Register for the 19th Annual Tour of Elgin Bike Races

On October 1st the Elgin Eco Association will be hosting our 19th Annual Tour of Elgin mountain bike marathon. This race is a huge fundraiser for the Elgin Eco Association (EEA) with proceeds going towards community programs such as the kids summer camp and maintenance on the park and skating rink. The Eco Association is run by dedicated volunteers of the community who, through ecotourism and local events, work to promote the Elgin area.

Cyclists will be converging on race day from all over Canada for the opportunity to pit their athletic ability against Elgin's magnificent terrain. Elgin is in the heart of the Southern Highlands of New Brunswick, and as locals know it's a region replete with beautiful views of rolling hills, fields, forest and the stunning Pollet River.

If you are up for what has been touted as "the toughest mountain bike race in Atlantic Canada". Go to sign up for the race on our raceroster.com page and maybe you could be one of the top 25 racers and win a coveted Tour of Elgin belt buckle. The climbs are awesome (some as high as 1100 feet), frequent, and riders can expect course levels to challenge all levels of mountain bike skills. If you don't think you're up for the 120km marathon why not try one of the 80km, 40km, or 20km distances? If those awesome climbs are a bit too impressive for you don't worry, there is also the e-bike 40km race.

If you've never raced before there's no reason not to give it a try. The Tour of Elgin takes place on a well-marked course that will cover different types of surfaces with limited pavement. It includes sections of double track trail, dirt roads, and lots of fast flowy single track. If you're a young person interested in racing, sign up for the kid's 20km race, registration is free!

We take care of our racers, all-terrain support vehicles will sweep racers providing first aid on site, and after the race the Elgin Women's Institute feeds the hungry cyclists with an excellent lasagna supper.

No matter the distance you choose to race, the Tour of Elgin will afford the racer an exceptional outdoor experience during the peak of the fall colours! Registration closes at midnight the day before the race, Thursday September 30th.

Search us on Race Roster, visit us on Facebook and see the poster on page 14 for more information.

From the Editor

Oh my, time for school again!

My summer has gone so fast, had two wonderful trips, one to Labrador and the other to Parry Sound, Ontario. I hope your summer was as great as mine.

Now that the summer fairs and home coming events are over and we have to get back to our routine life, let's kiss covid good-bye and get back to the life we enjoy.

My garden has turned out really well, beans, peas, tomatoes, and cucumbers, can't wait to see how the potatoes have grown - lots of tops.

Still some racing left, the "22nd Annual Speedweekend" September 2nd - 4th at Speedway 660; Scotia Speedworld and Riverside Speedway are racing each weekend from September 2nd through September 24th; and the "Mike Stevens Memorial Weekend Race" is September 16th-17th, at Petty International Raceway.

Enjoy your last long weekend of the summer, Labour Day weekend. It is back to school for the year 2022-2023 on September 6th, the day after Labour Day, good luck to all the beginners as they start a new chapter in their lives.

Your Editor,
Winona McLean

Village Council News

The Village works crew will soon start the process of preparing the Arena for this year's activities. Besides painting, cleaning and repairing, the arena iceplant will have both compressors rebuilt. This rebuild although expensive, should keep our iceplant operating for the foreseeable future.

The tender for the new fire department rescue vehicle has been accepted by council. It is expected that the new vehicle will not be completed and delivered for at least two to three years.

Just a reminder, the Village garage has a drop off container for used cardboard and a drop off spot for brush, leaves and clippings (no stumps or tree trunks please as this material is put through our chipper)

Belated best birthday wishes to one of our original SPOT creators Mrs Shirley Murphy. Shirley recently celebrated a birthday mile stone. A former Village counsellor herself, Village Council wishes her all the best!

Plan to attend this year's Fall Harvest Celebration on Saturday, September 24 at the Westmorland County Agricultural Fair Grounds between 9:00AM and 3:00PM. Activities are planned for all ages. The entrance fee is a donation at the gate for the KD program at the Petitcodiac Baptist

The new Medical Centre has entered the planning stage. Council has been assured that more details will be forthcoming in the future. The outlook is very promising!

Just a reminder this year's fall cleanup will take place on Friday, September 30. A chance to get rid of all that stuff before winter. Good luck!

