enables seniors to use their experience and energy to improve the quality of life for their neighbors, and for themselves. Our Government knows that when seniors are a meaningful part of society and play active roles in their communities, everyone benefits."

- The Honourable Filomena Tassi, Minister of Seniors

"Our seniors are such an important part of our communities and have so much to contribute. The Government of Canada is dedicated to supporting organizations who provide opportunities for Canadian seniors to get involved in community activities that meet their needs, reflect their interests, and tap their collective resources and experiences. I am so pleased that the Elgin Eco Association has received $13K in funding under the New Horizons for Seniors Program. Thanks to this funding Elgin Eats is connecting and strengthening the community of Elgin by providing programming that started off catering to seniors, and grew into connecting senior residents with the broader community."

Jordan Memorial Sanatorium - Days Gone By

Jordan Memorial Sanatorium, 747 Sanitorium Road "The Glades" NB c1930 Jordan Memorial Sanatorium built by James C. Jordan about 1900 and donated to New Brunswick by his widow in 1912.

In 1913, New Brunswick established its first Tuberculosis sanatorium in River Glade. Donated to the province in 1912 by Jeanette Jordan, the widow of James Jordan, the sanatorium had a staff of 80, including four doctors and 19 nurses, to care for up to 172 patients. Following the First World War, control of the facility was transferred to the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment for five years to take care of military personnel with TB. Management reverted to the province in 1923.

By 1938, the Canadian Public Health Journal reported there were 1,600 to 3,200 active TB cases in the province. In 1936 alone, 329 New Brunswickers died from the disease.

The sanatorium was a large facility, and each ward had four beds. The men stayed on one floor and the women on another. There were other buildings nearby where the doctors and nurses lived.

1948 marked the introduction of antimicrobials in treating tuberculosis in Canada. To the Canadian suffering from TB and to TB caregivers across the country, antimicrobials were a welcome sign of help, and a dream come true; but to the TB sanatorium, the end was in sight. Antimicrobial treatment--which shortened the duration of in-patient treatment--and a slow decline in the incidence of tuberculosis, led to a sudden surplus of beds in sanatoria and TB hospitals. Within 10 years after 1953, the number of beds had been halved, from 18,977 to 9,722.

In 1965, according to the provincial archives, Jordan Memorial began caring for geriatric patients and the remaining TB patients were transferred to the Saint John Tuberculosis Hospital. The facility became the Jordan Lifecare Centre, a licensed 50-bed nursing home, in 2001. The old building was torn down shortly before the centre opened and a new facility was built on the site of the old sanatorium. The only part of the former sanatorium remaining today is a building that used to house the laundry.

Husky - A Lasting Memorial

There is a long-standing saying - "Begin at the beginning, and go on until you come to the end - and then stop!" So it happened that a relatively new member to the Royal Canadian Legion Branch #41, Petitcodiac proposed to membership the concept of obtaining some type of display to Honor Veterans; those serving and those who have served. The year was 2011 and Murray Henry would chair the Committee. Shortly after August 2011, the then Minister of National Defense, Peter MacKay, sent a letter advising units, specifically a "Husky" would be available, also providing whom to contact.

work was by Kevin Murray.

Little did we think (perhaps never) that our request at this time, 2011, would not see reality on our site until October 2017! Committee workers constantly were keeping up with government requirements - registry with Controlled Goods and Services; assigning and Police security clearance a designated officer; change in information and personnel and even a change in Federal Government; a personal visit from Ottawa Public Works Department. At the same time we concerned ourselves with financial matters and matters for dedicating our Monument.

We completed an 8-page application

A meeting of committee; September 12, 2011, attended by Dennis MacNeil (now deceased) replaced by Ralph Baker, committee member Margaret Mechefske, the MLA Wally Stiles, and Harry Wheaton of Town Works, decided to "Proceed with the pad for Husky now" since our info said delivery was "Imminent".

Contact with Military Base Sussex (who had 2 displays on their site) provided us with blue prints for the cement pad. We also acknowledge donation of space in the Park by the Village of Petitcodiac; steel reinforcing by John Bos of Salisbury Home Hardware; cement by Quality Concrete, Moncton; supervision by Town Maintenance; the construction with Dept. of Veteran Affairs, in April of 2013, with regard to financial assistance for site and dedication costs for when the Husky arrives. Due to non-arrival by fiscal year end the application approval of $915.00 expired.

In 2013 we also wrote to the Provincial Government, through MLA Sherry Wilson where she obtained a donation of $1000.00 and presented it to Branch #41 for use in erection and dedication of our Husky.

Originally Husky, when ready, was to be shipped only to Base Gagetown. Moving it to our site was quoted at $450.00 plus cost of setting it on our pad, on the steel jacks. Lapse of time and with change of personnel and our persistence contributed to Government agreeing to deliver it right to our site at no cost to us! However cost did occur for setting it on the jacks.

Government appeared to encounter many problems with demilitarization of units for conversion to monuments. Our paper work indicates arrival immanent in 2012; Fall of 2013 (shipment spring 2014); then summer 2014; then paper work fails. May 2016 MP Alaina Lockhart advises she hears March 31, 2017 is demilitarization closing date.

