From the Editor

JUNE - the month for Graduations and Weddings, but again this year it will all be done under new rules. There will likely be more outside celebrations, but whatever it is make it special.

June is a month where so many lives are changed. It is the time when you step from one level of your lifetime to a more advanced level. A time of mixed emotions of moving on from some of your friends, but on the other hand the joy of your accomplishments. Congratulations to one and all as you make plans for your future.

The motor sports world is still working on plans for the summer, however, as things change regularly it will be wise to check the venue before travelling to the planned event.

June 4th is National Cheese and Donut Day, so enjoy.

Remember Father on June 20th with outdoor BBQ's. Lobster is a favorite with our family, and of coarse steak.

I have been waiting impatiently to plant my little garden. This year more people will be planting a garden for something to do, I hope you all have a happy gardening experience and lots of good food.

June is ALS, Spina Bifida and Stroke Awareness month.

Do you remember the song "The Bear Went Over The Mountain, To See What He Could See," well we get up every morning hoping to see the other side of Covid.

May your June be everything you are hoping for.

Your editor, Winona McLean

April showers have given way to warmer days in May and now June is upon us. Like many of you, we have been busy preparing for planting. Throughout the month of May we received a huge response to our request for donations for our 2nd Annual Plant sale, with over 500 plants donated and potted! Thank you to everyone for your donations!

Over the past month, response to the garden beds available at the Community Garden has been fantastic. For those of you have reserved your spot, tilling will take place very soon, with updates provided on our Facebook page. If you have yet to reserve your spot, there is still time to join in on the fun and satisfaction of growing your own garden. There are two 10' x 40' ground level plots and two accessible raised beds remaining. These gardening options are available no cost, with the exception of a $10 key fee that will be refunded when you return your key at the end of the season. To reserve your plot, please stop by the Petitcodiac Village Office by June 15, to reserve your spot and get your keys.

In May, Village Council approved our request to plant a Butterfly and Pollination Garden in Veterans Memorial Park. In addition to bringing a beautiful addition to the park, both butterflies and bees are important pollinators and important for the health and beauty of all of our gardens.

For the latest news and upcoming events, join our Facebook pages Petitcodiac and Area Garden Club.

For more information on any of our activities or to join our team of volunteers, call Cathy Drury 756-2068 or Karen Hall-Middleton 756-8824.

Common Sense Health - W. Gifford-Jones and Diana Gifford-Jones

How to Make Takeout Meals Healthy

Eating takeout meals can be a way of life, often driven by the necessity for fast, convenient food. During the pandemic, enthusiasts for restaurant dining have created a surge in demand for takeout meals. Unfortunately, fast food outlets have never been beacons of nutritional value. But have times changed? With the plethora of new home meal delivery services and more conscious consumers, is it possible to eat healthy delivery or pickup meals?

Here are three tips.

First, watch out for sugar and salt. Today, most sodium consumed is from added salt during commercial food processing. Fastfood outlets often use high levels of salt. Restaurants also tend to use excess salt. One study by Tufts University found that a single full-service meal contained more than twice the daily recommendation of 2,300 milligrams of sodium.

Sodium is found in soups, bread, processed meats, sauces and dressings. So, look carefully at the menu and enquire about low sodium options. Even if it is not offered on the menu, ask if you can swap French fries for a healthy fruit cup or cottage cheese.

Processed meat such as pepperoni, bacon, sausage, deli turkey and ham have been linked to cancer, heart disease, stroke, diabetes, and premature death. So, always think of moderation when choosing these foods.

Try to order seafood and poultry, looking for dishes that are baked, broiled, grilled, and steamed, rather than ones that are deep fried, breaded and served with butter and cream sauce.

Avoiding meat altogether is an option. Instead, select from minimally processed plant foods, such as fruits, vegetables, nuts, seeds, and whole grains. The potassium in these foods helps to counter the effect of excessive amounts of sodium in other foods.

Go for high fiber bread, crackers, cereals and snacks, as fibre in the diet lowers the risk of cardiovascular disease, cancer, Type 2 diabetes and even constipation.