This year's provincial "Golf For The Cure" tournament was held at the Petitcodiac Valley Golf Course and raised over $43,000 for the fight against Breast Cancer. The Petitcodiac Golf Course Ladies raised $13,000 (tops for NB) of the total raised for this event. The ladies have been informed that this is the last year for the fundraiser "Golf For The Cure". This is a national event and has been held for over 20+ years. In total the New Brunswick Ladies have raised approximately $1 million in the fight against breast cancer. New Brunswick is the top fundraiser in Canada for this year's "Golf For The Cure". This means the top money raisers of Marilyn Pollock, Susan Chambers, Pat Robinson and Barb Leaman will be attending the National Tournament in Toronto. The Village Of Petitcodiac would like to send all of the Ladies a hearty congratulations for all of your dedication and hard work over the last 20 years for this cause! Well done ladies!

A “Not-To-Do List”

Mark Cullen is an expert gardener, author, broadcaster, tree advocate and Member of the Order of Canada.

His son Ben is a fourth-generation urban gardener and graduate of University of Guelph and Dalhousie University in Halifax. Follow them at markcullen.com, @markcullengardening, and on Facebook.

Tired of being told what to do?

If so, you will like our column. Gardeners are generally busy doing stuff. But there are some tasks that just are not necessary, some are a walk backwards.

Here is our list of Not To-Do's which will guide you to your most productive garden outcome:

- Fertilizing. Resist. Do not fertilize your permanent plants in the second half of the season, ie. now. Most plants will have taken what they need from the soil and an additional boost of nutrients can result in soft new growth that is susceptible to winter dieback. Focus on long-term soil fertility by adding compost and mulching heavily for happy, healthy plants come fall. Note that tender annuals can be fertilized any time all season long as they die with first season frost anyway. A fall lawn fertilizer, which is important, should be lower in nitrogen (which promotes green growth) and relatively higher in phosphorus (to promote healthy roots) and should not be applied until late October or early November.

- Scheduled watering makes no sense. You drink when you're thirsty, right? Plants are like people, which is why putting your in-ground sprinkler on a timer is a waste of water and may lead to over watering. Apply water less frequently, and deeper to train your plants to put down deeper roots. Note that perennial plants all have different needs for water. Astilbe does not like to dehydrate while Hosta are tough as nails in this regard. Hand watering has its advantages.

- Do not garden naked. We have tried weeding in flip flops, and it never goes well. We wear cloths in the garden for protection: from the sun, prickles, soil, and stinging nettles (do not think too much about this, but stinging nettles while gardening naked?). Americans in Seattle have other ideas. They created a day called World Garden Naked Day, which is always the first Saturday in May. The British have enthusiastically embraced this idea. Pruning while naked? Strictly forbidden.

- Landscape fabric. Sometimes called weed barrier fabric. We believe that this is false advertising. When you lay down the polyester spun material that allows water through and in theory no weeds, you are inviting weeds to germinate and root into the fabric, which is coarse and tough as nails. The results are not weedless gardens but gardens full of weeds that are difficult to pull out of the 'weed barrier' fabric. It IS useful for use under interlocking brick and to line a retaining wall, holding back excess soil and grit.

- Cut your lawn. Of course, you will cut your lawn when it is needed, but when is it needed? We say, not until it grows above 7 or 8 cm tall. The taller the grass blades the deeper the roots. Most Canadians cut their lawn too often and too short.

- Do not forget the garden furniture. You placed a bench in the extreme end of the garden as it looks good there. When did you last sit on it? Shut your eyes and listen to the wind in the trees, the bird song in the bushes, the buzz of bumblebees in your bergamot? There is so much more activity going on in your garden than you will ever realize, until you stop long enough to observe it with all your senses.

What not to do in the garden? Work. We do not mean ever, but from time to time, work is done even when there are endless jobs still to do.

Here's a recommendation: Mark sowed a garden of "hummingbird flowers" in his yard with his four-year-old grandson Conrad last fall (McKenzie Hummingbird and Wildflower mix, $14.99). This year it exploded with poppies and a variety of other bright, pollinator-attracting flowers. When you stand next to it, as Conrad does every time he visits, you slowly become aware of the myriad of mason bees, bumble bees, unidentified flying objects and yes, even hummingbirds that are a cinch to overlook while you are in motion.

Know and Love a Woman? Protect Her Heart

How many people realize women's coronary arteries are understudied, underdiagnosed, and undertreated? The Cleveland Clinic, a leading cardiology centre, says heart disease is seven times deadlier for women than breast cancer. Build up of plaque in the heart's arteries contributes to the death of one in every three women, more than all cancers, chronic respiratory diseases and accidents combined.

