Remembrance Day - Vets Cafe a hope they're not forgotten!

by Danielle Stone-Bourque

Every year on November 11th we commemorate Canadian Veterans on Remembrance day. In the years that past there are less and less veterans from the previous wars, but their memory, along with other veterans that served, hope that they are not forgotten. What it means for the service they gave, and the hope that freedom and sacrifices are not lost.

Over five years ago Judy Allen noticed that less and less places were available for vets to meet up without interruption or to connect. So Judy as well as her husband Colin had an idea. Judy met with the Legion's President (at the time) Susan Dryden and asked if she could start up an event for the veterans at the Legion. Susan said most certainly. Judy ended up talking to a few vets for help with idea and what they think would be needed. By June 15, 2022. Judy and Colin opened the Vets Cafe with 15 vets that joined having tea, coffee and sandwiches. From there every Wednesday the original showed up and more joined in. Member Sonny McCarron moved to Sackville and started a Vet Cafe at the Sackville Branch. Another member Jeremy Mercer from Sussex became a service officer. Now they have over 82 veterans that come to visit. Next year will be their 5th anniversary.

Judy states, "It's has been an incredible Journey. I have met some of the greatest people, funny and I know I get picked on but I am loved and there is a lot of laughter. They all have my six. To this day they are my greatest support team and hold my hand every day."

In the same year (2022) the Legion started the Honour our Veterans Banners. In the first year they had 43 banners created. This year they have 158 banners going up along Salisbury town area. They take orders Nov 11th for 2027 orders.

The Vet Cafe has nominated 20 of their veterans to receive "Quilts of Valour." In total their has been 27 Quilts of Valour given.

From the Editor

We have finally received some nice weather, but cool.

It was a very good summer for the gardens, I hear so many talking about the tomatoes they had to look after, how nice they will be in the winter!

Don't forget to put something orange on your dog if you live near the woods, hunters have been known to have an accident by mistaking your dog as a deer. To all the deer hunters, may you have good luck! But if you don't, at least have fun and be careful.

I think all the motor racing is done for this year, It has been a long racing season. If you missed who all the Champions are check the induvial web sites of the tracks. They now have their banquets and the rules meetings for 2027. Time to get your winter sports equipment out.

Vets Cafe a hope they're not forgotten!

Judy also stated, “Starting the Vets Cafe is probably the greatest thing I have ever done and the most proud of. To hear the laughter, the stories, how this group started out as strangers, become friends and now have become family.” Judy shares with a smile.

Veteran stories should be heard and shared to tell the important to future generations. I had a chance to speak to a few of the Veterans and to share their part in the Canada national defence.

(Sgt Master) Brad Ball was Army as part of Royal Canadian Horse Artillery which was large weapons which are long range Guns, who served from 1974-1998, shy of 25 years. First in Shilo, Manitoba. “In 1977-1981 in Lahr, Germany was part of NATO for Berlin East Wall as a show of force for Germany encase of invasion.” From there he went to Pettiwawa, Ontario for 4 years from 1981-86 as a navigator for helicopters. 1986 to Shilo, Manitoba, home of the artiliary they call it for 2 years and then to Oremoncto in Gagetown, NS as an instructor for 4 year then from there back to Shilo then 1993 to Cyprus for a Unitied Nations Tour for 6 to 7 months, then back to Shilo again and gears up and went to Bosnia on a peace making tour. “Were we they were fired on, we were asked to secure mass graves where they were found to be excavated. This is a location where I lost my driver, Corpral Al Vialette, who was a bombardier, to suicide which was due to PTSD (Post Tranmatic Stress Disorder) because of the exposer for what we were seeing. This time was from 1997-98 during winter tour. I can’t say enough about him. He was a great guy. A hard worker. It effected me a lot, that drove my PTSD. Wondering if I could have done anything , saw or did I miss something? But those emotions come out a lot but it’s great to get it out. I wasn’t diagnosed until 2020 with PTSD.” When asked what he thinks of the Vet Cafe, he states, “The Vet Cafe gives me opportunity to met many people I never met before.” Come to find out there was 2 other veterans that flew together. It’s was a good homecoming cause I got to connect with 427 squadron together. It gave us a chance to talk about things and it’s in confidence and that we’re not along.” His best memories to going to Germany with his family and to experience the culture.

(Sargent) Steve Ripley Sargent , Flight Engineer in 5 different air craft from 1979-2012 with 33 years in service. First place Comox, BC. It’s the same location where the snow birds train. Cold Lake, Alberta, Shearwater, NS. Then, Germany where he was flying the Cosmo. Aircraft. Part of this job would be to transfer goods halfway to different countries (Afghanistan, etc). When asked what he thought of the Vet Cafe he stated, “Because of the Vet Cafe I was able to help give to other vets that were looking for information or avenues and I was able to help them out, which makes me feel better that I can contribute which really helps me. I moved up from Greenwood, NS 20 years ago for my wife family and my father in law, Harry Hopper. He served 31 years in Air force, who’s now at Silverfox Senior Home, he was also part of the Vet Cafe as well.” Steve was also part of the Vet Cafe in Greenwood, NB for about 20 years.