Avoid sugary drinks and enormous desserts that contribute little good to your health.

The second tip is to limit portion sizes. Tufts researchers show how difficult it is to limit calories. One study showed that some restaurant meals (even without the drinks, appetizers, or dessert) contained more calories than recommended for an entire day for an average adult!

Studies also show that when people are presented with more food than they require, they will eat it. Many restaurants are overly generous with serving sizes. So order half sizes, split a meal with someone else, or choose appetizers instead of an entrée. When ordering delivered meals involving large quantities of food, set aside a portion for a subsequent meal.

The third tip is to be careful about falling victim to the convenience of take-out and delivery. Instead of relying on services that bring food to you, make the effort to go to where healthier food options are available. For example, take the time to go for a walk to a take-out meal and get some much-needed outdoor refreshment. Have a picnic in a park.

Delivery services are wonderful, but they reinforce a sedentary lifestyle. Even the time spent standing while cooking in the kitchen is easily lost when a delivered meal becomes the ideal companion to the couch and more screen time.

Give it a try. Find a neighbourhood restaurant having healthy choices. Build time into your day for a walk to pick-up food. Take your own water bottle. Eat smaller portions while enjoying the scene in a nearby park. With the walk back home, you will feel satiated, refreshed, and healthier.

THE SPARROW'S NEST

Johnny Sparrow was sitting on a branch of the apple tree watching Robin Redbreast build a nest. Robin flew to get some hay and sticks to weave into the nest.

"My, that will be a sturdy nest," commented Johnny Sparrow.

Then the robin found feathers to line the nest. Robin Redbreast stood off to see what a fine building job he had done.

Johnny Sparrow said, "I envy you, Mr. Redbreast. Now you have a nest that is all your own."

Robin Redbreast turned to him and said, "Did you have a nest last year?"

"Oh, yes," said the sparrow, "but someone found it before I could get it again. I wonder how I could get one this year."

Robin asked, "Have you two wings?"

Johnny said, "Yes."

"Have you two legs and a bill?" asked Robin.

Johnny said, "Yes."

"Then build one for yourself!" said Robin, As he flew away for some more downy feathers.

"Dear me," said Johnny Sparrow, "I never Thought of that!"

Comedy at Large

by Laurie Blanchard Salisbury, NB

As the animals boarded Noah's ark two by two, a ground hog said to his partner ...I'm feeling somewhat uncomfortable taking mass transit !

In a book I was reading about a fisherman's adventures and misadventures, a lobster fisherman in Maine in the mid 30's, hired a 12 year old teenager to help him bait his lobster traps and offered to pay him $ 3.00. Back then, that was a lot of money for a young lad. The fisherman was a tall and strong man. The young lad took a piece of white chalk out of his jacket pocket, got down on his knees and drew a big circle on the warf as he said to the fisherman....I'll bet you I can put you in that circle! The reply to the boy was....oh yeah, you and who's army? The lad got down on his knees again and with his white chalk, drew the letter U in the middle of the circle! Old Henry a retired fishing captain was sitting down on a barrel next to the fish shack and almost wet his pants laughing!

A lady asked her husbandHoney, did you see the dog bowl? His reply....oh ! I didn't know he could. So, if he gets a gutter ball, does he growl RUFF ?

Time for some sarcasm --

The commercial O.K. Tire reads ...SERVICE-REPAIR-TIRES . It's gonna be ok ! It will be ok, as long as you pay your bill or you don't get your ride back ! End of story.

Old Fashioned Q and A

Mark Cullen is an expert gardener, author, broadcaster, tree advocate and Member of the Order of Canada. His son Ben is a fourth-generation urban gardener and graduate of University of Guelph and Dalhousie University in Halifax. Follow them at markcullen.com, @markcullengardening, and on Facebook.

It's early June, a time when gardening activity is at a fever pitch, we are here to help. Based on our experience, here are some of the most frequently asked gardening questions this time of year and our answers.