But heart disease kills even more men. This fact and the historical focus on heart disease in men means most people are unaware of the risk factors for heart disease in women.

A report from the American Heart Association (AHA) says there have been stunning improvements in death rates of both sexes from coronary heart disease (CHD) since 1980. But women have not shared the benefits equally.

Maurice Chevalier, the French actor-singer, was not thinking about coronary arteries when he remarked, "vive la différence". But the difference makes heart attack the number one killer of women.

Heart attack has been considered a male disease as it occurs in men earlier in life. But after menopause the gender gap disappears. But many remain unaware that CHD is on the attack in women.

Can CHD risk be spotted in women by their loved ones? Chest pain is the most common symptom in both sexes. But at least one-third of women do not show this classic symptom during coronary attack. Rather, they complain of shortness of breath, fatigue, nausea, palpitations, dizziness, intense anxiety or pain in the jaw, neck, upper back or arm. These problems may be mistaken for a panic attack with fatal delay in diagnosis.

Suppose a family member or friend is good diagnostician and immediately calls 911. Even then, studies show that an immediate electrocardiogram or stress test is less likely to reveal the typical indicators of heart attack.

Even if a woman has an early diagnosis of coronary attack and survives, a bypass operation may be required. But she has twice the risk of dying during the surgery or shortly thereafter.

Heart surgeons can explain why. Coronary arteries are smaller in females. This makes the surgery technically more challenging when vessels the diameter of a piece of spaghetti are joined together.

What should we do to decrease the risk of CHD? First, a woman should see a psychiatrist if she smokes, as the risk of heart attack is seven times greater among women who smoke.

Know your family history. If your father or brother had a heart attack before age 55, or your mother or sister before age 65, this substantially increases your risk. It's a red flag that warns "start taking preventive measures".

If there is a history of cardiovascular disease, a daily 81 milligram dose of aspirin may help. But since aspirin can cause gastrointestinal bleeding, always discuss this medication with your doctor.

Remember that obesity leads to type 2 diabetes which in turn increases the risk of heart attack. Gaining weight alone is easy; losing weight alone is hard. But if obese, losing weight will improve health. Good strategies and support groups help. Sheer will is probably not enough. Family and friends need to work on weight reduction together.

Have your blood pressure checked. One-third of heart attacks in women could be prevented by controlling blood pressure.

If blood cholesterol is elevated, most cardiologists will recommend cholesterol-lowering drugs. But discuss this with your physician, as there are effective and safer natural options.

If you have read this column for years, you'll know that high dose vitamin C with lysine has kept this doctor alive for 25 years after severe heart attack.

THE PONIES ON PARADE

It was the morning of Labour Day, and the parade was forming for the march down Main Street.

Six-year-old Donald was sitting on a white pony waiting for the parade to start. Donald was wearing a colorful suit and a cap with a circle of brightly colored feathers. All around him were other boys on ponies. Some of them dressed like Donald. Others wore jeans with big hats and red neckerchiefs.

As the boys waited on their ponies, they watched other parts of the parade. First came a band, playing loudly. Then came lines of men wearing white shirts and caps. Then came an automobile covered with paper flowers. There were more bands and more decorated automobiles and more marching men, motorcycles, fire engines, and trucks.

At last a man standing near Donald blew a whistle and waved his arm. The ponies moved out into Main Street. The first pony was led by a man wearing a cowboy suit. The other ponies followed like well-trained soldiers. Down the street went the ponies with their young riders. Crowds of people cheered them on.

After a while Donald and the other riders became hot and tired. The parade finally turned into the park, and all of the young riders were given cones of ice-cream.

The month that started with a shared celebration of our New Brunswick home has signaled for the exit lane and September is about to merge, complete with Labour Day and a return to school.

August of 2022 will be remembered for many great things in our province, and I hope in your world.

We had a tremendous celebration of New Brunswick Day throughout the province. The day of the year when we do our best to sing in 800,000 part harmony was a success by many accounts.

We celebrated a very successful return for the Westmorland County Ag Fair, cheered Gold for Canada's Junior hockey team, were inspired by 19 medals and the efforts of our NB athletes at the Canada games and were, for the most part, thankful for beautiful weather with a fair amount of rain, keeping forest fires at a minimum and gardens bearing maximum yields. While we are speaking of gardens and yields, please remember our food banks and other organizations helping to feed those who need help. Fresh garden vegetables are always much appreciated by the folks who enjoy them and by the volunteers who are giving of their time, hearts, and souls in service to others.