(Sargent) Marilyn Bell was one of the first woman to be recognized is the Air Force, she joined in 1976 and finished in 2002 with 26 year service. She served in Comox, BC air force base and did search and rescue. She ended up being an excellent spotter, the first one to be chosen. After she was promoted and was sent to Germany, worked with the senior legal advisor and dealing with many countries and different war scenarios and this was during the 1980’s. She came back to Cornwallis, NS and was working at the recruit school as instructor training for the new recruits for 3 years and they decided they wanted a woman to work in the weapons to teach upcoming recruits to shoot weapons in 1990’s. “Originally they had to learn to hold a weapon, by sitting down in a chair.” Marilyn asked her boss if she could show them actually shooting in different scenario instead of just sitting in a chair and her boss gave her permission to go

Community of Three Rivers - Planning for Tomorrow While Managing Today - Andrew Goggin - Councillor of Ward 3

Remembering Their Service Building Our Community

My wife, Mary-Ann, and I spent several hours putting up the veterans' banners around Elgin today.

It is a simple job: ladders, fasteners, banners and a fair amount of walking up and down the street. But as we worked our way through the community, I found myself thinking about the people whose names and photographs are on those banners. There are 34 names of young men engraved on our cenotaph as well as 4 Polish airmen killed here during training.

They represent generations of Canadians who served their country, many of them at extraordinary personal cost. Some never came home. Others returned carrying physical and emotional wounds that weren't always visible. Many simply came home, raised families, went to work, and got on with their lives without expecting recognition. We owe all of them our gratitude. I've researched and written biographies for most of the men listed on the Elgin cenotaph and hope to start on the cenotaph in Petitcodiac at some point. It's humbling to consider the commitment and sacrifice of so many of our ancestors.

The banners are a reminder that the freedoms and democratic institutions we sometimes take for granted were not simply handed to us. They were protected and preserved by generations of Canadians who were willing to accept responsibility for something larger than themselves.

That seems particularly relevant this year. Canada is experiencing what feels like a generational change in our place in the world. The assumptions about our security, our economy and our relationships with other countries that many of us grew up with are changing. We are being reminded that national resilience and independence cannot be taken for granted.

There is plenty to worry about. Turn on the television, open a newspaper, or look at your phone, and you'll find no shortage of reasons to be concerned. Wars, economic uncertainty, political instability, climate-related disasters and an increasingly complicated international environment can leave us wondering what the future holds. It can sometimes feel overwhelming.

So what do we do about it? I don't pretend to have an answer to the world's problems. Neither does any municipal council. There are enormous issues being debated and decided at the national and international levels over which we have very little direct control. But sitting around the Council table has reinforced something I've learned throughout my life: we should concentrate our energy on the things we can influence.

For Three Rivers, that means looking after our communities. It means maintaining the roads and infrastructure that are our responsibility. It means supporting effective fire protection and emergency preparedness. It means making responsible financial decisions. It means maintaining our recreational facilities and public spaces. It means listening to residents and trying to make our municipality a better place to live.

But community resilience isn't created by municipal government alone. It's built by people. It's the volunteer who spends a Saturday morning helping at a community event. It is the neighbour who checks on an elderly friend during a storm. It is the firefighter who responds when the rest of us are moving in the opposite direction. It is the person who coaches a child's hockey team, serves on a community board, helps at the Women's Institute, organizes a fundraiser, maintains a cemetery, or simply notices that someone nearby could use a hand.

These things may seem small when viewed individually. They aren't.

A strong community is essentially a network of people who are willing to look beyond themselves and accept some responsibility for the people around them.

That is also what I see reflected in the veterans whose banners now hang along Elgin's streets. Military service is an obvious example of accepting responsibility for something larger than oneself. But service doesn't require a uniform. Every community depends upon people who are willing to contribute their time, skills and energy for the benefit of others.

As a councillor, I've had the opportunity to see more of that community service firsthand. Through my liaison responsibilities with several local organizations, I've met people who quietly put considerable effort into making our communities better. They don't do it for recognition. They do it because they believe their community is worth investing in.

I think there is an important lesson there for all of us. We cannot control everything happening in Ottawa, Washington, Beijing, Moscow or anywhere else in the world. We cannot control the next headline that appears on our phones tomorrow morning. But we can control how we respond to it.

We can stay informed without allowing ourselves to become consumed by the constant stream of bad news. We can take a break from our screens. We can spend time with family and friends. We can get outside. We can volunteer. We can check on a neighbour. And we can remind ourselves that while the world may seem very large and complicated, our ability to make a positive difference is often quite close at hand.

That doesn't mean ignoring what is happening beyond our community. Quite the opposite. Being informed citizens is part of maintaining a healthy democracy. But there is a difference between being informed and being overwhelmed.

Perhaps one of the healthiest things we can do in uncertain times is to turn our attention toward service. Look after your family. Look after your neighbour. Contribute something to your community. Vote. Participate. Ask questions. Help where you can. Those are small acts, but collectively they create something much larger: a community that is capable of looking after itself.

As we approach Remembrance Day, I think that's an appropriate lesson to take from the people whose service we commemorate.

The veterans represented on those banners didn't know what the future would hold when they put on a uniform. They couldn't control the circumstances into which they were sent. What they could control was their willingness to serve.

We have our own responsibilities in our own time.

For me, serving on Council, as a volunteer firefighter, and a member of service organizations is my small way of accepting that responsibility in my post-military life. For others, it might be volunteering with a community organization, helping a neighbour, supporting a local business, coaching a team, or simply becoming a little more involved in the place we call home.

We don't know what challenges the next generation will face. But we can leave them something valuable: a community where people care about one another, where neighbours still help neighbours, and where people are willing to contribute something larger than themselves.

That is resilience.

And perhaps, as we remember those who served before us, it is also one of the best ways we can honour their sacrifice.

Snow Season is Coming!
Ensure Garbage Bins and Bags Have Cleared Access

With winter just around the corner, we would like to remind all residents to prepare for upcoming snow season.