1. What can I plant in the shade? There are countless flowering plants and shrubs that thrive in shady locations. Hostas, yews and ferns are only three of our favourites. Without the space here to list them all, the best advice we can give you is to look at the labels and tags that come with most plants you buy. A lot of time and energy goes into this information. Often symbols are used to conserve space on the tag. Look for a half sun or a blacked in circle indicating a shade tolerant plant. An open image of sun indicates that it thrives in full sunshine.

2. How can I grow grass under a tree? You cannot. Well, you can if you commit yourself to an annual regimen of spreading triple mix over the root zone of the tree about four to five centimetres thick. Broadcast grass seed over the area either by hand or use a handheld seed spreader. Rake smooth and step on the mixture to bring the seed and soil in firm contact. Use a seed blend that is at least 60% red fescue. Water until established. Next spring, repeat.

Alternatively, plant a shade tolerant ground cover. Periwinkle (Vinca minor) and Lily-of-the-valley (Convallaria majalis) have been popular in the past, but they are discouraged as they are invasive. Instead, try Wild Geranium (Geranium maculatum) or Starry Solomon's Seal (Maianthemum stellatum) or Sweet Woodruff (Galium).

3. How much soil do I need to plant? We do not recommend black earth (turns to dust when dry) or topsoil (lacks natural nutrients) for planting. Instead use triple mix, equal parts peat, compost, and clean topsoil. For most trees, shrubs and evergreens use three to four times the volume of new soil to the volume of soil in the pot. A two-gallon pot will require at least 8 to 10 gallons of new soil. Dig the hole two to three times wider than deep as most plants root laterally vs. vertically. Push new soil around the roots of new plants using the heel of your foot. Water deeply within an hour or so of planting. Continue to water as the soil dries to about five centimetres deep. Plant high, allowing the water to drain away

ELGIN NEWS!

As I sit down to the computer to write this article for the News & Views monthly paper, it is a beautiful day outside with the grass growing, perennials thriving, gardens being prepared for flowers and vegetables, and trees and shrubs exploding with green foliage. Such growing beauty around us to give us hope in these Covid times! We are wishing for an end to the stresses and sadness of coping but perhaps we do see the light at the end of the tunnel. The members of the Elgin WI have been busy readying The Hall for a good season ahead. We have done a major spring cleaning with still more to be done as we start programs that we hope the citizens of Elgin and surrounding areas will enjoy and participate in. Our gardening event of May 29 will have taken place at the time you are reading this but there are more interesting and varied events coming up. You will notice an advertisement in this paper for a soap making event on June 19. This class is open to everyone but spaces are limited so please contact our instructor at 756-8247 for more information and speak for your seat. This Soap making 101 - Cold Process Soap Making is free of charge.

July is booked for a great class on Food Preservation (canning, freezing, pickling, etc) so be watching for more details in the next issues.

June is a very significant month for our branch. We were formed in June of 1911 making us 110 years old this year. Elgin was the third branch formed in New Brunswick. A group of committed women travelled to many rural areas in the province to encourage women to consider the benefits of having an organization where they could talk about the issues concerning them, and many did. Elgin has remained committed to improving the quality of life for rural families. Our Elgin branch is delighted and encouraged to see our membership grow significantly in recent months. Better together!

For Home & Country!

The EEA likes to thank all the people that responded to our request for donations for a new playground in our Elgin Eco Park. This gave us an incredible boost of confidence that we might reach our goal. We are doing very well and the government will match what we are able to raise. The fundraiser will be on going. We to date have raised $ 4777. We publish our donors on facebook once a week. All donors will have their name on a donor wall once the structure is placed. The collection of bottles for refund is also a boost to the total. If you like to make a donation to this worthy cause you can do this via e transfer or PayPal to elgineco@gmail.com or cheque to Elgin Eco Assoc. 55 Stewart road Elgin NB E4Z2J8. Receipts will be send upon request. Thank you all so much for your continued support.