Once more I want to recognize the many volunteers of the Westmorland County Ag Fair- here is a link to their Facebook page where you might see some wonderful photos: <https://www.facebook.com/wcafnb>

With a return to school comes a renewed urgency for volunteers and a renewed call for appreciation and kindness shown to all these people. From school lunch programs to sports programs, for academic and social support, parent committees and a list that goes on and on, volunteers are needed. Always.

I hope you and those you love will have a great Labour Day weekend and as always, thank you for your kindness and support.

Petitcodiac Area Garden Club

Hello one will be Gardening Friends! place at the September is the month when all the hard work of tending to our gardens throughout the summer, really starts to produce an abundance of vegetables. Look for this program to expand, as we work to bring gardening to locations throughout the community.

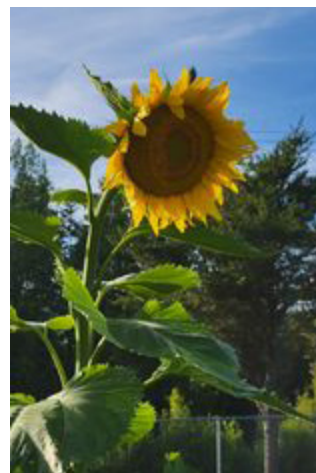

One of the wonderful parts of growing a garden is to share in the harvest. So far this year, we have shared 117 lbs of peas, beans, tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers, lettuce, and carrots with S.P.O.T., Kodiak Place, and Mellish Manor. With all the beans and cucumbers being harvested, plans are underway to also make Dill Beans and Mustard Pickles, also to be shared. We love to hear about gardens throughout the Village, so feel free to share pictures on the Petitcodiac and Area Garden Club Facebook page.

Work on the Orchard Pathway project is continuing, with McCully Landscape preparing to start the construction of the actual pathway! Once Pathway is complete, the benches, archways/arbours, picnic tables, bench/arbours will be put in place and the shade trees planted. For everyone's safety, please be sure to avoid areas where work is underway.

We are so thankful for the support from Horizon, local businesses, individuals, and volunteers who continue to bring this project to life. There is still an opportunity to be involved, by sponsoring an entrance archway and shade trees. Please reach out to Robyn Greene at 962-1766 or by email at robyn.elizabeth.greene@gmail.com for more details on sponsorship. Plans are also underway for the grand opening of the Pathway to take place in the Fall, so please watch our Facebook page and for notices posted in the community.

Our second 2022 project, the Raised Bed Outreach program is also underway. Four raised beds have been placed at the Community Garden to increase the number of accessible beds and

Little Hands by Gloria Scribner

The hand that holds your own
Is not quite ready to let go
As the teacher smiles to greet him
And his tears begin to flow

Other children feeling anxious
Soon begin to feel at ease
And long before he knows it
He's ceased "trembling" in the knees

Soon his Mama is forgotten
As he's lost in work and play
And before he even knows, it's
Time to put his books away

Board the bus and head on home
He's so excited - and, oh well!
Mama's waiting at the bus stop
And he has so much to tell

Little sister's just a baby
"He's a big man" in her eyes
As he tells her all about it
He seems wonderfully wise

When the bedtime prayers are said
And Mama reaches for the light
She calls him her "little man"
And kisses him Good-night

For she knows her boy is little
And tomorrow he'll be grown
But for now she'll firmly grasp -
The little hand that holds her own

"Our People Make a Difference"

Hello readers,

Summer is quickly coming to an end which means we are preparing for Autumn! Fall veggies are coming in including corn, zucchini and cucumbers! Speaking of cucumbers... We have local dill, garlic, vinegar, carrots and beans for your upcoming pickling needs. Pickling is one of the best ways to use up any of your extra produce, as you can pickle almost anything and it also ensures you have access to fresh fruits and veggies during the winter months!

We've recently started carrying Blue Anchor Meals which is a great, affordable option for a meal on the go!

We even have a microwave in the store now for our customers to use. Another new producer you can find at The Pantry is Royal Nova company, they sell flavored beef jerky, spices and sauces. Stop by and grab a sauce and take advantage of the rest of BBQ season.

We hope everyone had a bountiful August!

See you soon at The Pantry!