We ask all residents to please take a few moments to ensure that:

- Bins or bags are placed in an accessible location and that does not interfere with sidewalk and roadway snow clearing equipment
- Place bins or bags no further than 2 meters (6.5 feet) back from the end of your driveway.
- Snow and Ice is properly maintained throughout the winter season

Please remember, if snow and ice accumulate in front of garbage bins this prevents collection crews from safely reaching your bins and your garbage may not be collected.

We understand winter weather can present challenges for everyone, and we appreciate the effort residents make.

Thank you for doing your part to keep our community prepared for the winter season!

Consignment at The Pantry: A Place for Local Talent to Shine

Did you know that The Pantry is more than a place to find good local food? It is also a place where local creativity, craftsmanship and community come together!

Through our consignment program, The Pantry provides local artists, craftspeople and smallscale makers with an opportunity to showcase and sell their creations. From beautiful painted wall art and photography cards to handcrafted woodwork, candles, knitted and yarn creations, pottery, bags, creams, crystals, and so much more, our shelves and walls are filled with the unique talents of people right here in our community.

Who benefits? Local artists and makers gain a place to display their work , while shoppers have the opportunity to discover one-of-a-kind, locally made products. It is a wonderful way to support the creativity, skills and entrepreneurial spirit of our neighbours.

How does it work? Through consignment, local makers provide their products for display and sale at The Pantry. When an item sells, the maker receives payment according to the agreed consignment arrangement. This creates an opportunity for makers to reach new customers without having to operate their own storefront.

Why is this important? As a not-for-profit, community food hub, The Pantry believes that building a strong community means supporting one another in many different ways. Our consignment program helps keep local talent visible, encourages people to shop locally, and creates connections between makers, shoppers and the wider community.

Where does community come in? It is in every conversation about a handmade item, every purchase that supports a local maker, and every opportunity to discover the talents of someone in our own backyard. Each product has a story, and every sale helps strengthen the connection between the people who create and the people who appreciate their work.

At The Pantry, we are proud to offer a space where local food, handmade goods, creativity and community spirit can thrive together. When you shop with us, you are doing more than purchasing a product — you are helping support local people, encourage small-scale enterprise and build a stronger, more connected community.

This partnership also connects beautifully with The Pantry's threefold mission as a not-forprofit community food hub: enhancing food security, supporting the local economy and reducing food waste. While our consignment program directly supports local makers and the local economy, it is part of a bigger picture of creating a community where resources, skills and opportunities are shared. Alongside our work to improve access to good food and reduce food waste, we believe that supporting one another helps build a stronger, more resilient community.

Come in, have a look around, we invite you to take a little extra time when you visit The Pantry.

Look at the artwork, browse the shelves, discover something new and ask about the people behind the products. You never know what special treasure you might find!

When you shop local at The Pantry, you are doing more than buying something special. You are supporting local talent, strengthening our local economy and helping build a community where everyone has a place to contribute and belong.

The Community of Three Rivers ELGIN NEWS!

Elgin Women's Institute News
by EWI Secretary/Treasurer, June Crandall

Summer of 2026 is behind us and fall is winding its way into new activities for the EWI/WI ,Elgin Women's Institute.

After a very busy and successful summer we literally hit the ground running with plans for our annual Turkey Supper in September. With help from great volunteers we were able to offer a home style full turkey dinner. This fundraiser is important in making it possible to maintain our Hall in times were upkeep and expenses are challenging. Also, we are grateful to the many who phoned to book seats and or order take-outs. We were sold out!!! Again, THANK YOU!!!!

The Fort Folly Salmon Recovery event in October was a highlight of our activities.

We are excited to tell you about a new event coming to our Hall on November 8. The Great Canadian Jigsaw Puzzle Exchange will happen from 2-4 at the EWI Hall. Bring your used puzzles to exchange with a host of new-to-you ones. Bring one, take one! While browsing tea, coffee and sweets will be available for a donation.

Did you know, Jigsaw puzzles offer major benefits for your brain, mental well-being, and social life. Remembering where specific pieces go and recognizing shapes and colours strengthens short-term memory. Working through a difficult section teaches problem solving via trial and error and gives a strong sense of accomplishment.

The SOCK DRIVE ! We have surpassed our goal of 1000 pairs of socks to donate to the homeless. Since winter is just around the corner the need will be great. With your help men, women and children in need will have some protection from the cold. Many, many thanks to those who have donated. Your kindness is appreciated.

Finally, Womens Institutes/Inspiring Women are making a comeback! The WI/IW groups are meeting an important need for young women of today. Socializing, learning, and sharing your strengths, interests and life skills are what meets a need for both women in the work force and women homemakers. Please check out our Facebook page and our website where many of your questions will be answered. Talk to your friends – you might be surprised that they are looking for such a group as well.

The 23rd annual mountain bike race was a success! Thank you to all volunteers and rides that took part in making the race a success! See you all next year.

News from the Elgin Seniors Club!

News from the Elgin Seniors Club!

Cooler weather is upon us which brings it own set of challenges…snow removal, and higher power bills for everyone. We look forward to the coming November and December events and holidays.

The Soup Sale fundraiser was, once again, a success. We cannot speak enough words to express our appreciation. We prepared and sold almost 100 containers of soup. Our prices did not change from last year knowing groceries are hard for everyone. We are grateful.

We try to support the community in any way we can. We support new business (The Farmhouse Kitchen), offer free health screening clinics and information sessions, support the Nursing Homes Without Walls events and activities, and offer a local spot for expert foot care, and much more.