After our June meeting we will start registrations for our summer camp. It will still be a bit different with the Covid restrictions still in place. Just a heads up, children ages 9 to 14 can participate.

This year we were very lucky with the hiring of two summer students. This will help a lot with keeping all our trails, the preserve and the park in tip top shape. Soon a load of mulch will be spread on the garden beds. The garden boxes are available for anyone that like to grow something but does not have their own garden.

The biggest project this summer is the playground and hopefully we will be able to build sooner rather than later. We wish everybody a fantastic summer and hopefully we will be able to go and see some family members.

That Tree

It has been standing there, rooted in that same spot. She is beautiful during any season of the year. She is a large apple tree with a massive trunk. When I spoke ten years ago to someone who was eighty years old, he mentioned that this tree was big when he was a little boy. How old this tree is, we don't know, but we are sure, she is pushing the century mark. It might not be so significant for a tree to be a century old, you might think. However this tree was planted by someone to produce food. Food for winter. Yes, she produces apples. These apples carry the name of Bethel. An old variety. They are winter apple variety you can store during the winter. When I say she is big, large, tall all this is true. She is so tall, when you have a 24 foot ladder, you can not reach her upper branches. Her trunk circumference you can not reach touching your fingers, if you tried to put your arms around her. Large, really points to her massive canopy. Spread out in an almost perfect circle around her. The tree stands close to a brook. She has weathered all types of weather through out her lifetime.

The tree still looks young and healthy. She is strong. She is strong enough to hold three bear cubs on her branches. Mama bear brings her cubs each fall to devour the bounty of delicious apples. People do enjoy her large old variety apples. Again this year, I know she will be blossoming with the thousands of white pink blossoms. The bees will be buzzing for days to enjoy this bounty. People will enjoy the look. After the blossoms the apples will form. During the summer she functions as a shade tree and a great tree for birds that will use her as a nesting site. In the fall there will yet be another bounty of apples. Just like she has done for the many decades of her long life. She has seen seasons come and seasons go. Many of her orchard tree companions have long since disappeared. Somehow she has survived. She survived all the turmoil of the past century and still standing strong. Not much attention is being paid to her anymore. Sort of a forgotten old tree she is. Still standing in the same spot she was planted, around a hundred years ago.

From the Desk of Your MLA

Ross Wetmore, Gagetown - Petitcodiac

Across our province there is a growing excitement for graduation.

The Class of 2021 will be our second graduating class in the face of the COVID pandemic.

Their final year marked a strange end to a journey through our education system that, for many of them, began in 2008.

Remember 2008?

2008 began with a stock market plunge amid fears of a recession.

Google chrome was introduced that year, Android was first released, SpaceX became the first privately developed space launch to achieve orbit of our planet and Barack Obama became the first African American president.

Our 2021 grads have been part of an exciting and challenging time in our history. The class of '21 have seen changes and advances in health care technology moving at miraculous speed.

They have watched world events like Brexit, President Trump, #Black Lives Matter, the bombing of the Boston marathon, and horrifying gun violence against school children in events like Sandy Hook.

They watched the terrible Fort McMurray wildfires and the touching and inspiring efforts of all Canadians to help however possible.

And they have watched it all on the tiny little small screens of handheld devices and on gigantic home theatre big screens.

Suffice to say the class of 2021 have observed a fantastic and frightening world and they have observed it via technology that we might never have imagined (except on Star Trek).

I thought it might be interesting to look back and see what was happening in the grad year of the last class of '21... 1921.

In 1921 The Communist Party of China was founded. They've come quite a way.

That same year Adolph Hitler became Fuhrer of the Nazi party in Germany.

Insulin was introduced by Banting and Best at the University of Toronto.

The Tulsa race massacre occurred in Greenwood District, Tulsa Oklahoma.

That same year, 29-year-old Bessie Coleman of Texas became the first black person to earn an international pilot's license.

The first BCG vaccination against tuberculosis is given in Paris, France.

The same year a study of Saskatchewan school children discovers that 56% of them are infected by tuberculosis.