Critical illness insurance explained

While being diagnosed with a critical illness like cancer, stroke, or heart attack could change your lifestyle, it doesn't need to change your financial plans. Critical illness insurance can help reduce your financial worries so you can focus on recovery.

Elgin Eco Association

The Elgin Eco Association thanked the citizens for their continued support of the organization by offering a free BBQ during Elgin Day. This day has been created to offer everybody with a connection or interest in Elgin, its history or its citizens to get together.

It was unfortunate that the day started with a lot of rain and we couldn't set up the children's games and bouncy castles. However the turnout for the BBQ was great and the music was played by Chris Moir and Colin Colford in the community centre/firehall. Our brand new grill was a big improvement, and we like to thank everybody that worked so hard to make this day such a success! Hopefully the weather will cooperate with us for the next event.

That next event is of course The Elgin Mountain bike Marathon. This is a super great event for the entire family. The Elgin Mountain Bike Marathon will take place on October 1st and is a full day of biking. Besides the four distances 20km, 40km, 80km and 120km, there will be a bike race for children.

ELGIN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE NEWS

ELGIN DAY was very successful in spite of rain showers early in the day. The rain stopped and many adults and children enjoyed entertainment and BBQ at the Community Center.

The day event involved the whole community coming together to celebrate our area which has grown substantially in the last several years. Much has been accomplished at the EEA Park for both residents and visitors to enjoy. The Elgin Seniors Club also opened their hall for a yard sale on Elgin Day.

The WI Hall was abuzz with activity including ice cream sundaes with several homemade toppings to choose from. The kid's exhibit was an added attraction with talented kids showing off their wide range of handiwork. Great work kids! Thanks to those who helped to sponsor this event. We will be sure to offer new and interesting categories next year.

A highlight of the activities at The Hall was a presentation by Eleanor Goggin on the early settlement of Elgin. Folks were keenly interested in our early beginnings and were able to view maps of the area.

Thank you Eleanor.

We were able to offer "Elgin" mugs and glasses for sale at Elgin Day this year. If you are interested in ordering, please call 756-2531 or 756-8443 to place an order. Mugs are $12 and Glasses are $9. Also, "Elgin" mugs will soon be available for purchase at the Elgin Country Kitchen & General Store. Watch for the display.

The annual Petitcodiac District Convention will be hosted by the Petitcodiac branch on September 13 at the Anglican Church Hall. Convention starts at 9 am.

Our annual TURKEY SUPPER will be available this year offering take out only. Please order your supper by calling June Crandall at 756-8443. Adults $15 and Children $12. Note the separate advertisement with details below.

We ask people to officially register their children online via raceroster.com. The children's race is free, exciting and prizes will be awarded. We hope to inspire children to appreciate the great joy biking brings.

Last but not least we have added an electric bike race. A reasonable 40km. We challenge those that own an e-bike to participate. I don't want to be the only one. Please refer to the above poster for info on registration.

Nancy Dennison
1943-2022

With sadness and heavy hearts, we announce the passing of Nancy Dennison (Goddard), 78, on July 26, 2022. Nancy was born in Saint John, NB on December 15 1943 to the proud parents Stella Goddard (O'Brien) and Donald Goddard.

She was raised on a small farm in the small community of Anagance. Our Mom was attending nursing School, and then met Dad. They started their family in Saint John, NB, and then moved back to Anagance beside her parents, where they built a home.

Where we were all raised, our Mom loved each one of us. She was proud of us and all her family and friends around her. She loved her grandchildren with all of her heart; loving seeing and hearing what they were doing and what their next adventure was, whether it was big or small. Mom was always used to cooking for a herd of us, and she was always the one who came with an arm load of food to feed a crew, even if you invited her to dinner. She would always say, "I don't like going empty handed". She loved playing cards with dear friends and loved her Seniors Group in Anagance. She also had a huge love for the community and helping make improvements to the Hall. If there was a fundraiser, count Mom all in. Mom had a huge love for recipes, but she had her favorites, like her Lemon Squares: always a hit. But we cannot forget her pets: her Sweet Rex (her Puppy) and her Pretty Boy (the Cat). She loved them dearly and was as proud of them as us. She also loved having farm animals like her chickens, which she would go talk to.