She has the honor for "Best News Yet". Paperwork would still have to go to and be returned by USA State Department. Delivery to our site was October 2017. A plaque for placing on or in area of the Husky was prepared by Comrade Murray Henry and paid for by Branch #41, but seems it was to be replaced by a 2nd plaque, which has yet to be seen on site.

Letter copies are in our files over the six years, keeping the Legion officers, executive and members up to date with known information and requesting the renewing in meeting minutes their continued support of project "Husky".

No confirmation was received from the Legion of receiving this information. In light of so much time passage our Controlled Goods Certificate and our Designated Official Clearance through RCMP became date expired and had to be renewed. The Committee Chair Murray attended too and paid for each time.

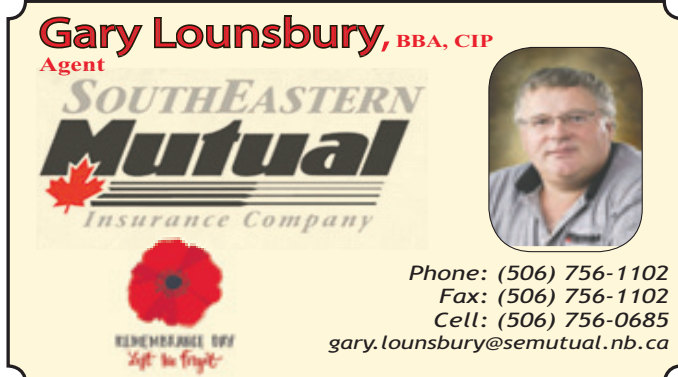

After the arrival of the Husky, we were unable to obtain a firm date for the dedication service, due too the age and health of the original committee members they had to resigned, the assignment was given over to the Branch to arrange the Dedication Ceremony as set in our Dominion Command Handbook. Concluding this article we - "The Husky Committee" collectively agrees - Time passes, We change, Things change, but for us one intent never changed - To stay the course through good and bad and see the Husky on our site.

Comrade Murray Henry says, "It was a tedious but extremely rewarding experience. I know no greater "Euphoria" than on the day of the Husky arrival on our site; right beside me" - "I could actually touch it!"

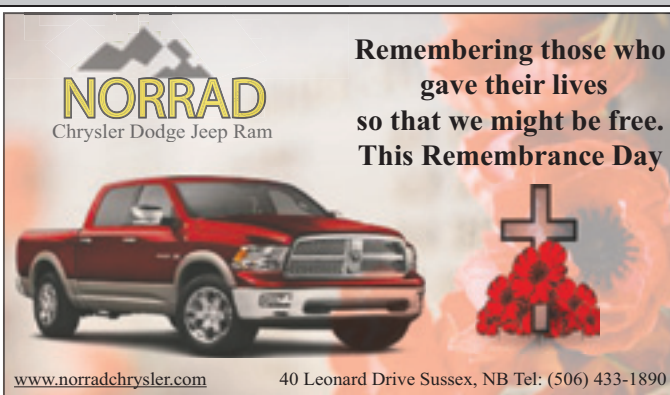

The publicity and promotional value of this War Memorial will out last all of us, so all should be informed of the history and significance, especially the previous use by the Canadian Armed Forces in Afghan War.

We express sincere apologies and regrets to any who assisted us or donated to us in this important exercise that were not notified of the Dedication Service on September 2, 2018. We will attempt to address these persons individually.

Communities in Bloom - 2018 National & International Edition
3 Blooms
Waterfowl Trail

STRATHCONA COUNTY, Alberta, September 29th, 2018 –

The Village of Petitedcodiac received a 3 Blooms rating and a special mention for Waterfowl Trail during the 2018 National/International Symposium and Awards Ceremonies in Strathcona County, Alberta. The Village of Petitedcodiac participated in the Up to 1,500 (non-competitive) population category.

Over the summer, trained volunteer judges travelled to participating communities to evaluate the overall contributions of municipal council and departments; industry; businesses and the private sector - including volunteer efforts - in regards to the following criteria: Tidiness, Environmental Action, Heritage Conservation, Urban Forestry, Landscape and Floral Displays.

Following their evaluation, volunteer judges Lucy Chang and Anne-Marie Parent wrote:

"After three years of public and private consultations, Petitedcodiac succeeded in establishing a nature trail named The Waterfowl Trail. A third of the trail is private property that has been granted public accessibility by the supportive landowner. The trail route is designed to showcase the abundance of wildlife along that stretch of green space."

A quick jog will take only thirty minutes but those who favour a longer slow stroll will likely encounter small mammals (e.g. weasels, voles) and large mammals (e.g. deer, red fox) and songbirds on the tree tops and hedgerows (composed mainly of native species) as well as kingfishers and swallows (maybe also beavers and muskrats) darting in and out of the rich riparian vegetation, and ducks, geese and herons wading around the water lilies floating on the water."