Fast forward to 2021 and so far in their grad year, this year's class have watched on as supporters of President Trump attacked the United States capital, they are watching our vaccination efforts against COVID.

As of this writing, The United States and China have both landed unmanned spacecraft on Mars this year and the United Arab Emirates have successfully placed their first spacecraft in the orbit of Mars. For the record the Soviet Union have also been landing craft on Mars for years. We could forgive the class of 2021 for watching on and believing there is no way this all ends well for Mars.

Back on Earth, this year's graduation ceremonies will be subdued in comparison to years past and some celebrations will have to wait.

We are living in fascinating times and I truly wish all the best to our grads, with their heads full of knowledge and hearts full of hopes and dreams. They will do great things, count on it.

Go Class of '21!

from the new plant. It will settle.

4. What is the best weed control? Weeds outcompete most any plant that you put in your garden. Left uncontrolled they choke desirable plants out of existence and rob them of moisture and nutrients. Our #1 choice for suppressing weeds (note that we did not say eliminating them) is natural bark mulch spread about 5 to 7 centimetres thick. We prefer natural cedar or pine bark mulch to the coloured options as they are just died wood chips. As bark breaks down over the years it adds beneficial nutrients to the soil. Wood chips rob soil of nitrogen and can make some plants hungry.

We do not recommend weed barrier cloth, or landscape fabric. The idea that polyester spun material suppresses weeds is a myth. When weed roots become entangled in it, the only thing it suppresses is our desire to garden. It is useful under patio slabs and interlocking brick but even there it is not a panacea to a weed free existence.

The best advice we can give you for weed control is a sharp weeding hoe, used early in the season before young weeds get a strong root down. Once you find your rhythm at this job you might learn to really like it, as we do.

The Pantry Community Food Hub is currently accepting applications for farmers, homesteaders, and food producers to sell their products in the shop. The not-for-profit initiative aims to connect consumers with the farmers who grow their food and to provide education on topics such as growing, processing, and preserving food. The Pantry Food Hub promotes supporting the local agricultural industry and encourages growing food, self-sufficiency, and healthy eating.

Growers do not need to be established or professional farmers. The goal of the food hub is to promote growing food and paying food growers fair wages. We are including growers at all stages of business development from beginners and hobbyists to well-established professionals.

The Pantry Food Hub is also encouraging gardeners to grow an extra plant or two for donations. Donated food will be sold in the bargain market, which will offer healthy food at a reduced cost for everyone in Petitcodiac and all surrounding communities. The Pantry Food Hub strives to improve and support healthy lifestyles within the community, and for everyone to enjoy local and freshly harvested fruits and vegetables.

The Food Hub will also focus on environmentally sustainable farming practices including growing organic, composting, and strategies to reduce household food waste.

Applications are available by writing to info@pantryfoodhub.com

The Food Hub will be opening this summer in the former Ten Thousand Villages building at 55 Main Street, Petitcodiac.

Victory Garden Dedication

On May 5th, members of the Petitcodiac and Area Garden Club and local residents gathered at Veterans' Park on Main Street in Petitcodiac at a ceremony to dedicate the Victory Garden. When the Garden Club began working on this project in early 2020, little did we know that the pandemic would force the cancellation until this year.

May 5th, 2020 marked the 75th anniversary of the liberation of the Netherlands. The liberation from September 1944 to May 1945, played a key role in the culmination of the Second World War, as the Allied forces closed in on Germany from all sides. The First Canadian Army played a major role in the liberation of the Dutch people who had suffered terrible hunger and hardship under the increasingly desperate German occupiers. The Canadians were greeted as heroes as they liberated small towns and major cities, including Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague. Millions of Dutch had suffered terribly during the harsh "hunger winter" of 1945, and Canadian troops facilitated the arrival of food, fuel and other aid supplies to a population in the midst of starvation.

More than 7,600 Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen died fighting in the Netherlands. Today, Canada is still fondly remembered by the Dutch for ending their oppression under the Nazis.