Today, our Mom leaves behind us 4 children: Susan Dennison, Loretta Crossman, Darlene Clarke (Lynn), Arthur Dennison (Shannon); her Grandchildren, Nicholas Crossman, Lacey Crossman (David Lee), Taylor Clarke (Arielle), Anna Clarke (Dustin), Tyra Dennison, Madison Dennison, Nathan Coates, and Sierra Coates; her Great-Grandchildren, Lilly Chute, Zoey Chute, and Hudson Clarke; her Brother, Gordon Goddard (Janet) and her Niece, Dawn Goddard.

Nancy is predeceased by her Mother, Stella Goddard; Father, Donald Goddard; Nephew, Edmund Goddard; Son-in-law, Douglas Crossman and her special friend, Marnie Murray.

A special thanks goes to Dr. Crozier at the Moncton Hospital for his extra care and compassion, as well as extra mural and Laurie Wilson for their great care to help our family bring Mom home to be with us where she wanted to be. Love you always, Mom. In my Heart you will be. XOXO

Special Quote: Love you forever, Like you always, as long as I live, My Mom and My Nannie, You will always be.

Arrangements have been entrusted to the care of Salisbury Funeral Home. A private family graveside service was held on Wednesday, August 3rd. A time of fellowship was held on Wednesday, August 3rd, at 12:00pm, at the Anagance Hall in memory of Nancy.

If desired, donations made to The Anagance Hall would be appreciated by the family. Online condolences and donations may be made at www.keirsteads.ca

Donna Leigh Hawkes, 75, of Intervale passed away Saturday, August 6, 2022. Donna was born in Saint John on August 22, 1946, she was a daughter of her beloved parents, the late Oscar and Laura Wilband.

She is deeply missed by her two daughters Heidi Leigh and Heather Jo Hapgood and Heidi's two boys Jon and Luke Quinlan. Donna was so very proud of her wonderful grandsons. She is also missed by her brother Paul Wilband (Ruth); sisters Bonnie Johnson and Tanya Brown (Rick) and she is fondly remembered by several nephews and nieces. Donna was so fond of each and every one of them. Donna was predeceased by her wonderful husband Lawrence Hawkes. After Donna's early childhood in Saint John, her family moved to Intervale, NB. She loved the outdoors. She was both a tomboy and a lady; truly a beautiful person inside and out and was a selfless and loving mother devoted to her girls. A staunchly proud Canadian, Donna never missed a chance to spout the greatness of this country she loved so much. An avid reader, she loved current events, world history, trivia and geography. Donna was also a fabulous cook and a wonderful dancer.

Much of her working life she devoted to enriching the lives of the elderly and disabled. She made them all feel worthy, loved and valued.

Donna wanted to make sure to give a heartfelt thank you to all the health care professionals who aided her as she traversed her cancer diagnosis during the pandemic. She faced her challenges with dignity and strength and without complaint.

Many thanks to Dr. Melanie Cyr, Dr. Anna Sanderson, and Dr. Abdel Salam, her former doctor of many years Dr. Mary Ann Carlos and the wonderful extra mural nurses.

Joyce Quigley
1944-2022

The family of Joyce Sandra (Tingley) Quigley sadly announce her passing on Wednesday, August 10. Formerly of Colpitts Settlement, she passed away at the Jordan LifeCare Centre, The Glades, just four days short of her 78th birthday, after several years of failing health. Born in Salisbury, she was the third child of the Late James and Ivy (Mesheau) Tingley. Left to grieve her passing: her husband of 35 years Gerald (Gerry) Quigley, her son Bradley Crossman, his wife Angelique and her son Christophe of San Antonio, Texas. Six siblings: Gloria (Herbert) Jameson, Ralph (Donna) Tingley, both of Colpitts Settlement, Roger Tingley of Charles Town, West Virginia, Marilyn Hall of Riverview, Marlene (Bob) Hickman of Dorchester, Janet Richard of Moncton. Joyce was predeceased by her mother, Ivy (Mesheau) (2014), her father James (2004), nephew Jeffrey Hall (1999), niece Nola Rourke (2018), brother Mark (2019), sister-in-law Bonita Tingley (2019) and brother-in-law Cyril Hall (2021). Blessed to be born into a large family, Joyce is also survived by many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