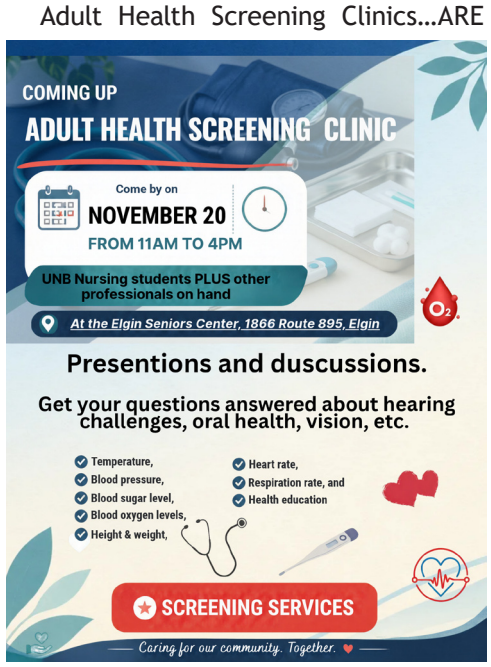

UPCOMING – November

Our annual bake and crafts sale will be held on November 21 from 9am to 3pm.

Contact us to reserve a table for your crafts and/or baked goods. Or, contact us if you have baked goods you wish to donate for sale.

Adult Health Screening Clinics…ARE BACK! – I have been in conversations with the team who will once again be providing free health screening clinics at the Elgin Seniors Center. We are looking to provide lunch and learn sessions again but with some adjustments. In consideration are presentations by health professionals that address health concerns we tend to ignore and take for granted. November 20 will be an all-day session with some lunch being served. You can stop by anytime during the hours of 11am to 4pm.

Footcare Clinic – remember to make your appointment for regular foot care. The clinic is at the Center (1866 Route 895) every 6 to 8 weeks. The charge is $58 (this is the standard rate, and receipts will be supplied for tax purposes) per person. Natasha Collier, from our community, is providing this important service. Please give her a call at 506-866-5024 to book your regular appointment. The next clinic is on November 25, but you do not have to wait to give her a call.

Calling new members: We are always looking for individuals to join the Elgin Seniors Club. Our meetings are every 3rd Monday of the month. The Seniors Club is open to individuals over age 50! The next regular monthly meeting at the Center is on November 16 at 1pm.

The Elgin Senior Citizens Center continues to be available to groups and individuals for your parties and events. We have a comfortable space, a spacious fully equipped kitchen, a check-in desk, large coat rack, etc. Participants of your event or meeting will enjoy this space that can accommodate up to 65 people. We are open year-round and can do some in-house catering.

ALL SENIORS CLUB EVENTS ARE AT THE ELGIN SENIORS CENTER, 1866 ROUTE 895, ELGIN.

Please call June Crandall (506-756-8443) if you would like to book an event.

The Frosty Flyer

What a fantastic afternoon celebrating the arrival of our newest member of the Petitcodiac Arena family — The Frosty Flyer!

A huge thank you to everyone who came out to our Reveal Party and helped make the day so special. It was wonderful to see so many families, skaters, hockey players, community members, volunteers, and supporters come together to celebrate this exciting addition to our arena.

A very special thank you to J.D. Irving Hammond River Holdings, Daniel Guest, Peter MacNeill and Jeremy Maxwell for their incredible generosity and for investing in the future of our arena and our community. This new electric ice resurfacer will help keep the ice ready for countless practices, games, skating sessions, and memories for years to come, while providing a cleaner, more environmentally friendly way to maintain our community rink.

Special thanks to:

•Community of Three Rivers Council for their continued support and commitment to our arena and community.

•Luke Lymburner for doing an amazing job as our MC and keeping the celebration moving with his energy and enthusiasm.

• Greyson Barker and Andrew & Andrea Gaunce and children Evalyn, Zakary and Olivia for suggesting the winning name, The Frosty Flyer, during our community naming contest.

•All of our arena staff, volunteers, community partners, and everyone who helped organize, prepare, and make the event possible.

This is more than just a new machine — it is an investment in our kids, our families, our athletes, and the future of Petitcodiac Arena.

We can't wait to see The Frosty Flyer out on the ice!

Thank you for helping us celebrate this special moment with our community!

Comedy at Large

A man is having his meal at a local restaurant. The waitress comes up to his table and asks....so, how was your meal? His eyebrows raised up and he replies ....This isn't much better than hospital food! She says to him ...Oh, I'm sorry you feel that way. I'll be back in a few moments. He assumed that she was going to consult with the manager and possibly come back to tell him that his meal would be at no charge, however it didn't quite work out that way. About 10 minutes later, she was dressed in a nurse's uniform with a stethoscope around her neck and was carrying a blood pressure machine. She came up to his table and said... Sir, I'm going to do a couple of tests and the doctor will be with you shortly ! I'll bet my last garlic finger he never goes back there for a meal, but I could be wrong.

The next time you shop, ask the check out person what is their favorite candy bar and buy them one. I did this the other day. OK, so I was at a self check out, but still, it a nice thing to do.

If you see someone wearing camouflage, make sure to walk right into them, so they'll know it's working.

Apparently, it's no advisable to ask a mother with her child on a leash, if it was a rescue. Boy howdy, did she ever wallop me on the side of the head with her purse ! OUCH !!

Walmart had to remove 50,000 milk cartons from their stores. The labels on them had to be changed from "Open Here" to "Open at home".

Hidden airline fees are really getting out of hand nowadays. They tried to charge me an extra $ 25.00 for the bags under my eyes.

I read a story about a man who did a lot of amateur stock car racing in his lifetime. A good part of his time was on the ovals. He was on more laps than napkins ! 'nuff said.