Following the end of the Second World War in 1945, Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, presented Canada with 100,000 tulip bulbs as a gesture of gratitude. Since then, the tulip has become a symbol to represent the friendship between the Netherlands and Canada. In 1953, Canada decided to start a tulip festival and so in Ottawa every May the Annual Tulip Festival is held which has grown to be the largest tulip festival in the world. The Netherlands still sends Canada 20,000 tulips every year.

Those who addressed the group were Charlene McCully, President of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch # 41 in Petitcodiac, Wayne Chambers, President of the Kiwanis Club and Gerald Gogan, Mayor of the Village of Petitcodiac, all financial contributors to this project. Also, Cathy Drury from the War Museum and Dan Pollock shared with us some letters written in May of 1945 from soldiers overseas. Some of the local residents who attended are of Dutch descent and remember well the hardships endured and the great joy when the Canadian "heroes" rolled into town. Their stories made this event even more special.

If you have not visited Veterans' Park in Petitcodiac, we encourage you to stop by and check out the Victory Garden as well as other points of interest with some new additions coming soon.

What is Safe Grad Night?

Grad Night parties have spread throughout Canada. These events are organized by committed groups of parents joining together with the support of the community to give their high school graduates safe, sober, and spectacular graduation celebrations.

Graduates experience a fantastic celebration without the use of alcohol or drugs.

Every graduate has a party to attend on graduation night.

All graduates are together to celebrate as a class—probably for the last time.

The two highest risk nights for high school students are prom and graduation nights. Peer pressure is highest on these two nights. The philosophy and ideals behind the Grad Night party are interlinked with providing an event that is safe, sober, and incredibly fun. More than "just a party," Grad Night is a commitment by parents to conduct a great, "once in a lifetime" extravaganza for graduating seniors. Grad Night is alcohol and drug free. It builds a spirit of togetherness among the graduates as they celebrate with old friends for one last time. A sense of community is developed as everyone works to keep the graduates entertained and safe on potentially the most dangerous night of their lives.

Schools Benefit

Increased parent awareness and participation in school-related activities such as athletic events, prom, and booster programs.

A closer bond between the graduating seniors and the school.

Stronger alumni support.

Continuation of a tradition that enhances the entire school community.

Parents Benefit

Parents know that their children are in a safe environment on potentially the most dangerous night of their lives.

Parents have the opportunity to get to know other parents who work on the party.

Grad Night celebrations can only succeed with the commitment of parents and the generous support of the community.

The most important thing in your life is to live your life with integrity and to not give into peer pressure to try to be something that you're not.

Graduates Benefit

Graduates will look back on this party as a very special night.

Have a fun and Safe Grad Night

By Gloria Scribner

The cat became a contortionist, determined to catch the furry black spider, bootin'er under the side board. "Good luck" cat, but she has 8 legs to your 4.

The lady bugs scoot around the window frame intent on going somewhere, they haven't quite figured out where yet. Panes of glass must be confusing to lady bugs.

Ants on the windowsill aren't confused by anything. They just gather up a "something" and hurry on their way, behind the baseboard must be an ant freeway. I really don't want to know.

In a week or so the "bombers" will hit the back door window. "June bugs", blinded by the light, and crash-landing onto the doorsill. Venturing out means turning off the porch light five minutes before leaving, and making a mad dash for the car. If you don't trip and break your neck on the way.

I wish my Uncle Jimmy were here, my cousins and I had such fun when we were six, putting June bugs under the lining of his bowler hat. He nearly had a heart attack when he put it on his head again (uncle Jimmy's bald head did not appreciate lady bugs either).

When I worked at the Jordan Home years ago I remember a co-worker relating to us in her Newfoundland brogue (not omitting the expletives) her reaction after arriving in New Brunswick and having her first encounter with June bugs. I can't repeat her exclamation, but believe me she had never seen anything in her native province to equal our June bugs. Moose don't count.

The human mind is a strange thing. As a child I remember picking potato bugs and plopping them into pails in Daddy's garden with nary a fear.