A 1966 graduate of nursing at the Moncton Hospital, Joyce's first employment was five years in their Pediatric Department. She enjoyed each nurses' reunion she was able to attend and the continuing contact with her classmates. Joyce retired after 20 years, as the Nursing Supervisor of the Jordan Memorial nursing home. Multiple orthopedic surgeries eventually led to the amputation of her foot in 2006 and she was confined to a wheel chair. Her world grew smaller and her challenges grew larger. Fortunately, before these limitations, she was able to travel in the US to Boston, Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, and Yosemite Park, as well as throughout Canada, to Calgary, the Rocky Mountains, Montreal and the Laurentians. She lived briefly in Thompson, Manitoba. At one time, Joyce generously shared her creative skills sewing, knitting, crocheting and making crafts for her friends and family. In more recent years, the telephone was her lifeline. Joyce loved to shop, especially for delicate beautiful clothing items and jewelry, angel figurines and bells. She also ensured loved ones knew she was thinking of them on special occasions by faithfully sending cards. Family gatherings brought her joy as family meant everything to Joyce.

The family wishes to thank Joyce's in-home care givers who enabled her to remain in her home until she just couldn't. They brought friendship and conversation into her life. As well, heart felt appreciation is extended to the staff of Jordan Life Care staff and Moncton Hospital where Joyce spent a great deal of time in recent years.

Resting at Salisbury Funeral Home, 3350 Route 106 (372-4800), visiting was held Saturday, August 13 from 6 to 8 pm. The funeral was held Sunday, August 14 at 2 pm in the funeral home chapel with Pastor Lloyd O'Blenes and Pastor Dennis Smith officiating. Interment followed at Middlesex Cemetery.

If you wish, in remembrance of Joyce, donations may be made to the Jordan LifeCare Centre, Middlesex Cemetery, Cornerstone Community Church building fund or a charity of your choice. Or please do an act of kindness to honor Joyce's generous heart.

The Last Days?

"Above all, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires. They will say, "Where is this 'coming' he promised? Ever since our ancestors died, everything goes on as it has since the beginning of creation." 2 Peter 3:3-4

I hear people say that they think we are living in the "Last Days" because of all the things going on around us. I don't know how true that is, as the world has always had its periods of darkness.

But I think we miss something if we don't take the term "Last Days" personally. We do not know when our own "Last Day" will be. I recently attended the funeral of a person who was 90, but over the years I have attended funerals of people who never made it to 30. Since we do not know when our "Last Day" is, should we not at least look at the serious questions that surround it. "Is there meaning to life?" "How did life start?" "Is there anything after death?" "Is there more to life than what I see?" "Is there really a God?"

I think those are good honest questions and worthy of asking, and worthy of seeking answers. I do hope you would give them consideration. The answers are worth the search.

Beyond Jack's Turn

by Gloria Scribner

It seems like yesterday I ushered those little ones out the door as the school bus made its way around "Jack's Turn" and they headed down the lane. New clothes and a backpack fitted with Hilroys, math sets, and HB pencils, among other things. Excited kids with hair trimmed, or braided with "happy-face" bobbles straight from Stedmans.

In our family, lunch cans were not the thing. Each had a brown bag lunch (sandwich and drinkin' box) to "eat or not to eat" - their choice.

School day experiences differed as much as the children. One little girl, in her first year, wore a much loved sweater with buttons shaped like bunny rabbits. At recess, she took it off to play, as it was warm, laying it neatly on the grass; she returned after school to retrieve it before boarding the bus, and found it with all the buttons having been snipped off. I dare say her first lesson in school and life - "resilience".

Another little girl approached some prospective playmates and tried to befriend them, only to find that since she didn't have a Barbie doll she was excluded. After trying to find a friend she decided, "I can't compete to make those girls like me, so I will work hard and the teacher will like me", and so she did, trying her best, and years later graduated with honours. She became a teacher herself and never forgot the "games that children play". A lesson well learned those first days of school.

Another daughter in her middle school years was confronted by the school "bully", challenging her with intimidation and wanting her to know that she "was to be feared - or else". My daughter stood up to her full height and said, "you, just bring it on". The bully backed off and she was never bothered by her again. I dare say having seven brothers was "her" learning experience.