Vets Cafe a hope they're not forgotten!

outside on the ground and do it. So she taught them to lay down, kneel, sit on the ground, different areas to learn to shoot their weapon. Her class ended up being the best marksman in the field that year. They started implementing the technique and promoted her again to Ontario working in headquarters were she trained many different tradesman in their field as well as different nationalities for marksmanship in how to handle and operator weapons. She was offered positions in different countries but stated she didn't want the positions. Marilyn remembers one incidents, "One of our Captain in our air force pilots come to me curing and swearing, 'why a woman was teaching weapons and that she doesn't know nothing.' My head boss told that captain to apologize to me right now! She know exactly what she's doing and you don't know what you're talking about. He made him apologize in front of everyone. That was in 1997-98." In 1997 she was nominated as International Miliary Woman of the Year and she also works with the Special Olympic as well.

This year Dan Myers has taken over the Vets Cafe with the same goals in mind, for the cafe stay open to help more veterans have a place to go to to connect, have avenues for help in anything needed and to make sure their vets knows that they aren't alone or forgotten. "

The Veterans stated that the Vets Cafe gave them a safe place to talk openly, hope to keep going, a brother/ sister-ship, avenue for help in direction and most of all family.

Dan Myers is also a veteran of 36 year, who joined in 1976 till 2012. He was chief petty officer 2nd class as part of the Royal Canadian Navy. First posted on a destroyer in Halifax, HMCS Saguenay as a Electronic Warfare operator. "To be on a destroyer with 40 foot Swells (waves) which is about the size of a 4 story house . The destroyer we were on were about 3000 Tones and about 300 feet long and about 45 feet wide. It was absolutely amazing! More so that I didn't know how to swim." Dan would remember. "Secret was that I learned to never get off the boat. So the ship would stop in the middle of the ocean and they would have a swim X or swimming exercise. Sailors would be out swimming on one side of the destroyer so we could keep an eye on them and I couldn't swim so I would volunteer to be a marksman/sharp shooter to watch out for sharks and anything else to keep the guys safe." First place that Dan visited was Cartagena, Columbia and it was a culture shock for him. Dan Stated," I knew I wasn't in Kansas anymore Dorthy. I say 2 to 4 year old children dragging around iguanas (Lizard) as pets and they were living in small mud huts with a stray roof."

He served in 1990-91 the first Persian Gulf War as an axillary to replenishment oil ship. A group of ships need replenishment of foods, fuel, etc and they would transfer those necessary good, personnel or fuel or anything other ships would need to other ships in the area. His position at the time was above water warfare director for defending the ship and he'd seen many things during that war. Their biggest concerns was sea mines in Hormuz. Hormuz strait is a waterway between the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman on the north coast lies Iron. The last place he served in was Ottawa in a staff position.

When asked what the best things he remember he stated. "Everyday wasn't the same as yesterday. Something new every day, not two day were alike. Even if you think you were six month away on the ship, you think every day is like ground hog day, and it's true, because you don't know what time of day it was cause there's no window, so unless you go outside, when they allowed to go outside, you wouldn't know if it was day or night, sunny or rainy. You didn't know, but having said that everyday you learned something new. Being in the War, the training was worse." The best memory is? "The brothers and sisters I've met on the way."

When asked about Remembrance Day and how it is for Veterans now, Dan had this to say. "Every since we recognize the word "Vet" and what it means I think it's been an uphill battle and it continues for veterans and I think we've come along way. The word Remembrance Day and "afraid" is not what it use to be as a child. To Identify the word Remembrance Day is paramount and we really need the kids to join in. I think it's important to teach the children and it warms my heart when children approach and they prove me wrong and they know more then that I thought. They know and keeping the interest alive. It gives me that warm feeling and their interested in our stories and hope it keeps going. It gets emotional to see that the interested and the hope that they will be remembered then and their story."

So remembering Remembrance Day and what it means should be paramount every year for all ages. Remember to come down to the Legion on Remembrance Day November 11th,, before the dedicated hour that strikes at 11am, playing the "Last Post" takes place to remember all the ones, past and present, that served.

Petitcodiac Legion #41
Diamond Ring Dinner Another Success

The 33rd annual diamond dinner of the Petitcodiac Legion #41 is now in the books. And what a book was written this year From the sweet, sweet sounds of Cheryl Hopper (who had the crowd toe tapping and singing along), to the delicious (and hot) turkey dinner to the over abundance of prizes, the evening was another show stopping success. The grand prize (a ruby and diamond ring) was donated again this year by Jagoe Jewellers. With an independent appraisal of $3,000, this ring created quite a stir among the ladies in attendance. Unfortunately the winner, Clair Keirstead, was not in attendance due to a family commitment.

Winner of the Diamond Ring
Clair Keirstead

We will post a presentation picture at a later date. Along with the ring, we had many diversified prizes than ever including a distillery tour, hot air balloon ride, lobster boat cruise and tickets to the Casino's Price is Right event. The evening was augmented by different draws including seven $100 boards..... seven ladies walked out with a crisp $100 bill. The mystery basket was a new addition and generated lots of interest. Thank you to all the ladies who support our event and many, many thanks to all our donors and sponsors who make this event what it is.....a great success year after year.

Celebrating Community, Honouring Service and Awaiting Snowflakes

As I write my monthly column, I have to admit I'm finding myself a little (actually a lot) behind on getting the yard tidied up for what's coming next. The fall seemed to arrive so quickly this year and stuck with us, giving us a show of gorgeous leaves for what felt like longer than usual.

Driving out to Elgin on October 16, I was struck by just how vibrant the colours still were. It was one of those drives that reminds you how fortunate we are to call this part of New Brunswick home.

That trip also gave me the opportunity to celebrate a very special milestone with the Elgin Volunteer Fire Department.