I remember shaking army worms off branches onto my cousin's head while slipping and sliding over more in my summer bare feet, and I remember catching fireflies in the cool dampness of a summer evening, to put in a bottle as a light for my bedroom window.

I recall holding and petting the soft orange and black fur of the fuzzy caterpillars that inched their way slowly along the verandah rail; and yes I remember plying night crawlers from the soft earth to bait my hook as my sister and I dreamed of trout bending our alder-poles. So why on earth do I almost have a stroke at the sight of a barn spider, or the soft touch of a gossamer web.

What do we leave behind us on our journey from child to adult (a strange “hood”, this adulthood).

While my grand-daughter likes to pet bumblebees and big furry orange and black spiders, I can live without them, thank you.

I must apologize in this age of inclusiveness, but I have and incurable hatred for ticks, mites, and four-eyed, fanged, eight legged beasties (God forgive me).

I remember the beautiful luna moth, 4 inches wide, resting on my daughter's chest as she lay screaming bloody murder, in bed beside an open window, no screens obviously. We gathered it up and released it out into the darkness and off it flew, as we put out the light. I suspect it was as terrified as she.

We found our little boy one summer's day trying to pick up what he thought was a bird's feather. It turned out to be a three inch long “great water beetle”. We put the shiny creature into a gallon jug and the kids took it to the brook and released it there, but not before it latched onto the cat's paw, when he tried to play with it.

As a child, I don't recall being afraid of insects per se, but being the wood-carrier of the family I did have a primal fear of “wood-bugs”. Those black creatures with long antennae that favoured wood-piles. This was I'm sure inspired by the shrieks of Mama the morning she felt something on the back of her neck. She asked me to check and see if there was something there. I took one look and “recoiling” in terror yelled, “It's a wood-bug!” I'd never seen Mama move so fast, as she screamed, “Get it off, get it off!!” I grabbed the longest weapon in sight and knocked it off with the broom before she stomped the poor creature to oblivion. I suspect that a storm of locusts over a grain-field never inspired such horror.

While flying insects become “food for the eagle”, I recall the nights on the third floor of the old Jordan Home, where we watched bats outside the window descending so quickly upon their prey as moths succumbed to their fate, beside the moonlit Pollett River. And life went on in the universe where night creatures live out entire lives in one moody summer season.

During my employ in the early 60's at Brown-Holder Biscuits in Moncton, I reluctantly became acquainted with “La Cucaracha”, the “Don” of the cookie crates. That was when an ageing Acadian machinist became the “Don Quixote” of the women's hearts. As “Alphie” came to our rescue he would remind us that cockroaches were not dirty insects but were only attracted by “sweet” things I don't know if he referred to us girls, or the cookies, but he definitely became our hero. “Alphie, I wish you were here in summer”.

Tractor Pulling Competitor

Woodstock, NB

Kevin has been active in motor sports for some 40 years. He has competed locally and internationally in tractor pulling, snowmobile and stockcar racing. He started competing in tractor pulling in 1976 with a stock farm tractor, a 26 Hp Cockshutt 40, at the young age of 13 in Woodstock, NB. He won that pull. The following weekend in Presque Isle Maine he won, but was disqualified for being underage. This began his career in tractor pulling. He has become one of the strongest competitors in tractor pulling in the region. After competing for several years with stock farm tractors, he started to build his own 10,000 pound Pro Stock Tractor, "Bad Kitty One"; it had a turbocharger 3208 Caterpillar V8 diesel engine. He has developed the tractor over the years by building "Bad Kitty Two and Three".

It would be very difficult to list all events and his placements.

In Memory of the late Stuart Thorne -
 On his Birthday June 16th and Father's Day, June 20th

Dear Dad,
 God looked around his garden
 and found an empty place.
 Then He looked down upon the earth,
 And saw your tired face.
 He put His arms around you,
 And lifted you to rest.
 God's garden must be beautiful,
 He only takes the best.
 He saw the road was getting rough,
 and the hills were hard to climb,
 so He closed your weary eyelids,
 and whispered, "Peace be thine".
 It broke our hearts to lose you.
 But you didn't go alone,
 for part of us went with you,
 the day God called you home.