Over the years I've learned

Origin of Labour Day in Canada

Canada: Labour Day (French: Fête du Travail) has been marked as a statutory public holiday in Canada on the first Monday in September since 1894. However, the origins of Labour Day in Canada can be traced back to numerous local demonstrations and celebrations in earlier decades. [7] Such events assumed political significance in 1872, when a labour demonstration in Toronto in April 1872, in support of striking printers, led directly to the enactment of the Trade Union Act, a law that confirmed the legality of unions. Ten years later, on 22 July 1882, a huge labour celebration in Toronto attracted the attention of the American labour leader Peter J. McGuire, who organized a similar parade in New York City on 5 September that year. Unions associated with the Knights of Labor and the American Federation of Labor in both Canada and the United States subsequently promoted parades and festivals on the first Monday in September. In Canada, local celebrations took place in Hamilton, Oshawa, Montreal, St Catharines, Halifax, Ottawa, Vancouver and London during these years. Montreal declared a civic holiday in 1889. In Nova Scotia, coal miners had been holding picnics and parades since 1880 to celebrate the anniversary of their union, the Provincial Workmen's Association, first organized in 1879. In addition, in 1889, the Royal Commission on the Relations of Labor and Capital in Canada recommended recognition of an official "labour day" by the federal government. In March and April 1894, unions lobbied Parliament to recognize Labour Day as a public holiday. Legislation was introduced in May by Prime Minister Sir John Thompson and received royal assent in July 1894.

more from my children than I've ever taught them. I've watched them grow and mature from that first trip down the lane, to their trip down the aisle. I've seen a mind-set that put my own to shame, but their father and I taught them that "what doesn't kill you will make you stronger", and "necessity is the mother of invention".

If my young ones wanted something and it wasn't either Christmas or their birthday, they worked for it, or went without it. They had learned the value of money, and that "not having it" was "no shame" unless you were lazy.

One Christmas we decided to buy our 2 oldest sons 22's. After Hunters safety courses they were eager to try them out. Our poor old mailbox was so full of holes that the mail lady refused to leave mail, as she kept cutting her arm on the inside of it. We replaced it, with a warning to the culprits. So "number 2" son decided to jokingly aim his rifle at the lightning rod on the barn, and saying "you think I can hit that lightenin' rod?" his finger slipped and the globe shattered - Oh! Oh! Another lesson learned, (this time in the woodshed).

My children remember when we were "struggling", and when coming up the lane, my son smelled pancakes cooking. He yelled, "Oh no, not pancakes again?!" He came into the house and got his gun, and headed out across the road to the woods. He brought back two rabbits, skinned and cleaned them, and presented them to the cook (that would be me), and proudly said, "Here, cook these." I was pleased, and he brought two rabbits in each day, either shot or snared; Bless his heart! I cooked them. One for stew, and the other to be ground in the old hand grinder, mixed with mustard, and put into school sandwiches.

If there's anything I've learned (and school days taught "me" as much as my children) it's that lessons are learned outside the classroom more than inside (and sometimes on their backsides).

Today, some folks have no idea how to be resilient - I hear young moms ranting and raving at "the system". One mom can't afford to buy baby wipes, so she panics. Another plans a lavish birthday party for a child when he'd just as soon go fishin' with his dad, but Dad's workin' overtime to pay for all this.

Electronics are great, but the best babysitter is "Mom", but she's workin' to pay for the toys and a babysitter.

Life is a game now. They say "the winner is the one who finishes with the most toys". Electronics, cars, cottages, cruises, credit cards - Oh my!

And then of course, Sundays are for shopping, car washing, with nary a thought about going to a house of worship. So many children are growing up without a clue as to where to turn when depression sets in. So drugs, or counsellors, or suicide is all that's left when the money runs out (or the partner).

If you neglect to teach your children that God is the one to talk to, the Bible is His guide book, and the church on the corner is your support group, you haven't taught them a thing, and God help the next generation.

"They Make Me Feel Like I Matter"

Michael has been using Urban/Rural Rides for several years now. He has been dealing with a multitude of medical needs and relies on Urban/Rural Rides for his transportation into the city for his appointments.

"They are always kind when I interact with them - the drivers and the staff. They listen and are very helpful. The drivers are volunteers. They give up their time to make sure I get to my appointments. That makes me feel like I matter because someone is willing to give up their own time to help me." said Michael

"The benefit of this service goes well beyond the ride itself. I have a lot of health issues and I am in constant pain. However, when I am in the car having a friendly conversation with a driver, I am distracted in a way. I feel better. My pain is lower for a time because I am interacting with someone." said Michael.

Michael is one of the many lives being changed one ride at a time. In addition to assisting people to get to their appointments, a friendly conversation, interaction with someone and knowing that they matter enough for someone to take the time to help them goes a long way to improving the lives of those without transportation who may be isolated from people and services.

Help people in your community know they matter by volunteering as a driver and help change lives one ride at a time by calling 962-3073 or visiting urbanruralrides.ca