Back in 1976, the Women's Institute in Elgin lobbied the provincial government for a fire department to serve their community. Fifty years later, that vision has grown into an incredible legacy of volunteer service.

At the department's anniversary banquet, two of its original firefighters, James "Ted" Martin and Winston Steeves, hung up their helmets after five decades of service. Ted most recently served as chaplain, while Winston has also held most jobs at the fire hall and is the father of current Fire Chief Kent Steeves. What an extraordinary legacy these gentlemen leave behind.

As provincial Fire Marshal Mike Lewis told me earlier that day, the Elgin department punches far above its weight class. That speaks volumes about the dedication of the volunteers who show up when their neighbours need them most, and about Chief Steeves' leadership.

It was a pleasure to share the evening with the firefighters, Three Rivers Mayor Peter Saunders and Fundy Royal MP Rob Moore. Several members were also recognized for their years of service: Kevin Bannister and Zachary Mitton for 15 years; Yolanda Bannister and Devin Bannister for 20 years; David Mills and Milton Goggin for 25 years; and Ted Martin and Winston Steeves for an incredible 50 years each.

To everyone who has served this department over the past five decades, thank you. Volunteer firefighters give so much of their time, often putting themselves in harm's way to protect others. We are fortunate to have people like you in our communities.

November brings Remembrance Day and the familiar sight of poppies on our coats. It is always a time of mixed emotions, from pride to pain, as we remember those who made so many sacrifices, oftentimes the ultimate sacrifice, and those who continue to serve our country.

Recent news of the explosion and fire at CFB Wainwright in Alberta, which killed and injured members of the military community, was a sobering reminder that the risks of service are not confined to the history books. Our thoughts are with everyone affected.

Whether remembering veterans from generations past or the men and women serving today, I hope we will all take a moment to pause, reflect and give thanks.

The fall sitting of the Legislature began on Oct. 20, so much of my time until Christmas will be spent in Fredericton representing this wonderful riding and the people who live here. Affordability remains a concern for families, particularly with energy and gas prices putting heavy pressure on household budgets as winter approaches. Housing, addiction, access to doctors and the unresolved veterinary contract are among the many issues that need attention.

Our Progressive Conservative Party has also chosen a new leader. Congratulations to Daniel Allain, elected by party members in Fredericton on October 17. I want to recognize both Daniel and fellow candidate Don Monahan, along with their teams, for the time and energy they put into their campaigns. It's clear they care deeply about our province and the future of the party.

And just like clockwork, November also brings the seasonal debate about changing our clocks. This year, time went back one hour on Sunday, Nov. 1, again prompting constituents to send emails speaking out about the inconvenience and potential health impacts of changing the time twice a year.

With British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and the Northwest Territories moving away from the traditional fall-back change in favour of remaining on daylight time, perhaps it's time we had a deeper conversation here in New Brunswick, too.

For now, I hope you enjoy a little quieter time before the Christmas rush begins. Soon enough, we'll be shovelling snow, scraping windshields and allowing a few extra minutes to get where we're going. Happy November everyone

Petitcodiac Area Garden Club

It won't be long before tiny white flakes will be in the air, hope you have your outdoor flower beds tucked in for the Winter.

After remembrance day, the holiday decorating starts. For a more natural look try hunting for fir boughs, red dog wood branches, staghorn sumac blossoms, large pinecones and even different types of berries left on the branches and decorative your window boxes or planters. Try getting some white birch branches or small trees, other great natural things to decorate with.

We would like to thank everyone who came out to Celebrate our 7th Year Celebration. It was a great afternoon at the Maritime Motorsports Hall of Fame.

The Garden Club is successfully because of its members.

We want to recognize Joyce Barbour.

Joyce is a force of ideas and commitment. She personally looks after the Burlington Park and it's her vision that makes it so great. Each year she tries to add to the park with the help of some great donations and support. The Garden Club donates funds each year to help with the flowers and decorations. Joyce also plants and maintains the Victory Garden in Veteran's Memorial Park. Petitcodiac is more beautiful and welcoming place because of Joyce.

Remember on November 11th at 11:00am

We pause on November 11th at 11:00 a.m. to Remember those who gave everything, and continue to give everything, for our freedoms that we tend to take for granted today.

Wars and conflicts continue around the globe, and as a recent visitor (student) to the Three Rivers Community (War) Museum commented "Wouldn't it be respectful to remember all the military and nonmilitary around the world on November 11th as they continue to fight and sacrifice for their freedoms, not just Canadian military, but everyone?" Their teacher had a perfect response. We can and should all hold the wish for a world at Peace in our hearts and minds as we pay tribute to all Veterans.

A hope and a wish for peace should have a place in all hearts and minds every day.

If a young person can ask a question like this, the least the rest of us can do is think of this on Remembrance Day.

Letters recently donated to the Museum express the concerns for sons and daughters who left family and friends to fight for their country. The description of the heart ache over the loss of a son , husband or father can be heart breaking.

Mothers, fathers and loved ones describe the kinds of tears shed when there is a loss of a loved one, tears of shock, disbelief, grief, loss and hopefully healing are all included. For those who were fortunate enough to not have a loss, there were tears of relief, joy and thankfulness when their loved one returned, many times with physical and emotional injury.

Remember when you place your poppy on the left side of your coat or jacket the reasons you are doing so.

Wear it with respect for and gratitude to those who have and continue to give all. Place it at the cenotaph or on a Veterans grave site after 11:00 a.m.

Then hold a wish for World Peace in your heart and mind.