Love, Kathy, Donnie, Lisa and Amy

June Morning

by Gloria Scribner

There's something quite awesome about a today
When sunrise comes early and chases away
Darkness and shadows and fears of the night
While horizons of maybes and hope are in sight
As a promise from somewhere, too old to recall Awakens self-conscious, illusions and all
As dreams take on colour, erasing the grey
And rainbows are waiting, just over the way
While sunshowers and diamond drops fall on my hair
And song birds and butterflies take to the air
Yes mornings in June seem to have quite a way
Of erasing the doldrums and chasing away
Old cobwebs of doubt, to replace them in kind
With blossoms of June, playing games with my mind
And God's in His springtime and I am in mine
And June is His love song, and roses are mine

COVID-19 - IMPACT ON VILLAGE OPERATIONS

All Village of Salisbury departments remain open for business, but due to the pandemic there are access restrictions in place to ensure physical distancing. Face masks are also mandated.

CANADA DAY TO BE CELEBRATED VIRTUALLY

In light of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, our "Salisbury Celebrates Canada Day" 2021 event, normally held in Highland Park, is CANCELLED. Instead, planning is underway to do what we did last year and celebrate together virtually; that is, online, in a way that will still allow us to join together and share our pride in being Canadian. Details to come!

SALISBURY COMMUNITY DAYS 2021...T-B-A

Due to the Corona virus and the necessity to continue with proactive practices of physical distancing and sanitization in the ongoing response to the pandemic, the format of Salisbury Community Days remains undecided if/when it happens. It was originally planned for August 19-22. The Salisbury Community Days Committee will keep you posted on the status of the 2021 event.

2021 Salisbury Beautification Tree Campaign

The gift of a tree is a wonderful way to honour or remember a loved one, to commemorate a special event such as an anniversary, birthday, or Mother's or Father's Day. Some families may choose to plant their own 'family' tree or local businesses may wish to participate by sponsoring a tree. Over the past four years, we have planted over 30 mature trees along Main Street and Douglas Street. The deadline for ordering a tree this year is July 4, 2020. Trees will be planted late summer and we will have a tree dedication event in early fall (depending on COVID 19 restrictions at that time).

If you would like more information about ordering a commemorative tree, please call Karen Stewart 372-9275 or email karenstewart0909@gmail.com

Marigolds on Main-On Friday, May 28th, Salisbury Beautification committee members will be planting marigolds on Main Street. Kindergarten students will be helping with the planting once again this year. Community members are also encouraged to join us. We will be meeting at 10:30 a.m. in the CIBC parking lot. Please bring a small digging tool, garden gloves and facemask (for self-distancing purposes).

Flower Bed Maintenance

Recently, several members gathered to prune the rose bushes and tidy up the flowerbeds along Main Street. We hope you enjoy the blooms, blossoms, and colour this spring and summer. Hanging flower baskets will be arriving within the next few weeks!!

Local Dentist Celebrated her 30th Birthday in Style

Local Dentist Dr. Dana Ahmad celebrated her 30th birthday in style on May 12, 2021. Her staff really wanted to make her day extra special and give her the recognition that she so deserved. At noon on her birthday she was treated to a birthday serenade as the kiddos from the neighboring day-care “Rising Star” gathered in the gazebo in the village park to sing “Happy birthday”. Thank you to the staff and owner, Jessica Smith, for helping to make this happen. Following this Dr. Dana was surprised to be escorted in style with a ride down the Main Street of Petitcodiac being pulled by a team of dogs! N.B. Urban Mushing Dog sled Adventures gave Dana quite a ride. Thank you to owner Doug Stoakley for being so accommodating in helping to organize this. It was so awesome to see so many local business people, friends and patients come out on the side walk to join in the celebration by wishing Dr. Dana a Happy Day! Many thanks to everyone for making this such a special day.