It is no wonder that not only the community, but visiting wildlife enthusiasts and amateur and wildlife photographers gravitate towards the natural green space that is home for so much wildlife."

Within the actual context of climate changes and environmental concerns, communities involved in the program can be proud of their efforts, which provide real and meaningful environmental solutions and benefit all of society.

To Know You Is To Remember Always

Gloria J. Scribner

I will remember you in the stillness of my darkest night when the moon hides far beyond the most ominous clouds.

I will remember you when morning comes and sunbeams dart and dance as tho' they're looking for some holy glimpse of an old friend.

I will remember you when clouds burst open and the cool, sharp rain refreshes field and hedgerow, and I will lift my face t'ward heaven and feel your kiss upon my cheek all warm and silver.

I will remember you when summer's scorching heat beats down upon me and my cheeks are flushed like crimson apples as I scurry underneath a shady aspen tree.

I will remember you when songbirds break the silence of another dawn and music ushers in a brand new day; of ups and downs, of heres and theres, of good and bad, of comings and goings, of you and I.

I will remember you from the vantage point of bended knees, on tiptoe-hand to heaven rejoicing, self-hugging heartache, or outstretched arms of welcome.

I will remember you at tables spread with bounty or with barrenness, with heart of overflowing or with emptiness, in my successes and my failures still I'll not forget.

I will remember you in eyes of little children; smiling, happy, innocent, in mother's tears and 'neath the furrowed brows of old men who have loved you long, and in hopeful eyes of poverty or contented contemplation.

I will remember you in the fragrance of illusive spring Mayflowers, the taste of ripe red strawberries in summer, in the silky softness of kittens and the protective prowess of our four-footed guardian.

I will remember you in footsteps in the sand, in fresh spring puddles and the spongy woodland moss that wraps itself around my feet.

I will remember you when I get up, when I lie down, when I laugh and when I cry
- OH Lord! Remember Me?! Amen

Mark Cullen is an expert

Time to get serious about protecting your garden investment. This is like making a deposit in your RRSP: do it now and reap the rewards later.

Put a wrap on your garden in November and you end up with a great looking garden come spring. Let us explain:

Lawn. The most important application of the year is right now. When you apply a slow release nitrogen, high potash formula like 12-0-18 to your lawn now, you beef up the root zone of the grass plants for better performance next spring. There are no short-term benefits in this. Your lawn won't spring to life and give you great joy this fall. Instead, your lawn will be much less susceptible to snow mould, mildew and more to the point, it will bounce back with vigor come spring.

RRSP For Your Garden

Clean the cutting deck of your lawn mower, spray oil on it and disconnect the spark plug. Add stabilizer in the gas tank or empty it.

Perennials. No winterizing necessary.
But this is your last chance to dig and divide all mature perennials and move the divisions around your garden. Or give them away.

Fruit trees. The deeper the snow, the more susceptible young fruit trees and crabapple trees are to rabbit and mice damage. Put a plastic, spiral collar on each tree until it is about five years old or has matured to about six centimetres in diameter measured from 20 cm above ground. A mature fruit tree has tough bark that does not interest hungry rodents.

Cedars, upright junipers and Yew hedges. Wrap in a layer of burlap to prevent wind damage from top to bottom. Secure with garden twine.
Wrap a second layer of burlap to prevent sun damage, which usually occurs in late winter/early spring when the sun reflects off the snow. Mark did not wrap a new yew hedge last winter in his garden and he had to look at burnt foliage all season. We learn from our mistakes (and laziness).

Mound roses. Many roses benefit from mounding soil about 60 cm up the main canes of the plant this time of year.
Fresh triple mix or garden soil insulates the green canes from the freeze/thaw cycles of the winter which can wreak havoc on hybrid teas, floribundas, grandifloras and miniature roses. Shrub roses and some of the new Pavement roses are winter hardy and do not need coddling.

Water Deeply. Wet roots are well winterized. The extremely dry winter air sucks moisture from more than your lips, it can dehydrate the root zone of your garden plants, especially those located under the protection of your roof soffit and eave. Let your garden hose drip water around each plant until you are certain that the root zone is well hydrated. Turn off your outdoor faucets from the indoor control.

Containers. Empty containers of existing soil by removing it to your garden. If you live in an apartment or condo give the soil to a friend who has a garden.
It is good stuff. Just not good enough to use again next year in a container.
Replace with quality container mix in the spring. In the mean time, turn each pot up side down to avoid cracking in the cold winter or find an enclosed place to store them.

Leaves. We don't rake leaves into craft paper bags and put them out to the curb for the city to take away anymore.
Now, we rake leaves onto our garden and let the worms take them down into the subsoil where they are converted into nitrogen-rich earth worm castings. If you have a lot of leaves, run your lawn mower over them at its' highest setting and rake excess mulched leaves onto the garden. If you have a big garden, steal the leaves that your old-fashioned neighbours put out for the municipality to pick up. They will never notice and if they do, they won't care.

Bring in your garden hose and any garden statuary and bird baths that might risk cracking in the frost.

Done.