There are some people that come into our lives and leave a mark, David is one of these people. It is with great sadness that the family announces the passing of David William Bannister, 73, of Colpitts Settlement on September 19th, 2026. Born in New Waterford, Cape Breton, he was a son of the late Russell & Ethel (Mason) Bannister.

David was known by his friends and family as McGyver if he couldn't fix it with something handy, he would invent a tool with something he had to get the job done, an avid outdoorsman from fishing, hunting, going on adventures in the side by side, camping at Wolf Lake and we can't forget his passion for music. He taught himself to play guitar at nine years old and he has continued to play several other instruments as well. This is all shared with his best friend, Helen.

At 17 David became a member of the Canadian Armed Forces and proudly served his country. After leaving the military he worked at BR Concrete where he was a driver and dispatcher for 17 years. OBITUARIES

Larry Kilpatrick

It is with great sadness that the family of late Larry B. Kilpatrick, at the age of 79, announces his passing on October 16th, 2026, at his home surrounded by his loved ones.

Larry was born in Upham, New Brunswick to the late Theodore Kilpatrick and Helen (Fraser) Kilpatrick. He was 1 of 12 children, grew up on the farm, where he learned to appreciate the value of hard work. Every summer he worked on the family's blue berry fields and still till this day loves to pick and eat these same berries from the same fields.

Larry finished school and soon after joined the Royal Canadian Armed Forces in the artillery division, where he stayed until he got the call to come home after his father had a tractor accident.

Larry had several jobs from working in the woods cutting logs, to finally being hired on at the Saint John Dry Dock, where he started with the pipe fitting trade. This also gave him the opportunity to work out west during the recession in the 80's and then back to the Saint John Refinery up to his retirement. He has been a proud member of the Local 213 Pipefitter's Union; he also helped get many family and friends started in the trade and where he made lifelong friendships as well.

At heart though, Larry was an outdoorsman and animal lover, he loved horses and his dogs, being out on his bike, touring, fishing or hunting. He loved his winters on the snowmobile trails. His favorite place was to be at the camp with his brother's and his close friends that he considered family hunting moose, playing cards and just telling stories of previous hunts.

Along with his loving wife Eloise, he will be deeply missed by his daughter Wendy-his Punk (Andrew) Kilpatrick-Hopper, his daughter in law Kim Kilpatrick, Lynn Kilpatrick, the mother of his children, his stepchildren Tammy (Nick) Prosser and Troy Prosser, his grandchildren whom he loved unconditionally with all his heart, Tanner (Becca), Jade, Karli (Logan), Casey, Megan, Lauren (Cody), Rayne, Jerney, Teagan, Paija, Maleck, his great grandchildren Sloane and Briar. His sisters Eleanor, Dee (Paul), Carol, his brothers Warren (Elaine), Steve (Georgie), Brian (Ruth), Bruce (Karen), and his sister-in-law Barbara. Along with many nieces, nephews and close friends he loved as family.

Besides his parents, Larry was predeceased by his son Carl, brothers Dale as an infant, Lorne, Eddie and John, his sister-in-law's Doreen and Carol.

Arrangements have been entrusted to the care of Salisbury Funeral Home, (506-372-4800). As per Larry's wishes, there will be a celebration of life discussed at a later date.

Condolences to the family can be made at www.keirsteads.ca

"But is it true"

For the past few decades, truth is something that has become less important and even to the point of becoming irrelevant. "Your truth is your truth, and my truth is my truth" has become the truth for our culture today. But is it true?

During a recent conversation with a coworker, the person made the comment "I believe that I am a good person and that if I treat people right and live a good life, I will make it to heaven." It was not the time for us to have a deep theological discussion, but I hope to do so at the proper moment. Why? Because that statement is not true. That statement is directly opposite from the truth, not just for that person but for all of us. It is a lie.

Often a lie is used to make us feel better or to cover up something. But in this case, the truth is far better. That is why the truth is called "The Gospel", because "Gospel" means "Good news".

First, let's look at the bad news. Romans 3:23 says "for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God". It is a very short verse, but clear and direct. Many more verses can be used, but I have limited space, so I will let this truth stand on its own.

Now let's look at the good news. Just before His trial and death on the cross, Jesus said in John 14:6 "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." Why is that good news? Because Jesus knows we are all imperfect and unable to enter heaven. He is providing a solution which does not require our perfection but is based on His perfection.

In the famous passage of John 3:16-18 we read "For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because they have not believed in the name of God's one and only Son." This is the summary of the highest and deepest truth.

As Christians, You and I must pass that truth on, out of Love for those who are stuck in a lie, so that they may have freedom.

Pastor of New Canaan Baptist Church

Poppies

By Gloria Scribner

In the fall of the year when most of the red and orange and yellow have fallen from the maples and November mornings usher in a warning of the cold to come, they make their way to the cenotaph, those honouring soldiers of a war we'll never fully understand.

Boys, barely having ever even left the homeplace, were off on a wave of patriotic adventure with a youthful fervour born of noble upbringing, and on the most part Christian values, leaving behind mothers, fathers and grandparents they might never see again. Wives, children, and siblings proudly, yet sadly embraced the brave men in khaki uniforms marching to the beat of the drums of war. Off to the unknown, beaches, bogs, bombs and battles into unimaginable chaos as a new kind of brotherhood emerged.

From swamps, shells, and swastikas emerged the haunting goosesteps that infiltrated their senses like nothing they'd imagined in their worst nightmares.

Sons, fathers, brothers, all bearing arms of the Canadian soldier, brave, bold, and obedient to a fault, because on a battlefield or beach your next step is decided for you and the mighty machine that was the Canadian Armed Forces helped change the face of the world forever. A brotherhood of "men at arms" with cloud splitting bombers braving the skies, and dedication to duty and the homeland.

Some became heroes, some came home broken in mind and bodies and some never made it home, but none were ever the same. The victors would never again look at the world through "rose -coloured glasses" without seeing the blood of a comrade, and today a single crimson poppy attests to the memory of the "fallen".

The Stubbornpencil

Billy sat at his little play table in front of the big dinning room window. He was using his colored pencils. With the black one he was carefully drawing a picture of a horse.

He was having trouble, as his pencil was stubborn and did not always do what Billy wanted it to do.

Billy slowly drew the horse's body. Then he made the head, and then the legs.

After Billy had finished his picture, he remembered his book of animal pictures.

He brought the book to the table. He looked in the book to see if his horse looked like the one in the book. To his surprize he thought it looked more like the cow in his book. So, Billy printed the word "cow" under his picture.

Just then his sister came into the room. She looked at Billy's drawing. Then she said: "That is a good drawing, Billy. It is a fine picture of a nice, fat pig."

Billy looked surprised. Then he laughed and said: "I'm glad you like the picture, and I'm glad you told me what it was!"

Then Billy scratched out the word "cow" and printed the word "pig."

Great Gift Idea!

Bridge Replacement Delay Announced by Province

On October 15, the Town of Salisbury received formal confirmation from the New Brunswick Department of Transportation and Infrastructure (NBDTI) that the Province has made the decision to delay the tendering for the P380 bridge from 2027 to 2028.

For clarity: this, in no way, is a municipal decision. The Town is deeply disappointed and frustrated with this decision. We have communicated this clearly to the Province. This bridge replacement is amongst the top priorities for residents and is a critical piece of infrastructure.

The rationale for the delay, provided by the province, is: complex utility relocations, unforeseen circumstances, archaeological investigation, and land acquisition delays in light of the utility re-locations. While the Town recognizes the complexity of an infrastructure project of this scale, we are deeply frustrated that the Province has not prioritized this work to be started, as-committed to, next year. None of these factors are atypical for construction projects of this scale for the Province and, in the opinion of the Town, are not valid rationales for this delay.

Since being made aware that this is a possibility, the Town has been in close communication with NBDTI. This includes a letter to the Minister, a meeting with the Minister on-site, a meeting with two of the Department's Assistant Deputy Ministers, and in conversation with the Premier directly this month. The replacement will remain an advocacy priority for the Town, despite these frustrations, to ensure that the project proceeds in 2028.

Additional information, including the September 2026 letter to the Province and the response from NBDTI, is available on the Town's website at https://salisburynb.ca/news-updates/.

The Regular Council Meeting held October 13th also featured several presentations, including the service commission's pitch for a rural transportation system.

Council also accepted a traffic study of the busy stretch of Fredericton Road in the highway area.

The full Council Highlights package is available on the Town website at https://salisburynb.ca/council-highlights-oct-13-2026/.

The next Regular Council Meeting is scheduled for November 9th at 7:00 PM in Council Chambers at the municipal building located at 56 Douglas St.

Public Notice: Consideration of four by-laws

During the Regular Council Meeting of October 13th, Town Council gave First and Second Readings to four by-laws. A public notice, including a summary of the By-laws and the By-law drafts in full, can be read on the Town's website here: https://salisburynb.ca/news-updates/.

The four By-laws are:

By-law No. 16-2 - A By-law to Amend By-law No. 16, Town of Salisbury Municipal Plan

By-law No. 17-3 – A By-law to Amend By-law No. 17, Town of Salisbury Zoning By-law

By-law No. 17-4 – A By-law to Amend By-law No. 17, Town of Salisbury Zoning By-law

By-law No. 21 - A By-Law Respecting the Operation of Retail Businesses in the Municipality of Salisbury (Sunday Shopping)

Feedback on the By-laws as presented must be sent, IN WRITING, to the Town Clerk at clerk@salisburynb.ca by Wednesday, November 4, 2026 to be presented to Council prior to having third and final reading of the By-laws. The By-laws can also be consulted in-person at Town Hall during business hours, where in-person written feedback can also be provided to the Town Clerk. Please note, for the Zoning By-law and Municipal Plan amendments, the opportunity for public comment was through the public hearing, which was held on September 21. This notice is required under the Local Governance Act to read the by-laws by-title only, rather than in-full.

Overnight Winter Parking Regulations

There are over 100 banners, each sponsored by family and friends, designed by Goggin Signs & Graphics, with the Town taking care of installation.

The Legion will host its annual Remembrance Day Ceremony on November 11th.

Town Council Opens Latest Trail Addition in Salisbury

Prior to the Regular Council Meeting of October 13, members of Town Council gathered for a ribbon-cutting for the new trail extension constructed this Summer. With this extension, the Town's core is now connected via a year-round trail network from Government Road to Highland Park. Here's what you need to know!

The portion of trail opened has been named the Riverside Trail. This trail starts near the Wastewater Treatment Facility (parking available) and connects to the shared ATV/Pedestrian bridge, behind Silver Meadows (mini-home park).

This year's work also included a connection from Salisbury Baptist Church (SBC) to a new extension on River Road. This trail is part of the Heritage Trail, the trail constructed in 2024 that connects Highland Park to Parkin Street.

The first round of wayfinding signage is expected to be installed this Fall along a portion of the trail, with more to follow next year. In the meantime, you can consult the latest trail map showing these connections on the Town's website at https://salisburynb.ca/municipal-office/recreation-and-wellness/.

Meantime, are you a business or organization that could use tear-away trail maps? Our printed copies are in! Please email info@salisburynb.ca to request a package of trail maps to be put aside for you.

Enjoy the trails this Fall!
